ALL AMERICANS.

Whether it is the salt breeze of the ocean or some other subtle power that influences and directs "those who go down to the sea in ships" is unknown, but that patriotism and humanity are always attributes of your true sailor is certain.

The most palpable moral to be drawn from this story is that President Cleveland should go to sea.

AND WHAT THEN?

Mr. Cleveland is good for four months more in the White House. In other words, before stepping down and out he will have time to administer merited rebuke to all the little jacks in office who supported Bryan and bad money and bad government in the recent campaign.

The above is from yesterday's Telegram, Portland's evening paper. It may be presumed that it reflects the editor's personal opinions, but we hope it does not.

That Cleveland is the kind of boy the Telegram claims he is may or may not be true. If it is, and he cares to show his dignity and his opinion of the rights of American citizens by removing officers for voting according to their beliefs, he may rest assured that his name will go down through the coming centuries indissolubly connected with that of Benedict Arnold.

The silver question is settled, and it is proper that the incoming president should appoint under him those who agree with his views, but for Cleveland to attempt to punish any office holder for exercising the right of suffrage as he saw fit, should at the first attempt cause his own impeachment. It is a sacred right that no man, president or not, can take away from any citizen.

The case of Mrs. Castle indicates that even in England there is a difference in the laws, or at least in their interpretation, as between a rich criminal and a poor one. Heretofore it has been one of our proudest distinctions that we, of all the nations of the earth, had these hair-splitting niceties that separated theft into degrees, ranging from just common thieving up through the grades of pilfering, swiping, accumulating and financing, reduced to a scientific basis.

Cure of Crippled Children.

The National Surgical Institute, No. 319 Bush street, San Francisco, successfully treats all cases of orthopedic surgery.

One or more surgeons of this Institute will be at the Umatilla House, The Dalles, Wednesday, November 17th, one day to examine cases. The success of the Institute in treating all cases of curvature of the spine, diseases of the hip and knee joints, club feet, crooked limbs and bodily deformities as well as piles, fistula, nasal catarrh and all chronic diseases has made for the Institute a national reputation. Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits."
