ANOTHER RECORD SMASHED.

Pinear Showed Her Heels to Red S, Who Had a World's Record.

The second day of the fair was attended by a smaller crowd than the quality of the races called for. The day could not have been better nor the track faster, as was attested by the smashing of another track record by Pinear in the first heat of the three-eighths mile heat race. The knowing ones seemed to have guessed the winner, as most of the money was on Pinear in spite of the fact that Red S is one of the finest horses that ever appeared on our track, and now holds the world's record for five-eighths of a mile. But Boynton on Pinear was equal to the occasion and landed his mount first under the wire in both heats. Pat Tucker was scratched in this race.

The second race on the program was a five-eighths mile handicap for all ages, with a purse of $125 waiting for the winner. Picnic, Baby Ruth, Colonel T and General Coxe were the fleet-footed ones sent for the hundred and a quarter. Starter Gilmore, assisted by "Toe-weights" again demonstrated to the satisfaction of the people that there was no need of a starting gate. There was no delay in calling out the horses and sending them to the post, which was a hundred and ten yards down the home stretch. Before any one knew what had happened the clatter of hoofs could be heard coming down the course. "They're off" went up from the grand stand, and all eyes were strained to catch a glimpse of the steeds as they whirled past the grand stand. Around the turn they flew, down the back stretch and up the hill. This is a place on the fair track where blood will tell; this is where the boys who are following in the footsteps of Snapper Garrison or "Dare Devil" Fitzgibbons, who was wont to ride while going around the turn, with one leg over the rail, can assist the horses and almost carry them up the grade. But they were all blooded horses and neck and neck like so many chariot horses, they thundered into the stretch. Something must be done, so the boys began to work and urge the animals on. They all responded, but Colonel T seemed to have something up his sleeve, and when the time came, let it go and won by a length from General Coxe, who was a neck better than Baby Ruth. Picnic brought up the rear. Time, 44 1/2. The mutuels paid $8.50 on Colonel T and $4.50 and $2.50 on Colonel T and General Coxe for place.

After the sports had an opportunity to pick out the good ones in the three-eighths mile dash for ponies, that race was called with Princess, Little Pete, Cricket and Rollo at catch weights. Little Pete sold favorite, but some of talent had not forgotten the pony race of last year, and believing that history repeats itself, placed their all on Cricket. The little ones went to the post like so many old stagers, and after a few attempts the flag dropped and away they went, well bunched, but Princess soon began to lose ground, and by the time the curve was reached she was three lengths to the bad and all thought she was outclassed, but the little cream was a good hill animal and came in a close second to Cricket, Little Pete third and Rollo a poor fourth. Mutuels paid $8.00.

Today's attendance at the fair is the largest there has been at this meeting. The sunshine that peeped its head through the clouds at noon seemed to have brought the people out, and crowds were standing around the pool-box, picking winners, and under the grand stand was a surging mass of men all anxious to experiment and play with fortune. The rondo table was the center of attraction, and as the eight ivories were sent from the player's hand and rolled down the table, one could hear the crowd yell, "A beautiful rondo; dollar six bits; who wants to tap it?"

Today's programme was one of the best the association has ever hung up. There were three good races—two running and one trotting. The first race, four and one-half furlongs for all ages, with a purse of $100, brought out the following sprinters: Red S., 119; Gen. Coxe, 119; Pat Tucker, 119; Mamie D., 96; Tim Tongue, 119.

The horses were called out promptly. A S Mac Allister, John Cradlebaugh, J F Moore acted as judges, while J P McInerney and J S Schenck held the tickers. Red S had the pole Gen. Coxe second, Pat Tucker third, Tim Tongue on the outside, Mamie D being scratched just before the race. Red S acted very stubbornly at the post, and it was some time before Gilmore could get the horses off, but when he did send them away all of them moved together, Tim Tongue taking the pole and passing the grand stand first, followed by Red S, Pat Tucker and Gen Coxe in the order named. On the back stretch there was a fight for the pole. The pace being too swift for Red S, he dropped back and Gen Coxe and Pat Tucker took the lead, closely followed by Tim Tongue. When they struck the home stretch Pat Tucker was in the lead and held that position to within a few feet of the wire, when he was nipped by Gen Coxe, who finished first. Time 58. Mutuels $4.50.

The following horses were entered in the 4 1/2-furlong saddle race: Bill Brune, Nelly G, Lady Fisher, Sam Slick and Sherman. After a few trials they were sent off well bunched. Going past the grand stand Lady Fisher was in the lead and followed closely by Sherman and Bill Brune on the back stretch. Sherman and Lady Fisher were running neck and neck, with Bill Brune bringing up the rear; but Tom Allen, who was on Bill Brune, knew the steel and when the hill was reached Tom began to use the steels and bat and never quit until he landed his mount under the wire a winner, a nose the better of Sherman, who was half a length ahead of Lady Fisher. Time, 1.06. The mutuels paid $5.50.

The gentlemen's roadster race was called just as we were going to press.

EXHIBITS AT THE FAIR.

They Are Unusually Fine and Attract General Interest.

The exhibits at the pavilion this year, though not so numerous as in past years, are unsurpassed in quality. The art department is rich in paintings, embroideries and needle work. The vegetable products are of the usual excellence. There are some lines of novelties never before shown which repay careful observation. Among these are the bamboo furniture of S. Takimis, the arrow head collection of Dr. Sutherland and the Japanese work of Togai.

Most striking of all is the taxidermist collection of W. A. Burt Campbell of animals all killed by that intrepid sportsman, and afterward mounted by him. Heads of the graceful elk and deer are attached to the wall upon a background of bear skins, and here and there shine the gleaming teeth of the wild animals of the forest, among them the lynx, the wildcat, coyotes, foxes, otters, badgers, etc. Many of them are mounted as in life and are very natural. Two rifles that have dealt destruction to so many of the animals which are there shown, repose upon a beautiful pair of elk horns.

On the left of the entrance door is a superb collection of kodak pictures. Underneath is some brilliant worsted embroideries on black velvet. Next is the Japanese exhibit by Togai. The Columbia Candy Factory and Kellar's both have beautiful confectionery exhibits, with decorations. An inlaid cook table reveals the handiwork of some skilled artisan in carpentry. Prof. Kaufman's optical exhibit of spectacles and the material of which the lenses are made, is a pretty one.

The left center is given to agricultural exhibits. Prominent among them are those of A. Sandoz, Jack Elton, Messrs. Bolton, Cooper and Creighton. Some large potatoes of fine color are shown by Wm. Greenley. Across the aisle are ranged wheat, barley, manufactured products of the farm and orchard, and preserved fruits. The latter look very edible indeed, and one can hardly resist the temptation to disobey the injunction so profusely distributed in this department, upon red and blue cards, "Hands Off."

The right of the hall is given over to the art department. Here the ladies excel. Miss Violet Kent has a collection of pencil sketches that betoken the spirit of a great artist, for it must be remembered this girl of but 15 years has never taken lessons from an instructor. The oil paintings by Miss Holcomb, Geo. Pace, Mrs. Heppner, Mrs. Filloon and others are exquisite and comprise the whole field of still and animal life. Mrs. Herrin's photographic collection of babies is not the least interesting collection of them all. The fancy work, consisting of lace, embroidery, stitching, worsted, quilting, etc., are by ladies of long since recognized ability, as well as younger ones of equal natural talent. Mrs. Briggs has a millinery exhibit which demands more than a passing glance, for her trimmed hats are beautiful, some of them veritable creations.

The stage is given over to the floral exhibit, and here the ladies again excel. Aided by our beneficent climate, there are produced some of the handsomest plants and flowers ever seen in any climate. They are not superior to the exhibits of other years, but their beauties never cloy.
