MEANS TOWARD GOOD LOOKS.

Trifles Which Aid in Keeping Women's Faces Fair to View.

A well-known writer says: "A woman's gospel is to be lovely in mind and body."

We all know that loveliness of mind is reflected in the expression of the face and eyes, but as it cannot affect the texture or color of the skin, I will give you a few recipes for developing and enhancing the beauty of one, while you alone can cultivate the loveliness of the other.

Fineness of the skin, daintiness of the body and rosinness of the complexion depend almost entirely upon bathing, as a means both of obtaining and retaining them. A cold bath is a good tonic and nerve bracer, but it neither cleanses nor beautifies the skin to any extent. Nor should delicate girls or women think of indulging in it unless so advised by their physician. The temperature of a beautifying bath should be from 70 to 75 degrees, and it should be of daily occurrence. Ordinary water, that is, water neither particularly hard nor soft, is not sufficiently cleansing to the skin, and a French firm has lately introduced dainty bags containing almond-meal, oatmeal and orris-root to be placed in the water a few moments before the bath is ready. This renders the water very milky, and has a wonderfully softening and whitening effect. Baths in which milk, bran or starch has been placed are found to refine or whiten the coarsest, reddest skin, if persistently used. Softness and firmness of skin may be obtained by the use of a simple unguent made famous by the Greek and Roman women, who centuries ago set us the example of perfect personal cleanliness as the road to beauty. The following can be made with very little trouble, and it is delightfully exhilarating after the bath:

Best white vinegar, one pint; rosemary, rue, camphor and lavender (of each), two drachms. Let the herbs soak in the vinegar for several hours, then strain. Rub thoroughly all over the body and a delicious comfortable feeling and a dainty perfume will remain with one all day long.

There are many little skin troubles which are both persistent and troublesome, and vex one's very soul by appearing on the face. A greasy skin may arise from various causes, but generally from lack of cleanliness or debility of the skin. Only an astringent has any effect upon it, and a very simple, entirely harmless one may be made from one pint of rosewater, half a pint of white wine vinegar and a few drops of essence of rose. This lotion may be applied with a piece of soft linen or a very fine sponge.

Blackheads are very difficult to get rid of, and are caused by the clogging of the pores of the skin by dust or foreign matter. Alcohol, 90 per cent., applied by means of a piece of chamois skin, will give tone to the skin and remove unsuspected dirt and dust, at the same time stimulating the small glands and removing, by constant use, the blackheads.

Tan and freckles may be removed by the use of the following lotion: Two drachms of powdered sal ammoniac, four drachms of eau de cologne, one quart of distilled water. Lemon juice and borax are both very efficacious, and are home remedies.

Many skins will stand constant washing, but need to be cleaned after a dusty ride or walk by other means than soap and water. Lait Virginal is a delicious preparation, and can be made as follows: One pint of rose, orange-flower or elder flower water, half an ounce of simple tincture of benzoin and ten drops of tincture of myrrh.

After being exposed to harsh or chilling winds, it is a good plan, upon retiring, to rub a quantity of fresh cream on the face, removing after about five or ten minutes, to be applied again, followed by a generous puffing of rice powder. Remove in the morning by tepid water and Lait Virginal.

The use of cosmetics, face powders and rouges cannot be too strongly condemned. They stamp the person using them as silly and vulgar in the eyes of all refined and cultured people, and do not in even the slightest degree enhance or beautify. A good complexion needs no artificial toning or heightening, nature being the cleverest of all artists. A poor skin is kept clogged and its condition impoverished by the application of cosmetics—often, indeed, it is poisoned by the harmful ingredients contained in them. Arsenic and white lead are the two drugs most used in their preparation, and two of the rankest poisons which can be introduced into the system. Medical treatment for the beautifying, preserving and improving the complexion should only be undertaken under the direction of one's family physician, and once entered upon, should be continued patiently and faithfully until the purpose is accomplished. Nothing short of a complete course of treatment will prove efficacious. With good medical advice, plenty of sleep, fresh air, careful diet and scrupulous cleanliness, all women may hope to have complexions fair and sweet to look upon.—Ladies' Home Journal.

It is the same old story and yet constantly recurring that Simmons Liver Regulator is the best family medicine. "We have used it in our family for eight years and find it the best medicine we have used. "We think there is no such medicine as Simmons Liver Regulator."—Mrs. M. E. S. Adington, Franklin, N. C. Each member of our family uses it as occasion requires."—W. B. Smith, Mt. Vernon, Ky.

LEAVE THEIR NIGHTGOWNS.

Guests at Hotels Sometimes Forget an Interesting Garment.

There was a whirr of bells, and the annunciator behind the desk told the night clerk something was wanted in room 319. A little black boy darted up from the bench before the night clerk could call "Front." The boy glanced at the indicator and plunged upstairs. In about four minutes he came down grinning and fronted the night clerk, says the Chicago Post.

"Well?"

"Gent in 319 wants a nightgown."

"Well, go get him one."

The darkey's grin vanished and his eyes were big with surprise. Then the night clerk told him to go to the housekeeper's room and get a nightgown for the man.

"Do you keep an assortment of night-dresses for your guests?" asked a boarder who had known the house ten years.

"We don't aim to do it, but we do," said the night clerk. "You see, about every day some man leaves his nightgown in his room. Women rarely do. If we know where the man has gone we let him know he left it, and await his orders. If he is a regular patron we wash the garment and keep it till he comes back. But many times we know nothing of him beyond what the register tells us. And so every week we have about half a dozen gowns left on our hands."

"Convention time always brings a bundle of them. We must have collected a hundred while the democratic convention was in town."

"What do we do with them finally, when no owner turns up? Oh, go ask the housekeeper."

Watery Blisters Turning to Complete Sore. Family Doctor Could not Heal Without Loss of Hair.

COMPLETELY DISCOURAGED

Economical and Speedy Cure by CUTICURA REMEDIES

Now no Trace of Disease. Hair Thick, Child Fat, Good, and Hearty.

When four days old my babe broke out over one side of his head and body with watery blisters, which turned to a complete scab. We called the family doctor, and he said that "he could heal them up," but "the baby would never have any more hair on his head," and we were completely discouraged. We were told to try CUTICURA REMEDIES and did so. We used two boxes of CUTICURA, two cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and he now is all right. The hair is so fat, good, and hearty, and I do not know how to praise CUTICURA REMEDIES enough for the good they did my child.
