

IT'S ALL ONE WAY

McKinley Elected by Overwhelming Majorities.

VERY TIGHT RACE IN NEBRASKA

Maryland, Kentucky, New Jersey and Delaware Captured from the Democracy.

The returns began coming in a scattering way about 6 o'clock, but at 9 they began to thicken and by a curious irony of fate, coming at the rate of about 16 to 1 in favor of the gold standard. Of course, only estimates based on a given number of precincts could be given.

At 10 o'clock the New York Journal, Hearst's paper (dem.) gave Ohio to McKinley by 100,000 and Virginia by 15,000.

At the same hour Kentucky was given to the gold men by 15,000. Maryland figures were tangled, but showed it safe for McKinley.

At 11 o'clock the bulletins showed the result conclusively:

Virginia—175 precincts out of 1500 give Bryan 19,068, McKinley 16,061.

Missouri—40 precincts outside of St. Louis give McKinley 4793; Bryan 7044.

Iowa—94 precincts give McKinley 86,342; Bryan 10,460.

Indiana—80 precincts give McKinley 8377; Bryan 6984.

Montana—50 precincts give McKinley 1827; Bryan 8940.

Connecticut—Bryan carries only 3 out of 111 towns.

Kentucky—130 precincts, Louisville, McKinley 23,000; Bryan 14,000. In 24 precincts outside Louisville, McKinley gets 3752; Bryan 5448; and in the 7th congressional district, 47 out of 485 precincts give McKinley 1441; Bryan 1343.

At this hour the New York Tribune gives McKinley 293 electoral votes sure. Michigan—McKinley carries Detroit by 40,000, and the state by 25,000.

Maryland—McKinley carries Baltimore by 15,000.

Nebraska—115 precincts give McKinley 3242; Bryan 1889.

At 12:30 the majorities kept crawling steadily up, and the result was beyond any question, the amount of the majorities alone remaining to be counted.

North Dakota became safe, showing 3362 for McKinley against 2199 for Bryan.

Minnesota settled all question with 230 precincts out of 2100, giving McKinley 29,277 against Bryan's 18,891.

Kentucky is claimed by Republicans by 25,000, and with Louisville's vote has 33,000 to back its claim.

Illinois, outside of Cook county, as far as heard from, gave McKinley 86,651; Bryan 57,381. Cook county, as far as counted, had given McKinley 45,000, and would add 20,000 more, giving the state by probably 125,000.

Indiana, with 120 precincts counted, gave McKinley 14,069; Bryan 10,860.

Minnesota gave McKinley 28,828;

Bryan 17,039. The state is sure of a large majority.

Ohio—216 precincts, Cincinnati, give McKinley 44,410; Bryan 30,000.

Black (rep.) is elected governor of New York by 80,000.

Nebraska, with 154 precincts counted, gave McKinley 17,956; Bryan 17,759.

Iowa—158 precincts give McKinley 27,428; Bryan 18,142.

Montana goes 3 to 1 for Bryan.

California is safe; 275 precincts outside of San Francisco giving McKinley 12,438; Bryan 10,782.

West Virginia returns show that McKinley will carry the state by 12,000.

New York and Pennsylvania give the Republicans immense majorities.

The last bulletin, received at 2:30 a. m., says that Oregon will give McKinley 5000 majority.

Wasco County.

The Dalles district, counting Bigelow, Trevitt and East and West Dalles gave McKinley 142; West Hood River added 102; East Hood River gave 4; Cascade Locks gave 10; Columbia 12.

Dufur and Nansene together gave Bryan 16; Eight-mile added 12, and Baldwin 7 more. This leaves McKinley 235, with Antelope, Wamic, Tygh and Wapinitia, Rutledge, Deschutes and Boyd to hear from, and will leave a total majority of from 300 to 350.

THE FLOODS IN FRANCE.

Rivers Rhone and Seine Rising With Disastrous Effect.

PARIS, Nov. 2.—Telegrams received from the departments bear news of further floods and of alarming rise in the rivers. Enormous damage to property has been done, but no fatality has yet been reported. The river Seine is still rising, and is at the flood stage. The authorities have despatched to Comps and to Vallabregues, the artillery wagons from Nimes, to assist in the work of relief. The river Rhone has burst its banks at Lauson, which is now isolated. The only communication through considerable districts is by boats. Troops have left Avignon to assist in repairing the broken banks of the Rhone.

Later advices state that the Seine has fallen slightly tonight, but the further rise is feared. The news received from Lyons this evening is most disquieting. Many houses are flooded at Neuville-sur-Saone, and the river is covered with furniture. The barracks at St. Lambert is surrounded by soldiers and prisoners. Half this district is inundated, and numerous factories in Lyons and vicinity are closed.

RISING WHEAT MARKETS.

Grain in New York Advanced Steadily During the Day.

New York, Nov. 2.—From start to finish today the wheat market gave a surprising exhibition of strength, considering the fact that tomorrow is a holiday. Opening $\frac{1}{8}$ higher at 80 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ for December, it kept on rising until it reached 81 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, where it closed. Speculation was most active in the last hour, and the total sales for the day only reached 3,150,000 bushels. It was a case of bull sentiment, reinforced by strong foreign news and European buying, especially on the Pacific coast, where further export orders were reported. Silverpool stocks showed a falling off for the month, world's shipments were estimated at nearly 1,000,000 bushels less than last week, and there was a reduction of 340,000 bushels on passage. The American visible supply increased only half as much as expected.

a brother, Francois, whose home is in Wisconsin, and who is now on his way here. The deceased left an estate of considerable value.

Snow in South Dakota.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 2.—A special from Huron says five inches of snow fell there last night, making a foot now on the ground. The storm in the north and west is reported as severe. Farmers are wholly unprepared for winter. Telegraph poles and wires are down between here and Pierre. No communication with that city has been had by wire since Thursday evening.

CRAPS BEFORE DUTY.

The Darky Thought That the New Yorker Was Very Inconsiderate.

A Wall street man tells this story: "I was making the trip from New Orleans to Memphis in April by a Mississippi river steamer. On the first day out from New Orleans I felt the need of the barber's services and learning that the Memphis Belle was tonsorially equipped I sought out that office. I found a single barber in charge, a rather pompous, tall person of color with flowing Dunderary whiskers. He was engaged in doing nothing at all with that grace of execution peculiar to the southern darky. I seated myself in his chair and was soon wrapped in thought upon some business I had begun in New Orleans. The barber began his work leisurely, the while carrying on a one-sided flow of talk to which I replied in monosyllables.

"The day was warm and I was almost dozing away under the soft splashes of his brush when another customer entered. He was a nervous, fidgety sort of man and as there were no newspapers in the room he amused himself in looking at a few prints hung on the walls, the attraction of which soon palled upon him. Then he walked to the door and looked down the deck where a group of roustabouts were engaged in the game of craps. Figaro had by this time completed the lathering of one side of my face and roused me by turning my head around. I intimated that life was short, and I didn't care about passing too much of it in being shaved. He was evidently disgusted with my taciturnity and replied with great dignity, but with no haste either of speech or action: 'Cert'nly, sah, cert'nly.'

"The stranger's curiosity had been aroused by the gumping going on outside, which was as usual accompanied by the 'come sevens!' and shrieks of 'craps' which attend that game. "What game is that, barber?" he demanded of Dunderary. He of the whiskers made one or two artistic plays of his brush over my chin and answered: "Lah, Gawd, mister, ain't yer ever seen that game? That's craps. Everybody plays it 'round this country."

"The stranger admitted he had seen it played before in the wharves and streets, but said he had not discovered any mental light from his observations. A running exchange of queries and explanations followed between barber and stranger, during which a not over keen razor had begun its course down my right cheek. Both parties to the colloquy were getting interested and I was getting bored.

"The nervous stranger appeared somewhat obtuse, or, perhaps, the vernacular of the barber was inadequate to convey the full meaning of the technical details of craps. At any rate, he pressed for further information. My face had by that time been cleared of beard as to my chin and part of my cheek. Fifteen minutes had been consumed in the process and my patience was becoming threadbare.

"The barber had exhausted his powers of description and, turning to the stranger, he said:

"Well, sah, ef you really wants to know how to shoot craps I kin show you," and placing the razor on the shelf he opened a drawer and withdrew a pair of greasy-looking dice. Then he stepped over to a table and began to give a practical exposition of the mysteries of the game. This was too much. "Here! I cried, raising myself in the chair. 'Finish up this job before you get to crap shooting.'

"Certainly, sah," he replied to me and turning to the stranger he added: "One minute an' I'll show you."

"It only took a few minutes to complete his work on me, and as I put on my coat he and the stranger proceeded with the game. As I left the room I could hear him muttering about the 'hurry some people is in an' it is still John days 'fore we get to Memphis.'"—N. Y. Sun.
