

THE BEST FAMILY MEDICINE
She Has Ever Known. Words of Praise from a New York Lady for AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled."

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent jaundice, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best all-round family medicine I have ever known. — Mrs. MAY JOHNSON, 268 Rider Avenue, New York City.

SIMPLE SUMS FOR SILVERITES.
Problems Which Can Easily Be Figured Out by Voters.
A farmer raises 1,000 bushels of wheat, for which he now gets $500. With that money he buys various kinds of manufactured goods at low prices. With free coinage at 16 to 1 he might get $1,000 for his wheat, but would certainly have to pay nearly twice as much for the goods he would buy. How much would the farmer gain from a cheap money scheme which doubled the price of the things he gets in exchange for his wheat?
The Sherman silver law of 1890 provided for the purchase by government of 54,000,000 ounces of silver per year. Under the operation of that law the price of silver, after a short speculative rise, fell steadily from $1.16 to 73 cents per ounce. If the purchase and storage of practically the entire American production of silver could not prevent its price from falling, what reasons are there for believing that the mere act of coining silver into dollars and returning them to the owners of the bullion will double the price of all the silver in the world?
A workingman who depends for his livelihood on the sale of his labor to an employer is now paid $2 per day in currency based on the gold standard and kept on a parity with gold by our laws. This $2 will buy a relatively large quantity of necessities. If this country adopts free coinage and goes on to a silver basis, $2 will buy only one-half as much of the goods the workingman needs. Show how labor would be benefited by a policy which would cut the purchasing power of wages in two.
An investor having money to lend was approached by a farmer who wanted a loan for the purpose of buying new implements, additional stock and some fertilizers. "If you will let me have $800 on the security of my land and buildings," said the farmer, "I will vote for a free silver law which will enable me to pay you back next year in dollars worth just half of those you lend me." State how much money that investor loaned the farmer, also the rate of interest paid.

COMMERCE NEEDS A STABLE STANDARD.
Vice Presidential Candidate Hobart Shows Why Gold Is the Best Measure of Values.
In his letter accepting the Republican nomination for vice president Hon. Garrett A. Hobart said:
The money standard of a great nation should be as fixed and permanent as the nation itself. To secure and retain the best should be the desire of every right minded citizen. Resting on stable foundations, continuous and unvarying certainty of value should be its distinguishing characteristic. The experience of all history confirms the truth that every coin, made under any law, howsoever that coin may be stamped, will finally command in the markets of the world the exact value of the materials which compose it. The dollar of our country, whether of gold or silver, should be of the full value of 100 cents, and by so much as any dollar is worth less than this in the market by precisely that sum will some one be defrauded.
The necessity of a certain and fixed money value between nations as well as individuals has grown out of the interchange of commodities, the trade and business relationships which have arisen among the peoples of the world, with the enlargements of human wants and the broadening of human interests. This necessity has made gold the final standard of all enlightened nations.
If we are to continue to hold our place among the great commercial nations, we must cease juggling with this question and make our honesty of purpose clear to the world. No room should be left for misconception as to the meaning of the language used in the bonds of the government not yet matured. It should not be possible for any party or individual to raise a question as to the purpose of the country to pay all its obligations in the best form of money recognized by the commercial world.
Any nation which is worthy of credit or confidence can afford to say explicitly on a question so vital to every interest what it means when such meaning is challenged or doubted. It is deplorable that we should make it known at once and authoritatively that an "honest dollar" means any dollar equivalent to a gold dollar of the present standard of weight and fineness.
Things Might Be Far Worse.
It is a frequent excuse of unthinking men for leaning toward free silver that "things can't be worse than they now are." This is a mistake. Matters can be very much worse, especially for the workingmen.
First.—They would be worse if wages were paid in a 53 cent dollar or in a dollar worth less than 100 cents. However it may be with mine owners and mortgage debtors, men whose capital is their labor are not interested in having the "purchasing power of their dollar" diminished.
Second.—Things would be made worse for the 1,732,382 savings bank depositors in this state alone if their $715,032,899 of savings were made payable in depreciated dollars.
Third.—Things would be worse for the nearly 1,000,000 pensioners if their monthly stipend were to be paid in 53 cent dollars.
Fourth.—Things would be worse for all the millions of beneficiaries of stock, mutual and co-operative insurance companies and all the 1,745,725 shareholders in building and loan associations if payment were to be made to them in any money less good than the best.
Fifth.—Things would be worse for everybody in case of a panic caused by the prospect of a silver basis.—New York World.

The Discovery Saved His Life.
Mr. G. Cailloutte, Druggist, Bearersville, Ill. says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store.
