WAYSIDE CLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Hon. T. T. Geer tonight.

K. O. T. M. at K. of P. hall Friday night.

The Diamond Mills paid 73 to 75 cents for wheat yesterday.

Meeting of the Commercial Club tomorrow evening to arrange for a celebration of the opening of the locks.

Messrs. Rice and Hannan are running the Gaunt Wagonette and are busy from morning till night hauling sight-seers to and from the fair.

Pies, cakes and doughnuts for sale by the ladies of the M. E. church in the building formerly occupied by H. Herbering. Lunch served.

Miss Josephine Keller was injured yesterday at the school ground by a fall, cutting a flesh wound above one eye. Dr. Sutherland attended her, who took two stitches.

There are some excellent phonographs and a kinetoscope in town, which are liberally patronized, as they fully deserve to be. They are the most scientific and difficult inventions of modern times.

The finest trainload of lambs ever shipped from Oregon, comprising 4000 head, will leave in the morning for Kansas City. They were raised by Geo. A. Young and son and go to A. J. Knollin & Co. St. Louis.

There is a considerable number of cases of diphtheria around Portland, some of them of a malignant type. Fifteen cases have been reported by the principals of the various schools since the schools opened, and two deaths have occurred in the schools.

The uniformed companies of the McKinley club are requested to assemble at headquarters at 7:30 tonight, to escort Hon. T. T. Geer to the Baldwin opera house. No effort will be made for a general parade, though anyone may fall in line who may choose to do so.

Hon. T. T. Geer, who will address the citizens tonight, is well known throughout the state as a plain, unassuming countryman of remarkable native good sense. He will deliver a plain, practical address this evening, modestly urging the importance of electing Wm. McKinley to the presidency.

An election of militia officers was held last evening at the armory. Capt. Christman's time expired on the 19th, and he is succeeded by Geo. C. Blakeley; F. H. VanNorden was elected second lieutenant vice J. R. McAvoy; the term of the first lieutenant, Mr. A. L. Reese, has not expired. Mr. Hayward Riddell presided.

Saturday, October 31st, will be flag day throughout all the United States. On that day a request has been made that the national colors be displayed from every housetop. The idea originated with Mr. Mark Hanna, chairman of the Republican national committee, and meets with general approval. In response to the request, Chairman Sol Hirsch, of the Republican state central committee, yesterday issued a circular calling upon all patriotic citizens to adorn their residences and places of business with our country's flag, and to keep them there until after the election.

One more week and this canvas will be over in The Observer office. Now mark the prophecy: The election of McKinley and Hobart is an accomplished and assured fact. They will receive 270 electoral votes. Bryan will receive 110 and there are six states, having sixty-seven electoral votes, which are doubtful, but the probabilities at present point to the fact that these sixty-seven will go in to the Republican column.—Moro Observer.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. F. H. Rowe went to Lyle this morning.

Mr. Emile Schanno went to Hood River today.

Mr. Perault of Grass Valley was a visitor to the city today.

Contorno; Waltz—"The Postilion" Meyrelles; Overture—"Twilight Hour" Boettger; German Medley—"Musical Smiles" Casry; Descriptive—"Nigger to the Barnyard" Synopsis—Early in the morning—A rooster crows—When Dinah blows that Horn—Feeding the stock in the barn, with imitations of cows, mules, horses, chickens and buzzing bees—The jolly coons—Cows coming home—Coons dance—Grand finale. Descriptive—"Mill in the Forest" Meyrelles; March—"Kodak" Hall.

A Free Treat for All.

At the K. of P. hall, on Friday evening, Oct. 23d, the K. O. T. M.'s of this city will give a public entertainment, consisting of songs, recitations, instrumental solos, etc., and an address on "Fraternalism" by J. L. Mitchell, Dep. Sup. Com. of Portland. At the conclusion of the entertainment, an excellent orchestra will be provided and all will be invited to participate in a social dance. The K. O. T. M. number among its members some of our most leading men. It is assured a large audience will be present.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Rose Wellington Shot Herself Last Evening and May Die.

Rose Wellington, mistress of a house of ill fame on the alley nearly back of the Midway saloon, shot herself in one of the rooms of her resort about 9 o'clock last evening, with probably fatal result. She had left her own room, stating to a young man who was there that she would return in a short time. Instead, she went to another room, vacant at the time, and shot herself in the breast with a 32-caliber Smith & Wesson revolver. The wound was an ugly one, the shot entering her breast about three inches below the nipple. It missed the apex of the heart by a narrow margin, but penetrated the left lung and perhaps her stomach.

The young man and a sister of the wounded woman ran to her upon hearing the shot, both arriving at about the same time. She was found to be conscious, and has so remained since until about 2 o'clock, when she began sinking into a stupor. This may be the effect of quinine she was given, but the physician believes her chances for recovery are slight. The cause of the act is said to be jealousy or the result of a quarrel. Her tendencies may be suicidal, however, for the same spirit is shown in her sister, who has now made two attempts at taking her life.

Her mother was telegraphed for, and arrived on the noon train from a vicinity near Portland, from whence the daughters formerly came to The Dalles. The girl is about 22 years old and was quite comely until ruined by dissipation.

Tillman Was Picked Up.

Tillman, in his Pendleton address, challenged any Republican to meet him in joint debate, stating he had made attempts ever since the beginning of the campaign to secure joint debates with Republicans, but had failed. At the close of the afternoon speaking, Lot Livermore, after consultation with other members of the Republican county central committee and John C. Leasure of Portland, made the following proposition: "John C. Leasure of Portland will divide time with you at the courthouse this evening, if agreeable to you, as follows: You to open the meeting, speak for one hour or less, if you desire, Mr. Leasure to follow, and be limited to one hour and a half, you to have an hour to close."

The reply to the challenge was that the evening meeting was intended for Francis Clarno, whose time he could not consistently dispose of. Several communications passed without avail. Tillman asked Leasure to debate next day at La Grande. Leasure refused.

Young Hendershott's Return.

Detective Cody last night returned from The Dalles, bringing with him Orville Hendershott, the young would-be self-murderer, wanted here on two charges of forgery and one for obtaining goods under false pretenses, says the Portland Telegram. Hendershott is but 19 years old, thrown upon the world without a guiding hand, and is more a subject for commiseration, in certain respects, than severe condemnation. On his trip down he was a trifle communicative with the officer having him in charge. The youth confessed to forging the orders on Eggert & Young, the shoemakers, and in Watson's check restaurant, because he was shoeless and hungry, without means or employment to obtain these necessities. He says that after he awoke to a realization of what he had done, he wanted to kill himself, and he is sorry that he was not successful.

"Hendershott is not a natural criminal," remarked a detective, who is as close a student of human nature as any man of his calling, "and here is a chance for true Christian spirit to come to the front and do something for a boy, who might not possibly, but may probably yet become a good man if some one would take him in hand. Did my income warrant it, I'd just risk it upon turning a good man out of this boy who's had no chance in life, so far."

The defendant, when called in the municipal court yesterday, had his examination passed till Saturday.
