WHY HE WORE THE BUTTON.

A wheat farmer from Klickitat valley, who was in the city yesterday, and who wore a McKinley button, was asked how it happened that he was for McKinley. Yankee-like he answered by asking why he should not wear a McKinley button. This was too hard a question for his interrogator, and the latter was about to let go when the former further answered: "There are many reasons why I wear this button. In the first place I am an American and believe in America and the policy of encouraging American industries. In the next place I am opposed to state rights and all that secession represented. Again, I carried a musket in 1861 and touched sleeves with Major McKinley. He and I were privates; the Major carried a musket for two years. We were contending for the same cause, and we were right. I have no reason to think that my old comrade is any less in the right now than then. I can give you further good reasons if you care for them."

We waived the other reasons and grasped the man's hand, proud to have met a man who "touched sleeves with McKinley" in 1861 and 1862.

The meeting to be held tomorrow night by the Commercial Club to arrange for a celebration of the opening of the Cascade locks, will be an important one to our city and community. Arrangements should be, and no doubt will be, made for the entertainment of all down-the-river people who have done so much in assisting Eastern Oregon in getting this great work completed, and who will come to join us in this celebration. The Dalles is more benefited than any other community, and we should show our appreciation of what has been done for us.

Spokane actually had a gold bug rally Monday night; not a Tillman rally, but a genuine McKinley rally. According to the report of the Spokesman-Review, the leading Bryan paper of the Northwest, there were 1466 men in line, by actual count, and there was, in the language of that paper, "plenty of enthusiasm." This took place in the city where, at the beginning of the campaign, a wearer of a McKinley button was hardly able to find accommodations at a hotel, and was universally boycotted. There evidently has been some conversions up there.

Another fake has been shown up. A short time ago the Popocratic press declared that a brother of President Garfield was for Bryan and free silver, and published, with great boasting, what he was said to have written. The aforesaid brother has been heard from in these words:

If my martyred brother were alive his voice would be heard from ocean to ocean in favor of the Republican party and its principles, and I should prove myself a traitor to his memory and to the people of my country who placed him in the presidential chair, a position the highest in the gift of the people, were I to oppose them, when I believe the principles he advocated are as true today as they were when he was here to proclaim them. From this time until after election a banner bearing the names of McKinley, Hobart, Pingree and Smith shall be seen floating from my quiet little home in the township of Jamestown.

Mr. Garfield is 95 years old and lives in Ottawa county, Mich., upon a farm.

We understand that some of the barbers took exception to our suggestion that if one desired to see cartoon newspapers and could not buy them, they could borrow them from some barber shop. In this connection we made no reference to the Polce Gazette. The presence of cartoon papers in every barber shop is everywhere conceded, and no one takes exception to the fact. We are sure they would not be there if the public did not wish to see them, and it is all right. But when a man takes a newspaper he wants the news.

The court of appeals has reversed the decision of Judge Gilbert in the case of the United States vs. Southern Pacific Railroad. This case involves many of the same questions presented by the case of the United States vs. Dalles Military Road Company, and this decision of the court of appeals is in line with the contention made by the road company. If the court of appeals' decision is affirmed by the supreme court, it is quite likely to be decisive of the military road cases also.

Our Popocratic friends are now denouncing the Republican committees for hiring speakers. Why, of course, Harrison, Howard, Sickles, Tanner, Alger, Butterworth, Reed, McLeary, Schurtz, Cochran, Carlisle, Lew Wallace, and hundreds of others, representing the brains and patriotism of both the Democratic and Republican parties, are hired by Hanna. This proposition is equally absurd, but not more so than all the other senseless things said by the Popocrats concerning the Republican campaign.
