PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. H. M. Pitman is in from Dufer.
T. W. Glavey of Kingsley is in the city.
Dr. Shackelford went to Portland yesterday.
Mrs. G. C. Blakeley returned from Portland last night.
Hon. F. B. Mays is in the city, coming up on account of his father's sickness.
Mrs. W. Magee, who has been seriously ill for the past week, is somewhat improved today.
Mr. I. J. Norman is quite sick, his daughter, Miss Mollie, and son, George, both of whom have typhoid fever, are improving.

THE CHURCHES.

Lutheran services will be held at the courthouse tomorrow as follows: Morning service at 11; Sunday school at 12:15; German service at 3 p. m.; evening service at 7:30.
The Congregational church, corner Court and Fifth streets—Sunday services as follows: At 11 a. m. worship and a sermon by the pastor, W. C. Curtis. There will be a contribution in the morning for the Armenian relief fund. Sunday school immediately after morning service. Meeting of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. Topic—Lessons from Solomon's life and writings, I Kings III:5-5. All persons not worshipping elsewhere are cordially invited.
St. Paul's church, Union street, services tomorrow (third Sunday in Advent), at the usual hours, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school 9:45 a. m. It is expected that Bishop Morris, of Portland, will preach at both services, and administer the Rite of Confirmation at the evening service. Many, no doubt, will take advantage of this opportunity to listen once more to our good bishop, whose visitations like "angels visits," are few and far between. It would be well to bear in mind, too, that some one of these visits will be the last, and then how we shall regret that we did not get to hear him. Services during the week as follows: On Wednesday (Ember day) evening at 7:30 with a sermon on the "Vision of the Last Judgment," and on Friday (Ember day) evening at 7:30 with lecture on "The Gospel for the Weak." The voice of him who crieth in the wilderness "Repent ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand," is particularly appropriate this week, while the advent cry "Behold the Bridegroom cometh" still rings in our ears.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—David Coulter, a Kansas prisoner charged with the murder of Edward Illston near Topeka, has invented a corn-husking machine.
—The lord mayors of London during the past 20 years have collected a little over £20,000,000 for charitable and benevolent purposes.
—The California health board finds that in San Jose the average duration of life is about 43 years, which is longer than that of any other city in the United States.
—Five boys, all under 15 years of age, were arrested at Indianapolis for robbing a grocery, and one confessed that they had formed the "Bungalow" club, which met in an abandoned building to read novels and plan small deceptions.
—A prehistoric cave has been discovered in the department of the Dordogne by M. E. Riviere, the walls of which are covered with pictures of animals cut deep in the rock. Some of the drawings are buried under stalagmites, which prove their antiquity. They extend for at least 420 feet, which is as far as the cave has been explored.
—An old man who three years ago went to Wasco county, Ore., and has since worked around under the name of John Campbell, died last night at the home of James Elliott, near Dufer, and papers then were found on him indicating that he was J. J. Burnham, of Hateridge, Col., where he owned 160 acres of land. There was no explanation of his change of name and name.
—Mlle. Coucon, the prophetess, has come into prominence again, owing to the recent cyclone in Paris, she having predicted in July a destructive storm in September. Her success led her to predict another storm that should devastate the Champs Elysees by fire from heaven and injure the Church of the Sacred Heart on top of Montmartre for September 20, but this does not seem to have come off yet.

SCIENTIFIC REASON GIVEN.

Why the Eyes of a Painted Portrait Follow the Observer.
Wollaston's curious discovery was that by adding to each pair of eyes a nose directed to the right or the left, the eyes lose their front direction, and look to the right or left, according to the direction of the nose. By means of a flap representing the lower features in a different position, as Dr. Wollaston remarks, "a lost look of devout abstraction in an uplifted countenance of inquisitive archness in the leer of a younger face turned downward and obliquely toward the opposite side."
As by changing the direction of the lower features we change the direction of the eyes, says Notes and Queries, so by changing our position, the eye of the portrait apparently follows us. If a vertical line be drawn through the tip of the nose and half way between the eyes, there will be the same breadth of head, of cheek, of chin and of neck on each side of this middle line, and each iris will be in the middle of the whole eye. If we now move to one side, the apparent horizontal breadth of every part of the head and face will be diminished, but the parts on each side of the middle line will be diminished equally, and at any position, however oblique, there will be the same breadth of face on each side of the middle line, and the iris will be in the center of the whole of the eyeball, so that, being on a flat surface, the iris will be seen in front of the picture or obliquely.

CHICAGO HORSES AT LUNCHEON

Man's Faithful Servants Emulate Him in Taking a Hurried Meal Downtown.
Even the horses of this city take luncheon downtown. Every business man knows what this means, the hurried bite taken in the short hour about noon every day, when business is abandoned long enough to permit the destruction of a piece of pie or a sandwich. Everybody does it, so it is as fair for one as the other, says the Chicago Chronicle.
This same haste applies to the nag which pulls the cab or the heavy draft horses used as freighters. At the noon hour on any of the downtown streets the observant person can see these faithful beasts with nosebags depending from their heads quietly munching their oats or corn with every evidence of satisfaction.
It makes no difference to the horses that the passing throng sees them in the act of taking food. They are as callous on this subject as their masters, many of whom can be seen sitting on the wagon or adjacent sidewalk with tinnail open, eagerly destroying the luncheon which the wife packed in the morning. It is all in a lifetime, and the Chicago horse has learned that he must eat when he can, and not be too particular about it. Hence he lays his ears back and munches away with placid joy.

New York Weekly Tribune

—FOR— Farmers and Villagers,
—FOR— Fathers and Mothers,
—FOR— Sons and Daughters,
—FOR— All the Family.

With the close of the Presidential Campaign THE TRIBUNE recognizes the fact that the American people are now anxious to give their attention to home and business interests. To meet this condition, politics will have far less space and prominence, until another State or National occasion demands a renewal of the fight for the principles for which THE TRIBUNE has labored from its inception to the present day, and won its greatest victories.

Every possible effort will be put forth, and money freely spent, to make THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE pre-eminently a National Family Newspaper, interesting, instructive, entertaining and indispensable to each member of the family.

We furnish "The Chronicle" and N. Y. Weekly Tribune one year for only $1.75.

Write your name and address on a postal card, send it to Geo. W. Best, Tribune Office, New York City, and a sample copy of The New York Weekly Tribune will be mailed to you.
