SHE BOUGHT HER LOVE

Paid $150,000 to Her Lover to Drop a Rival.

THE DAUGHTER WINS THE SUIT

Arbuckle's Death Still Unexplained—Uncle Sam Getting Guns for His Soldiers.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 20.—Miss Leonora Dean has succeeded in breaking a sale of property made by her mother, a widow, to her lover, under circumstances of peculiar interest. Mrs. Lola Marshall Dean, the mother of the young woman, was a woman of great beauty and decided literary ability. When her husband died, he left her a fortune of $150,000. For several winters she passed her time at a Florida resort, where she made the acquaintance of S. M. Pinkham, a well-known hotel-keeper and local politician, with whom she became desperately enamored. Pinkham appears to have been likewise smitten, but when he pressed his suit he was met with the objection that the lady had made a promise to her dead husband that she would never marry again. She decided, however, that their love could be of a platonic kind. This was not quite warm enough for Pinkham, who thereupon began paying his respects to another lady in a neighboring town. When Mrs. Dean heard of this she was terribly agitated, and sending for her lover promised that if he would not visit her rival for a space of 18 months she would deed him her property.

The lover was more practical than sentimental, and quickly accepted the proposition, and the lady made out formal deeds and reciting a nominal sum as the consideration, put him in possession of her estate. Shortly afterward she died, and her minor daughter brought suit for the recovery of the property. There was considerable latitude in the discussion of the case, it being claimed that an undelivered love like Pinkham's was not sufficient collateral for so much property. The jury took this view of the case, and returned a verdict declaring the deeds to be void, and restoring the property to the young girl, who has fought so hard for it.

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

Frank Arbuckle's Death is Still Unaccounted For.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The general office detectives today made three additional arrests in connection with the death of Frank P. Arbuckle, of Denver. The prisoners are George Stevens, a saloon-keeper; Joseph Davidson, a stenographer; and Frederick Menger, a bartender. The investigations of the detectives have disclosed the fact that on Wednesday evening Arbuckle was in Luchow's saloon, on Fourteenth street and Irving, in company with the three men named. On Davidson one of Arbuckle's cards was found. Davidson said they had arranged a meeting for today.

The three prisoners admitted having seen Arbuckle at Luchow's saloon Wednesday night. They denied, however, having gone uptown with him. Menger said Stevens was trying to get Arbuckle to go Harlem with him "to go against a brace gambling game." They did not know whether Stevens succeeded. The three prisoners were arraigned in Harlem court today.

Butler, the negro, arrested last night, was released today, there being no evidence to connect him with the alleged murder or robbery.

Detectives are said to be looking for a man known as "Sheeny Sam," who bears an unsavory reputation and whose haunts are in East Fourteenth street. The detectives have learned that this person was in the crowd accompanying Arbuckle while he was in Luchow's saloon. It is alleged that after they left the saloon and stood on the sidewalk outside "Sheeny Sam" and Menger got into an altercation. It was about this time, it is alleged, that the "brace game" uptown was suggested. "Sheeny Sam" is believed to have quarreled with Menger, thinking he was to be cheated out of his share of Arbuckle's money. Menger is said to have left the party after the row.

Richard Arbuckle, of Erie, Pa., a brother of the dead man, reached the city today. Professor Withans, a chemist, is making a microscopical analysis of the stomach of the dead man.

Menger has made the following statement:

I, in company with Joseph Davidson and George Stevens, both of whom came from Bentley, Kan., met Arbuckle at Luchow's saloon, on Fourteenth street. They wanted to steer him up against a "brace game" and get his money. I had nothing to do with this, and left the three men in Miner's theater. That's all I know about the case, anyhow.

Guns for Uncle Sam's Soldiers.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 20.—It is reported that partial orders have been placed by the United States government with the Winchester Arms Company of this city for 100,000 guns of the Lee pattern.

The information is given by a commercial agent who made a business call upon the officers of the company. He was told by the officers the order would be closed today, and that the government was contracting for the rifles on account of a possible war with Spain. It is known the works will soon start up to their full capacity on a big government order.

Nearly a year ago the Winchester received an order for 100,000 of them, which is now nearly, if not quite, filled. At the time it was received the company had no tools for making this particular firearm, and had to manufacture them. This preparation delayed the work for several months. It is believed it will now require only a few weeks to get out the 100,000 rifles.

CUBAN ARMY IS SAFE.

Troops Still Intrenched in Their Mountain Fastnesses.

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 20.—Reports by steamer from Havana are disappointing to the Spaniards in the results expected of General Weyler's operations in Pinar del Rio. Maceo is entrenched in the Cierreas del las Organas in the center of his mountain fastnesses, awaiting the attack. The rumors of his having crossed the trocha are without foundation.

General Weyler, according to Havana reports, is expected back in the city within a few days. The excuse given for his return is that the roads are not in condition for active operations, on account of the recent heavy rains rendering the movement of troops impracticable. The impression already prevails in military circles in Havana that General Weyler's campaign has been a complete failure and his carefully prepared plans to drive Maceo out of Pinar del Rio have received a severe set-back.

With the exception of a few unimportant skirmishes with the advance guards of the insurgent leader and the capture of the rebel captain, Valdez, with eight followers, nothing of great consequence has been accomplished, although the Spaniards have lost several prominent generals and many men killed or wounded.

An apparently well-authenticated report which it was said emanated from a high military official in Havana, says the city of Puerto Principe has been besieged by insurgents.

What Venezuela Wants.

CARACAS, Nov. 20.—It is stated on competent authority that Venezuela will be glad to accept the 50-year clause, provided the question ends there. Some think that the proximity of the British is liable to cause further trouble, making an excuse for further invasion, and they suggest a tribunal be established to pass upon all doubtful cases until all have been disposed of.

EASY-GOING KING HUMBERT.

His One Conspicuous Weakness a Fondness for Military Display.

King Humbert has the reputation of being the most constitutional of all the constitutional monarchs of Europe. So well has he fulfilled this rule that, according to the Baltimore Sun, he may be said to have, save in one point only, completely extinguished his personality. That point is his determination, at all costs, to keep up the army and navy to their present state of efficiency and numbers. The various ministries that have succeeded each other in Italy with such rapidity have really governed the state. This one condition they had to accept—the maintenance of the army as desired by the king. His usual costume on gala days and when he shows himself to his subjects is the military costume. He is the first soldier in Italy. That he possesses great courage has been made fully evident by his devotion when, the cholera having broken out with virulence in Naples, he visited the sick and dying day after day in their low and unhealthy dwellings. What he may be as a legislator, a thinker, or a wit, the public is not informed. No legislative measures of paramount benefit or importance are attributed to his initiative; no striking thought that might enter the heart of the nation has been pronounced by him or has reached the people; even the faculty of making a witty phrase, which, though little in itself, being uttered by one in high place acquires a value and a currency which carries it far and renders popular its originator, is not a quality which he possesses. A generous, good-natured, easy-going gentleman, who desires to live and let live—in fact, a person of rather neutral characteristics—is the picture that people make to themselves of King Humbert. He is to the fore when a review is held. He looks well when, arrayed in grand military costume and riding a noble steed and surrounded by the exceptionally brilliant staff of the Italian army, he reviews the troops in their march past him. Again, when seated in one of the gala carriages, accompanied by the tall, steel-clad royal guards, he goes to open a new session of parliament he is a figure well worth noticing. So deeply has the military spirit entered into the nation that the king is never publicly seen on state occasions in any other than a military costume.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Great Change in Five Days. To-day Entirely Cured, With Nice Head of Hair. Lively and Hearty.

I had a baby that had Eczema in its worst form. I had one of the best physicians in the city attending her, but she continued to get worse all the time under his treatment. He finally admitted that he was at his wit's end. I then got CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in a few days noticed great change in her condition. She continued to improve after that, and to-day is entirely cured, has nice head of hair, and is lively and hearty. I can fully recommend them as being the best medicine for the cure of this disease. I spent considerable money for drugs and doctor's bills, which was useless in this case, for I think if your remedies don't cure, nothing will. I am telling every one that I see suffering, about CUTICURA REMEDIES, and can cheerfully recommend them to those in need of them.
