WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Take your watches, clocks and jewelry repairing to Clark, the East End jeweler. Mr. Ketchum made a large shipment of sheep to Tacoma this morning on the Regulator.

The concert which was to have been given at the Congregational church Friday evening, has for several reasons been postponed, and will be given sometime in December.

The preliminary examination of Heater charged with committing an assault on Brooks was held before Justice Filloon this afternoon, but had not been decided at the hour of going to press.

Exhibitors at the Second Eastern Oregon District Agricultural fair for 1896, who have not received their premiums, will oblige the secretary by calling at his office with T. A. Hudson and getting their checks.

The time card on the O. R. & N. will be changed, taking effect tomorrow. Under the new schedule No. 1 arrives at 4:45 a. m., leaves at 4:50 a. m. No. 2 arrives at 10:15 p. m., leaves at 10:20 p. m. No. 7 leaves for Portland at 1 p. m.

The stockyards are doing an immense business, and one that is increasing steadily. This morning there were eighty-five hogs there that will be shipped tonight, and tomorrow there will be ninety-five hogs, 1200 sheep and a large lot of cattle received. Friday 300 head of cattle from Prineville are expected.

Mrs. S. A. Davenport was this morning adjudged insane, and will be taken to the asylum in the morning. She is flighty on the subject of Christian Science and it is hoped a few weeks, or at most a month's treatment, may restore her mental balance. The examination was made by Judge Mays and Dr. Hollister.

The house of Mrs. Houlton, on Quinault lake, was carried away by the big freshet, and in attempting to get out, Mrs. Houlton ran into the woods, and while taking shelter under a tree was struck by another and received serious injuries, besides a broken arm. In this condition she lay from Friday until Sunday of last week before she was found.

The work of tearing down the boxes in the postoffice, preparing to removing them to the Vogt building, began this morning. Only the stand at the corner containing the delivery window will be removed at present, this being taken down for the purpose of fitting another wall of boxes to it on the right, similar to those on the left. The boxes are here and it will only take a short time to complete the work.

The Prineville Review says: "Howard & Stearns, Jessee Bros., Perry Read and others left last Wednesday for The Dalles with 300 head of beef cattle. Unless they meet with a buyer at The Dalles, they will ship to Omaha on their own responsibility. Columbus Johnson recently shipped a lot to the same place, and received a fair price and that encouraged the second shipment.

The sacred concert given at the Methodist church last night was one of the most successful of its kind ever given in the city, and the church was well filled in spite of the inclement weather. The singing was especially good, every number on the program deserving special mention. The collection, which was liberal, will be used to procure singing books for the Sunday school.

Special comment is due to little Addie Favart, whose song and dance "Di, di, di," called forth a storm of applause. This young lady, who is only ten years of age, is said to be one of the prettiest dancers in Melbourne, and there is no doubt that the assertion is very near the truth. Her reputation will be understood in a measure when it is mentioned that she has thirty pupils under her instructions.—The Age, August 31, 1895. With the Spanish Students here Thursday night.

A Favorite Remedy.

Simmons' Liver Regulator is one of the most meritorious and popular preparations offered to the public. It is entirely free from injurious mineral substances, and as a vegetable preparation made of southern roots and herbs it is a sovereign remedy for all liver and bowel complaints. The merits of this remedy commend it to the public as a standard to be kept constantly in the family. It has the most unqualified endorsement of thousands of our most prominent citizens in all parts of the country, who have used it and testify to its excellent medical and curative properties. Purchasers should be careful to see that they get the Genuine manufactured only by J. H. Zeilin & Co., Philadelphia.

Spanish Students Concert Company.

The entertainment by the famous Spanish Students and concert company at the Vogt opera house Friday evening promises to be most successful, a large number of seats being already sold. The list of instruments embraces all those which are now the rage, including bandurria, guitar, cello, violin, as a matter of course, and also the most fascinating and rarely heard salterio, by Senor Marin, the renowned soloist.

For finished and artistic playing, an ensemble such as is rarely seen in the largest and best orchestras, the Spanish Students have no superiors, and are to be commended as a truly remarkable organization.

Clark, the East End jeweler, makes a specialty of fine watch repairing. Call and see him.

THIS SHIP FLIES.

An Aerial Craft Invented by a California Man.

The dispatches from San Francisco Sunday contain among other things the following description of the flying of a new high-flyer, invented by a Californian. It seems plausible enough, but it seems to us, as we have read something of that kind somewhere before, that turned out to be not the whole and unadulterated truth. On this account we will not vouch for the story below:

"The mystery of the airship which has been puzzling some worthy citizens of Sacramento for several days past has made a change of base, and now there are plenty of reputable people in and about San Francisco ready to make oath that they have seen the strange thing in the heavens. More than that, there is a San Francisco attorney, George D. Collins, who asserts that the airship exists; that the inventor is his client; that the strange craft sailed without mishap from Oroville to San Francisco; that it did pass over Sacramento, and that within a few days this invention, which is the solution of one of the world's oldest and toughest problems, will be availed in daylight, so that all San Francisco may see it, and that it will circle and rise and sink over the central part of the city. Collins said tonight:

"It is perfectly true that there is at last a successful airship in existence, and that California will have the honor of bringing it before the world. The inventor is a wealthy man, who has been studying the subject of flying-machines for fifteen years, and who came here seven years ago from the state of Maine in order to be able to perfect his ideas away from the eyes of other inventors. During the last five years he has spent at least $100,000 on his work. He has not yet secured his patent, but its application is now in Washington. I cannot say much about the machine he has perfected, as he is my client.

"I saw the machine one night last week at the inventor's invitation. It is made of metal, is about 150 feet long, and is built to carry fifteen persons. It is built on the aeroplane system, and has two canvas wings eighteen feet wide, and a rudder, shaped like a bird's tail. The inventor climbed into the machine, and after he had been moving some of the mechanism for a moment, I saw the thing begin to ascend from the earth very gently. The wing flapped slowly as it rose, and then a little faster as it began to move against the wind. The machine was under perfect control all the time.

"My client's airship started from Oroville, in Butte county, and flew 65 miles in a straight line, directly over Sacramento. After running up and down once or twice over the capitol, my friend came right on, a distance of another 70 miles, and landed at a shop on this side of the bay, where the machine now lies, guarded by three men. The inventor found during this trial trip that his ship had a wave-like motion that made him seasick. It is this defect that he is now remedying.

"In another six days it is his intention to give the people a chance to see his machine. He will fly right over the city and cross Market street a dozen times. The inventor has forsaken the ideas of Maxim and Langley entirely in building the machine, and has constructed it on an absolutely new theory.

I. O. R. M.

The entertainment and ball under the auspices of Wasco Tribe No. 16, I. O. R. M., at the Vogt opera house on Thanksgiving night, will be a grand affair in every detail. Prof. Birgfeld's full orchestra will discourse the music, all the old members of the orchestra having united for this occasion. The fame of this orchestra is second to none in this state, and under the skillful direction of that prince of musicians, Prof. Birgfeld, is enough in itself to bring out a large audience. After Prof. Read, the man of mystery, has entertained the audience for an hour and a half, exposing all the tricks of the famous mediums, etc., the grand ball will commence. Tickets can be had at all the business houses in the city, and from members of the order. Doors open at 7:30, curtain rises at 8, sharp. Tickets admitting gentleman and ladies, 75 cents.

The Spanish Students.

There is a genuine treat in store for lovers of good music. The manager of the Vogt opera house has secured the celebrated Spanish Students, an excellent company of vocalists and instrumentalists. They need but little mention, being well and favorably known to the music-loving public.

The advance sale opened today at noon. The sale will be enormous, and those who contemplate going will do well to call early and secure a seat before they are all gone. A. J. Francis of this company was out yesterday a short time with the guarantee list and the sale was simply remarkable. Tickets 75 cents and $1. On sale at the Snipes-Kinersly drug store.

Miss Wainwright, Too.

There being a rumor going the rounds that the Spanish Students may fail to appear as advertised, Mr. A. J. Francis, the genial and energetic advance agent, desires us to say that the company will positively appear as advertised on the 27th. Lovers of vocal music will be pleased to learn that Manager Webber has booked Miss Wainwright, the charming soprano, who will make her first appearance with the company at his place.
