Weather Forecast.

PORTLAND, Jan. 8, 1897.
FOR EASTERN OREGON—Tonight and tomorrow, fair and cooler.
PAGE, Observer.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Conductor Charles Miller, formerly of the O. R. & N., is the father of a pair of bouncing babies.

Advance shipment of spring designs in colored bosom shirts just opened at A. M. Williams & Co.'s.

Mr. William Rasmus is a candidate for the position of reading clerk in the senate. He would make a good one.

There will be a regular monthly meeting of Mount Hood Hose Co., No. 4, at the hose house this (Friday) evening at 7:30 o'clock.

There were no hold-ups last night, unless they were of the variety mentioned by us yesterday evening, and they are generally not very serious.

The Portland papers rub it in on Penneyer occasionally, but he pursues the even tenor of his way unmoved by anything that may be said concerning him.

The bill known as the funding bill, to re-arrange the indebtedness of the Pacific railroads to the government, will come up for a vote in the lower house of congress Monday.

President Kruger, of the Transvaal, has prepared a bill to be presented to the English government for damages on account of the Jameson raid. It amounts to nearly $1,000,000.

The county commissioners have ordered the construction of a new truss bridge across Hood river at the town to replace the one now in use, it being condemned by the road supervisor as dangerous.

The latest sensational dispatch anent the Cuban question is that Gomez has submitted a proposition to the Spanish government as a basis on which peace may be restored. It is more than likely the story is a cold fake.

Young Simonsen's examination was completed yesterday, Justice Filloon taking the case under advisement until this afternoon, when he decided to have the defendant to appear before the grand jury, fixing his bonds at $300.

Yesterday was Jackson day, but the old-line Jacksonian Democrats are so scarce that not enough are left to have a banquet any more. Most of them can get rid of their oratory at the Republican banquets now, since most of them vote that way.

The county commissioners are clearing up the list of bills and attending to the other county business, including the settlement of the road supervisors accounts. The business of the term is larger than usual, but will probably be cleared up by Saturday night.

William Jones and another man from Jefferson were in Albany Wednesday looking for two tramps who broke into the Southern Pacific depot at that place and robbed the office of a small sum of money. The hobo rendezvous in Hackleman's grove was searched, but the men wanted were not found.

Most of the citizens of DeMoss Springs are engaged in learning the cantata "Joseph, the Hebrew," compiled by Prof. J. M. DeMoss and directed by L. L. DeMoss. There are eighteen members of the grand chorus, and they make their first appearance at Moro Jan. 15th.

Over in Aberdeen, Washington, during the trial of a lawsuit a witness struck one of the attorneys in the face. The justice forbade fighting in the court room, when irate witness said, "All right judge, I'll take him outside and thrash him." He then threw the attorney over the railing, dragged him outside and kept his word.

The Sheepmen's, Union of Gilliam county, is being urged by the Fossil Journal to put the bounty on coyote scalps back to the old figures, $1 by the union and $1 by the county. The union recently voted in favor of paying 50 cents, and that the county should pay 50 cents. The law does not permit the county court to pay less than $1.

We shall regret exceedingly to be compelled to publish some of the fictitious items given us by our friends, but we feel that some of their joshes deserve to be preserved in print. Sheriff Driver told us about a man breaking his arm, and Jacobsen described a hold-up by Nightwatchman Wiley, but you will have to ask those gentlemen for the particulars.

Here is another juvenile claimant who is younger than his Linn county competitor. The Salem Statesman says that George Victor Evans, of Marion county, is the youngest person in the state holding a certificate to teach school. He is 11½ years old and passed the examination held by County School Superintendent Jones last August. His general average was 73½ per cent. He is a son of D. M. Evans, who lives south of Salem.

The Rathbone Sisters.

The Rathbone Sisters installed their officers last night as follows: P. C., Mrs. Phillips; E. C., Mrs. Lytle; E. S., Minnie Gosser; E. J., Mrs. Davis; M., Mrs. Kelsay; P., Mrs. Rorden; O. G., Mrs. Waud. Mrs. Crossen was the installing officer, and was assisted by Mrs. J. Michell and Mrs. Gavin.

Miss Maude and Master Clarence Gilbert furnished some excellent instrumental music, and Miss Griswold favored the lodge with the recitation of Bryant's beautiful poem, the "Bobolink." Miss Griswold is a splendid elocutionist, and her recitation was received with a storm of applause.

After this refreshments were served, and a general good time was had.

Cash in Your Checks.

All county warrants registered prior to July 12, 1892, will be paid at my office. Interest ceases after Dec. 5, 1896.

C. L. PHILLIPS,
County Treasurer.

THEY WERE ON THE ROOF.

Small Boys Have a Good Time, and Came Off the Roof Suddenly.

Boys will be boys, and in their efforts to find some new and exciting amusement, each generation outdoes the one before it, simply because the opportunities grow steadily larger. But here are some things that never grow old, and that generation after generation of boys all amuse themselves at. One of these is the cat-like desire to climb.

Yesterday evening Nightwatchman Wiley discovered half a dozen or more boys on the roofs of the houses between Washington street and the Umatilla. He called upon them to come down, but they had not finished their fun, and refused. Wiley made a vigorous search to find how the youngsters got up, but failed. Finally he climbed up a pole and gave the kids chase and then they came down with a run. They fled across the roofs until they struck the arch across the street at the D. P. & A. N. office. Over the top of this they scampered as sure footed as a lot of goats, and dropped out of sight. In a moment they came boiling out of the foot of one of the columns of the arch, like a lot of mice from a nest. They had discovered a hole in the canvas, crawled inside of the frame on which the canvas was nailed, climbed up inside of it, and so reached the roof. It was a comical sight to see them disappear at the end of the arch and come scampering out at the bottom like frightened rats.

By the time Wiley reached their run way the kids were at home eating sapper and happy in the knowledge that they had done something new.

To Cancel Patents on Swamp Lands.

Some time since, United States Attorney Murphy received telegraphic instructions to bring a number of suits on behalf of the government, in the United States court, to secure the cancellation of patents to various tracts of swamp and other lands, on the ground that the patents had been improperly granted. The suits were filed on the last day possible for this to be done, and the defendants were as follows: O. & C. R. R. Co., four cases; Coos Bay Wagon Road Company, and the Southern Oregon Company, one case; Dalles Military Wagon Road Company, two cases; Coos Bay Wagon Road Company, and Thomas Evans, one case; Coos Bay Wagon Road Co. and 50 others, 1 case; Oregon Central Military Wagon Road Company. In one case, the State of Oregon and George M. Small, defendant yesterday demurred to the complaint, the principal ground of demurrer being that the secretary of the interior having decided that the land in controversy is within the calls of the swamp-land grant, such adjudication is conclusive upon the courts. Judge Bellinger, after hearing the argument, sustained the demurrer, holding that the secretary's decision was final, and that the department of the interior constituted a special tribunal of its own, and that its holding in the matter was not to be overruled by a United States circuit court. He gave the government time to apply for a rehearing, as in case fraud is alleged the decision of the secretary might not be final. It is probable that the other cases will be demurred to with the same result.

Death of Bradford Bonney.

Our account of the death of Bradford Bonney yesterday was not entirely correct. He died on the Southern Pacific train near Ashland. He had been ailing for some time, and during the last week gave unmistakable symptoms of consumption. He was being taken to Southern California in the hope that the change of climate might prove beneficial, and expired suddenly and unexpectedly. The body was brought here, arriving on the noon train today, both the Southern Pacific and O. R. & N. holding their trains so that there was no delay in reaching here.

The funeral will take place from the family residence tomorrow (Saturday) at 10 o'clock a. m.

The Wheat Market.

Under date of the 7th inst. the San Francisco wheat market report is given, and it indicates that higher prices are to prevail. As high as $1.62 per cental has been paid, and it is stated that the supply in the state has been diminished 75,000 tons within the year and that there are now not to exceed 250,000 tons in the state to meet the demand for export, and for home consumption, and that by the time of the coming in of new wheat, the old stock will be gone entirely.

A Cure for Lame Back.

"My daughter, when recovering from an attack of fever, was a great sufferer from pain in the back and hips," writes Louden Grover, of Sardis, Ky. "After using quite a number of remedies without any benefit she tried one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and it has given entire relief." Chamberlain's Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton.

Tygh Valley Roller Flour Mills.

A tired stomach is very much like a sprained ankle. If you suffer from any of the symptoms of dyspepsia, your stomach is tired. It needs a crutch, or until it is restored to its natural strength. To do this successfully, we must use a food which is already digested outside of the body, and which will aid the digestion of other foods that may be taken with it. Such a product is the Shaker Digestive Cordial.

The Shakers have utilized the digestive principles present in plants for the manufacture of this article, and its success has been truly phenomenal. You can try it for the nominal sum of 10 cents, as sample bottles are sold by all druggists at this price.

Laxol is the best medicine for children. Doctors recommend it in place of Castor Oil.
