

CANCER CURED -AND A- LIFE SAVED By the Persistent Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.

An Original Election Bet.

There is apparently no end to the "catch bets" devised by the wary for the benefit of the unwary. The latest in that line to reach Helena, says the Independent, was one that W. E. Phillips had, and one that came near finding takers of great odds.
"I will bet," said Mr. Phillips, "$25 that I can name twenty-five states that McKinley will carry, and then I will bet $250 that we will carry half the remainder."
Thomas Crahan is an ardent silver man and one who doesn't mind taking in a good thing when it comes his way, either. He heard the offer, and had his money up to take the first part of it right away, and was going down for some more when a friend told him what he was running up against, and he withdrew.
Of course the man who makes both wagers has more solicitude for the larger bet. He will name nearly all Bryan states in the first twenty-five, expecting to lose some of them, and it is a "cinch" that out of those remaining McKinley will carry half.

The wager is ingenious, though, and the opinion of people who do not believe it is wrong to gamble is that the man who invented it is entitled to what he can make for his originality.

"A Bowery Girl," the Famous Melodrama.

A goodly share of mirth and merriment, a fair share of pathos and sentiment, a necessary supply of special scenery, and a quantity of bright, catchy songs and specialties constitute the component parts of the very popular play of "A Bowery Girl," the property of Mr. Harry Williams, and the creation of Miss Ada Lee Bascom, the brilliant authoress. No play of late years has attracted the favorable attention of press and public alike that this has. The production certainly deserves it, if one may judge from the universal endorsement it is receiving. It is said to be of a distinct and separate class of melodrama to any that has been produced in years. It certainly must possess considerable more than the usual amount of merit to warrant the success and attention it is meeting with. Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, and in fact all the large cities have given their approval to it, whilst New York city, which would naturally be supposed to be sufficiently familiar with the scenes and incidents of the play and the types of character predominating in it to afford some excuse for lack of enthusiasm, received the play in its entirety with extreme liberality. It will be seen in this city at Vogt opera house Wednesday, Sept. 30th.

A Free Silver Fraud.

The free coinage press has for several months past been publishing an article said to have been taken from the London Financial News of March 10, in which the prediction was made that if the United States adopted free silver Great Britain would lose all her trade with South America, India, China and Japan. The pretended quotation also declared that this trade which Great Britain would lose would all go to the United States.
In its issue of Aug. 13 The Financial News pronounces the alleged extract to be a forgery and declares positively that nothing of the kind was ever printed in its columns. An examination of a file of the paper shows that its statement is true.
Will the silverite newspapers which have been publishing this fake argument for free coinage please explain to their readers that they were misled by some unscrupulous forger?

Property and Industry.

Property is the fruit of labor. Property is desirable, is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is encouragement to industry and enterprise. Let no man who is homeless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus, by example, assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when it is built.—Abraham Lincoln.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Cailloutte, Druggist, Bearersville, Ill. says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began to use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store.
