

OVERWORK -INDUCED- Nervous Prostration

Complete Recovery by the Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HIXSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

something New at the Clerk's Office.

The records at the clerk's office were never in as good shape as they are at present. There is now not an instrument, paper or filing of any kind that cannot be found at a moment's notice. The last class of business papers to be collated, indexed and filed is the reports of executors and administrators, covering a period from 1864 to the present time. Heretofore one going to the clerk's office might spend three hours or more of his own and the clerk's time in delving into the unsystematized mass of papers, and possibly then the search would be fruitless. Minor children who were orphans have grown up around us, whose estates were left in the hands of administrators, and these have neglected their duties, or appropriated the benefits of the estate to their own uses. The years have gone by, public interest in the heirs and their estates have ceased, and the children have been practically unprotected. Widows unfamiliar with business have been held back and wronged out of their just portion. But all this is now ended. The clerk has just added a new book to the courthouse records. It is entitled "Probate Register," and it records every estate in the hands of administrators, and the date, nature and present location of every paper filed in reference thereto. It shows many estates settled up, and others woefully in arrears. Anyone interested in ascertaining the status of any estate of a deceased person can turn to this book and find out all that has been done in the matter.

Since Judge Mays has announced that he proposes to enforce the law calling for semi-annual reports of administrators, a long-neglected branch of county business will henceforth be conducted in a more business-like way, to the great benefit of helpless orphans and widows.

The Drinking Fountain Shut Off.

The Epworth League is indignant because the city authorities have shut off the water that supplies the public fountain on Washington street, next to H. C. Nielsen's store. They were widely praised when they established this fountain three years ago and since then it has furnished thousands of drinks to thirsty individuals, horses and dogs. THE CHRONICLE believes that the water is shut off only temporarily, until it can be fixed, for the city council would not break its faith, as expressed Nov. 3d, 1893, when the following appeared on the recorder's minutes: "The petition of the Epworth League for the city to keep the fountain on corner of Washington and Second in order, and in case this was done the League would donate it to the municipality, was accepted, and the fountain was placed under control of committees on streets and public property."

Was a McKinley Crowd.

A slight misrepresentation was made on the part of the Times-Mountaineer last evening in making reference to "a rather laughable incident" near Dufur, in which it is made to appear that the delegates to the Christian Endeavor convention were electioneering for Wm. J. Bryan, en route to Dufur. We are informed by one of the C. E. delegates, however, that a more enthusiastic McKinley crowd could not be found than that were in attendance upon this convention, and while journeying towards Dufur there was not a single cheer for Mr. Bryan. On the other hand the merry Endeavorers were wont to hail all whom they met with a hearty yell for McKinley which was responded to in nearly every instance with another McKinley yell by the teamsters passing by.

None But Ayer's at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed on exhibit at the world's fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the world's fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again.
