ELECTION NOTES

Both Parties Still Confident of Success.

THE SITUATION IN CALIFORNIA

Reed at Oakland Today—Will Pass Through Portland on his Way Home.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The close of the campaign in California finds the Democrats confident of carrying the state, and Republicans also claiming California. Frank McLaughlin, chairman of the Republican state central committee, claims 10,000 majority for McKinley, while Chairman Alford, for Democrats, claims 30,000 majority for Bryan. Many Republicans concede the state to Bryan by a small majority.

It is believed San Francisco will reverse her majority for the Democrats of two years ago of 11,000, and give McKinley a small majority. The Republicans claim 5,000 majority in this city, while the Democrats make a similar claim for Bryan. Conservative Democrats and silverites claim the state for Bryan by smaller majorities than the Democratic state committee officers.

W. P. Lawlor, of the silver state committee, says Bryan will undoubtedly carry California, but says his majority is problematical. Garin McNab predicts that Bryan will have at least 10,000 majority in the state outside of San Francisco. The Democrats claim all the congressmen except in the Fifth district, where it is admitted that the Republicans have a chance. The Republicans claim all the congressmen except Maguire in the Fourth. The Democratic state central committee is positive Deveries will defeat Grove Johnson in the Fourth district.

REED AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Will Leave for Home via Portland on Wednesday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Hon. Thomas B. Reed, of Maine, in company with Claus Spreckels, John D. Spreckels, A. C. Spreckels, Miss Kitty Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich, drove through Golden Gate Park and to the Cliff house, where they had breakfast, yesterday, within sight of the Pacific ocean. The party was met by Mayor Sutro, who showed them all there was to be seen in the vicinity. During the drive they inspected the Presido military reservation and fortifications on this side of the bay and the pavilion and different parts of the park.

Today Mr. Reed will remain at the Palace hotel until noon, when he will go to Oakland and speak there. He will return to the hotel in the evening. Tomorrow he will spend the day driving about the city.

Wednesday the party will start for San Jose and the Lick observatory, and spend several days quietly at the Hotel Del Monte. Returning here Saturday, the homeward journey will be begun by way of Portland, Seattle and the Canadian Pacific, the plan being to reach Portland, Me., on the 17th or 18th of this month.

QUIET DAY AT CANTON.

No Organized Delegations Called Upon the Nominee.

CANTON, Nov. 2.—No organized delegations have reached Canton thus far today, but callers as individuals have been going to and coming from the McKinley house all day. Shaking hands has been the major occupation during the day.

Colonel A. L. Conger and Judge U. L. Marvin of Ohio, came in with an informal party of about a score of ladies from Akron. An informal party from Massillon also called. Mrs. McKinley continues to improve, and has nearly recovered from the illness which confined her to her room nearly all of last week. Mr. McKinley looks the picture of health. Canton clubs have arranged for a parade tonight.

Canton troops of horsemen, who escorted all the visiting delegations to the McKinley house, were photographed in a group with Major McKinley this morning, and a number of such groups are being arranged.

THE FLOODS IN FRANCE.

Rivers Rhone and Seine Rising With Destructive Effect.

PARIS, Nov. 2.—Telegrams received from the departments bear news of further floods and of alarming rise in the rivers. Enormous damage to property has been done, but no fatality has yet been reported. The river Seine is still rising, and is at the flood stage. The authorities have despatched to Comps and to Vallabregues, the artillery wagons from Nimes, to assist in the work of relief. The river Rhone has burst its banks at Lauson, which is now isolated. The only communication through considerable districts, is by boats. Troops have left Avignon to assist in repairing the broken banks of the Rhone.

Later advices state that the Seine has fallen slightly tonight, but the further rise is feared. The news received from Lyons this evening is most disquieting. Many houses are flooded at Neuville-sur-Saone, and the river is covered with furniture. The barracks at St. Lambert is surrounded by soldiers and prisoners. Half this district is inundated, and numerous factories in Lyons and vicinity are closed.

RIISING WHEAT MARKETS.

Grain in New York Advanced Steadily During the Day.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—From start to finish today the wheat market gave a surprising exhibition of strength, considering the fact that tomorrow is a holiday. Opening 1/4c higher at 80 1/4c for December, it kept on rising until it reached 81 1/2c, where it closed. Speculation was most active in the last hour, and the total sales for the day only reached 3,150,000 bushels. It was a case of bull sentiment, reinforced by strong foreign news and European buying, especially on the Pacific coast, where further export orders were reported. Liverpool stocks showed a falling off for the month, world's shipments were estimated at nearly 1,000,000 bushels less than last week, and there was a reduction of 640,000 bushels on passage. The American visible supply increased only half as much as expected.

A Pioneer in Oregon.

OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 2.—Peter Weiss died at his home on the west side of the Willamette, south of the Tualitan, last night, in his 78th year, of a stroke of paralysis. He was a pioneer in this county, having taken the claim in 1839, where he spent the remainder of his life. He was an unmarried man. The elevation known as Pete's mountain, near the junction of the Willamette and Tualitan rivers, is on the Weiss claim and was named from the old man's given name. His only known relative is Snow in South Dakota.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 2.—A special from Huron says five inches of snow fell there last night, making a foot now on the ground. The storm in the north and west is reported as severe. Farmers are wholly unprepared for winter. Telegraph poles and wires are down between here and Pierre. No communication with that city has been had by wire since Thursday evening.

CRAPS BEFORE DUTY.

The Darky Thought That the New Yorker Was Very Inconsiderate.

A Wall street man tells this story: "I was making the trip from New Orleans to Memphis in April by a Mississippi river steamboat. On the first day out from New Orleans I felt the need of the barber's services and learning that the Memphis Belle was tonsorially equipped I sought out that office. I found a single barber in charge, a rather pompous, tall person of color with flowing Dundreary whiskers. He was engaged in doing nothing at all with that grace of execution peculiar to the southern darky. I seated myself in his chair and was soon wrapped in thought upon some business I had begun in New Orleans. The barber began his work leisurely, the while carrying on a one-sided flow of talk to which I replied in monosyllables.

"The day was warm and I was almost dozing away under the soft splashes of his brush when another customer entered. He was a nervous, fidgety sort of man and as there were no newspapers in the room he amused himself in looking at a few prints hung on the walls, the attraction of which soon palled upon him. Then he walked to the door and looked down the deck where a group of roustabouts were engaged in the game of craps. Figaro had by this time completed the lathering of one side of my face and roused me by turning my head around. I intimated that life was short, and I didn't care about passing too much of it in being shaved. He was evidently disgusted with my taciturnity and replied with great dignity, but with no haste either of speech or action; 'Cert'nly, sah, cert'nly.'

"The stranger's curiosity had been aroused by the gambling going on outside, which was as usual accompanied by the 'come sevens!' and shrieks of 'craps' which attend that game. "What game is that, barber?" he demanded of Dundreary. He of the whiskers made one or two artistic plays of his brush over my chin and answered: "Lah, Gawd, mister, ain't yer ever seen that game? That's craps. Everybody plays it 'round this country."

"The stranger admitted he had seen it played before in the wharves and streets, but said he had not discovered any mental light from his observations. A running exchange of queries and explanations followed between barber and stranger, during which a not over keen razor had begun its course down my right cheek. Both parties to the colloquy were getting interested and I was getting bored.

"The nervous stranger appeared somewhat obtuse, or, perhaps, the vernacular of the barber was inadequate to convey the full meaning of the technical details of craps. At any rate, he pressed for further information. My face had by that time been cleared of beard as to my chin and part of my cheek. Fifteen minutes had been consumed in the process and my patience was becoming threadbare.

"The barber had exhausted his powers of description and, turning to the stranger, he said: "Well, sah, ef you really wants to know how to shoot craps I kin show you," and placing the razor on the shelf he opened a drawer and withdrew a pair of greasy-looking dice. Then he stepped over to a table and began to give a practical exposition of the mysteries of the game. This was too much.

"Here!" I cried, raising myself in the chair. "Finish up this job before you get to crap shooting." "Certainly, sah," he replied to me and turning to the stranger he added: "One minute an' I'll show you." "It only took a few minutes to complete his work on me, and as I put on my coat he and the stranger proceeded with the game. As I left the room I could hear him muttering about the 'hurry some people is in an' it is still foh days 'fore we get to Memphis.'" — N. Y. Sun.
