Never was a more grievous wrong done the farmers of our country than that so unjustly inflicted during the past three years upon the wool growers. Although among our most useful citizens, their interests have been practically destroyed. McKinley's letter of acceptance.

THEY WHO EAT AND TOIL NOT.

Mr. Bryan has much to say against the man who wants to eat the bread someone else has earned. There are a great many such people now in our land, but every one of them is for Bryan and free silver. They are the class of men who daily call at our doors and beg or demand a meal—the men who marched toward Washington and demanded support at government expense; men who never were permanently employed in one locality because they dislike permanent employment; men who never had a dollar to their credit in any bank or place of deposit, and who never will. These are the men who want to eat the bread someone else has earned, and to a man they are for Bryan and free silver.

There are some wealthy men in this country who came by their wealth otherwise than by their own industry, frugality and ingenuity, but they are few; the great majority of wealthy men in the United States have gained their wealth by long lives of the hardest kind of work—such work as Bryan never undertook. They are the backbone of our commercial life, and are more serviceable to society than all the politicians, demagogues and orators put together. There are exceptions, we concede; men whose wealth has been inherited or gained by illegitimate speculation, but the large class are as patriotic as any class of professional men, farmers or laborers. The wealthy men are opposed to the election of Bryan from reasons of business and patriotism as well; they are opposed to the ruin of our national credit, as well as our commercial prosperity, through which they have been, and are successful.

The Dalles needs good roads more than anything else just now. The roads leading to the city, and within a few miles of town, are in a deplorable condition, and it is a wonder loaded teams can pass over them at all. Between the city and Floyd's the road is particularly bad, and something should be done at once to improve it. Fifty loads of straw would give a temporary relief, and probably be all that is necessary from now until the fall rains. But those who have observed the encroachments of the river sand are of the opinion that before The Dalles can claim much of the business from the counties east of us, there must be a road from Floyd's place to the city above the bluff. We believe this matter of the roads near the city should receive the careful attention of our Commercial Club and our county court. The whole burden should not rest upon either alone.

Connecticut capitalists were severely "sat down upon" by Mr. Bryan during his recent tour through that state, but the voters there demonstrated at the recent city election that they were not convinced that a declaration of a legislative body can make value. The Yankees within this nation will be found, as they always have been found, on the right side of the great national questions, and in November the Republican majorities given at the recent city elections will be greatly increased.

The Spokesman-Review, like many of the Populist authorities of Washington, is becoming very unreliable. When it announced that the Great Northern was discharging its men because they would not declare themselves for McKinley, it published an untruth. The statement of the men concerned brands this as another campaign lie. We advise the Review to confine its lying to dead men and unwritten history.

"Coin" Harvey showed his lack of sense and brains at Clinton, Iowa, night before last in denouncing ex-Generals Howard, Alger, Sickles and Corporal Tanner as "old wrecks of the rebellion who have lost their honor and patriotism, and are tools of political shylocks." The soldiers of the country will be quickly persuaded to vote the Republican ticket by that kind of talk, if by nothing else.

The ex-army officers composing General Alger's party have indeed invaded the enemy's country—Kansas—and if large audiences indicated anything, we would be forced to the conclusion that they captured that state. But we believe that large audiences are not the surest indication of public opinion, and no doubt Kansas will remain in the Populist rank.

The Dalles is to be congratulated in having secured one of the three Oregon appointments of F. X. Schoonmaker of New Jersey. He will speak at The Dalles Tuesday, Oct. 20th.

Watson's voice is said to have given out, and he is compelled to quit his campaign for Bryan. We wonder if it is voice sickness as much as heart sickness that is troubling him.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J.
