All McKinley and Hobart voters are requested to fall in the line of march tonight at McKinley headquarters at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. D. P. Ketchum and Miss Alice Hall were married at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the home of the bride in Tacoma.

All McKinley and Hobart voters are earnestly requested to fall in the line of march tonight at McKinley headquarters at 7:30 p. m.

The committee on streets and public property are about to advertise for bids to supply the city with coal oil lamps. The committee is now in correspondence with an electric light company with the purpose in view of putting in a plant.

Mr. W. R. Winans of Hood River, who is in the city, discovered part of an oak tree which is older than its neighbor, the mountain about it. The specimen was imprisoned by the solid granite formation upon it, was petrified and afterward turned as black as mahogany.

Congressman W. R. Ellis has a very magnetic style of oratory that is winning hundreds of votes throughout the state for the cause of McKinley. He speaks tonight at the Vogt opera house and many in The Dalles will have the opportunity of hearing our congressman for the first time.

Mr. M. A. Hurley of San Francisco arrived on the local train and will speak this evening at the Baldwin opera house. He is accompanied on his travels by a young man named Harry D. Baker, formerly of the San Francisco Chronicle, and who, also, at times takes the stump in the cause of Popocracy.

General Passenger Agent Hurlburt gave orders to Conductor Seeley the other day to allow Senator Tillman fifteen minutes to address the people of Baker City from the car platform, when ordinarily only a five minutes' stop is made. A Democratic paper of Baker City recognizes the courtesy in the following language: "Such fair treatment of the people is to be appreciated, and the people of Baker City will remember the courtesy extended."

Saturday is flag day. As Chairman

Hanna says, let all Republicans assemble in the cities, villages and hamlets nearest their homes and show their patriotism, devotion to country and the flag, and their intention to support the party which stands for protection, sound money and good government, by having patriotic speeches and such other exercises as will be appropriate for the occasion and tend to make the day a general holiday as far as possible. It is to be hoped that Republicans everywhere will unite to dedicate the day to this patriotic service.

Salvation Army Entertainment.

Last night was a memorable one in Salvation Army circles. No less than three distinguished persons in that organization were present to take part in the exercises at the Vogt opera house. The parade in the evening was a pretty one. A number of young men wore navy costumes, and a number of little girls looked attractive in pink gowns and caps, with hair unconfined. At the opera house the evening was spent in speechmaking and music.

Commissioner Higgins, who spoke upon the social work of the Salvation Army, hails from London. Major Parker is commander of the Northwest Division, and Dr. Nice, who is editor of the German War Cry, published in New York City, is a fine violinist as well, and played some very acceptable musical selections. There was a large audience present, each of whom contributed ten cents for their evening's enjoyment.

Wheat Output of Grande Ronde Valley.

It is estimated that about three-fourths of the wheat output of the Grande Ronde and adjacent districts has been disposed of. There is no basis for an accurate estimate of the total crop. The Pacific Elevator Company has put out 250,000 sacks, which would represent 500,000 bushels. Other buyers have handled as much more and a large amount has been purchased by local milling companies. It is a conservative estimate to place the output at about 2,000,000 bushels. Probably the price realized will average a little under 50 cents a bushel. It is fair to assume that a great deal of the unsold portion of the crop will be held over for speculative prices.

Wheat dropped to 56 1/2 cents a bushel at Salem yesterday, while as high as 10 1/2 cents a pound was offered for tops.

McKINLEY'S LAMB.

McKinley had a husky lamb, known as "Protective Tariff." In '92 they changed the name, which nearly took the hair off. Professor Wilson laid it out: "The lamb it rustled near, and, by the way, is growing stout in this election year. And when November's vote rolls up, they'll wink the other eye. McKinley's lamb will get there, boys. Oh how is that for high?"

THE GOLD STANDARD.

The streets of that city are paved with pure gold. No room for the silverite there; But the cloven-foot Populist, down in the hold, Will get that whole crowd for his share. —W. ROES WISANE. Baldwin Precinct, Oct. 27, 1896. N. B.—After Nov. 3rd, for the first time in history, brine (Bryan) will be going up Salt river. W. R. W.

Another "Life Long Republican."

Mr. J. B. Montgomery, "a Republican of 38 years' standing," as he was sentimentally introduced by Chairman Story last evening, spoke in a weak voice to an average political gathering in the Baldwin opera house. Mr. Montgomery is a chart talker and pretends to show by them that when there was an over-production of wheat it raised in price, and when there was an under-production it fell, thus setting at naught the world's laws of supply and demand which have existed from the dawn of civilization. Though Mr. Montgomery's argument was of this shallow nature throughout, he can be commended for one thing. He is the first Bryan speaker thus far appearing in The Dalles who has not called down upon the heads of the bankers and business men the denunciation of all those who are not of that class. But as an instance of the adaptability of men's minds, when they are following a fetch, in which vain pursuit they repudiate the firmly-established principles of a lifetime, we call attention to one of his statements. He said he was as good a Republican as he ever was, and was in favor of a high protective tariff, and yet made sport of it as an economic policy and now says it has no influence upon the prosperity of the country. Mr. Montgomery, like some other Republican itinerants who have appeared here of late, can see nothing since the Chicago convention but Bryan, "that young god with Jeffersonian countenance, who has risen up from the common people" to wreck the business interests of the country, maintain the present disastrous lack of confidence, and keep money out of circulation by frightening it away from profitable investment. Mr. Montgomery is a pretty old bird to be caught with this juvenile divinity of rank free trade notions and boyish ideas of finance.

The Temperance Mass Meeting.

The temperance mass meeting at the courthouse last evening was well attended and was generally enjoyed by those present. Nearly all the ministers of the city were present and gave short interesting addresses. Rev. L. Grey was the first of these speakers. He talked very entertainingly and earnestly upon the importance of the temperance movement and the headway it is making, aided by the large moral element of the general population. Rev. Wood spoke highly of the W. C. T. U. and the great amount of good they have accomplished. He believed the time was coming when temperance would win. Rev. Curtis, also, talked in a most interesting way upon the temperance movement. Prof. Landers read a clipping from John G. Willig, the great temperance apostle, and spoke from the Bible text "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful; but his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doth he meditate day and night." Rev. H. K. Hines of Portland was a visitor who could not remain silent, and therefore added the weight of his words to the cause for which the audience was assembled. He spoke hopefully, saying the temperance cause was gaining, and by way of comparison, cited The Dalles in 1896 to what it was in the early days. Mr. R. B. Hood, also, made a short address, relating his past unhappy experience with strong drink. His remarks were very effective.

Appropriate songs were led by Prof. Landers, who is gifted with one of the best male voices of which our city can boast.

There will be speaking and a grand rally of Republicans in the neighborhood at Ramsey Monday night, November 2d.

There will be Republican speaking at the Fairfield school house Friday evening and on Saturday at the Upper Mill creek school house.

Messrs. B. S. Huntington and Fred Wilson will make political speeches a Wamic Friday evening, the 30th, and at Victor Saturday evening, the 31st.

Tosti has hitherto been known only as the writer of some of the most famous songs known to musical people. He has now written his first purely instrumental composition, a minuet for the piano, which The Ladies Home Journal has secured and will publish in an early issue.
