It Is Up to Date.

It is reported that two weeks more will finish the work being done by Corey Brothers on the first ten miles of the railroad grade.—Astorian.

Good. Then Astoria will be ten miles nearer civilization and Salem.—Salem Statesman.

The Salem Statesman understands the niceties of English, and says civilization and Salem, instead of Salem and civilization. The distinction is probably due to the fact that just now the legislature is both present and absent.

FORGOT HIS NECKTIE.

Embarrassing Situation of a Young Man Out West.

In these days of cheap neckwear a man is poor indeed who cannot afford a large collection of ties. There is one young man in this city, however, says the Denver Times, who would have willingly paid five times the cost of a cravat, if necessary, a few days ago. He is a genius in his way, and, like most of his tribe, requires a guardian. It was on a bright, warm morning, not long since, that he sauntered from his home, just about shopping time, and in his absent-minded way wandered downtown. As he walked along Sixteenth street people gazed at him curiously, and some were ill-bred enough to laugh. Their curiosity was lost upon him, however, for he was far away in reveries of the bright, happy times when editors accept everything that is offered without even asking ambitious young authors to ruthlessly cut manuscript "to satisfy our readers." He wandered into a crowded drug store, and, elbowing his way through the throngs of well-dressed women, asked for his favorite phosphate, and then continued his stroll until he reached the office of the Times. Then some one asked him why he did not dress before coming on the street. He looked up in mild amazement, sought a mirror, and then made a rush for the nearest haberdashery. Since then he has become possessor of a complete collection of ties, and when he sees his sister wearing the choicest specimens, his hand invariably seeks his collar band to see if he has again been neglectful.

Food of Birds of Prey.

According to the agricultural department, 95 per cent. of the food of hawks, owls, crows and blackbirds consists of animals and insects far more dangerous to agriculture than the birds themselves. The corn eaten by the crows is mostly waste corn, picked up in the fall and winter. Cuckoos are also found to be very useful to the farmer.

WHIPPING LITTLE GIRLS.

An Effort Is Asked For to Abolish the Privilege in England.

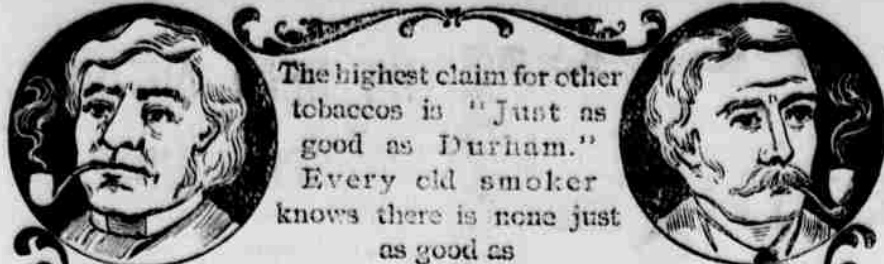

The authorized flogging of little girls is a piece of barbarism which now that the subject has been definitely raised, will receive, we trust, no countenance from the home secretary, says the London Daily News. Mr. Riley says that girls in the elementary schools are caned, a bit of information which we commend to the immediate notice of Sir John Gorst. The public of London has outgrown the days of Mother Brownrigg, and Mother Brownrigg, as the Newgate "calendar" informs us, was not sustained by judge, jury, public opinion, or Justice Ketch in her theories and her practice. The castigation of girls. There were philosophers, to be sure, who approved of the whipping of girls. Locke approved of a mother who whipped her little daughter nine times in order to compel her to confess some error; and Johnson commended a mother who whipped her daughter in the interest of future truthfulness because the girl had said she came in through one door, when in fact she had come in through another. But those were days when children were supposed to be born only that they might be birched as far as possible out of their share of original sin. Women were publicly flogged at the cart's tail in the days of Locke and of Johnson—

A CYCLING MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE.

THE RESULTS OF LONG, HARD RIDING. FULLY 3,000 MILES ON HIS WHEEL.

He Makes Some Reflections on the Benefits of the Sport and Tells of its Dangers.

From the Press, Utica, N. Y.

The Rev. Wm. P. F. Ferguson, whose picture we give above, will not be unfamiliar by sight to many readers. A young man, he has still had an extended experience as foreign missionary, teacher, editor, lecturer and pastor that has given him a wide acquaintance in many parts of the country.

In an interview a few days ago he said: "In the early summer of '94 I went upon a tour through Canada on my wheel. My route was from Utica to Cape Vincent by steamer to Kingston, and from there along the north shore of the lake to Toronto and around to Niagara Falls. I arrived at Cape Vincent at 5 o'clock, having ridden against a strong head wind all day.

"After a delightful sail through the Thousand Islands, I stepped on shore in that quaint old city of Kingston. A slight shower had fallen and the streets were damp, so that wisdom would have dictated that I, leg-weary as I was, should have kept in doors, but so anxious was I to see the old city that I spent the whole evening in the streets.

"Five o'clock the next morning brought a very unwelcome discovery. I was lame in both ankles and knees. The head wind and the damp streets had proved an unfortunate combination. I gave, however, little thought to it, supposing it would wear off in a few hours, and the first flush of sunlight saw me speeding in the splendid road that leads toward Niagara.

"Night overtook me at a little village near Port Hope, but found me still lame. I rested the next day, and the next, but it was too late; the mischief was done. I rode a good many miles during the rest of the season, but never a day and seldom a mile without pain. "The winter came and I put away my wheel, saying 'now I shall get well,' but to my disappointment I grew worse. Some days my knees almost forbade walking and my ankles would not permit me to wear shoes. At times I suffered severe pain, so severe as to make study a practical impossibility, yet it must be understood that I concealed the condition of affairs as far as possible.

"From being local the trouble began to spread slightly and my anxiety increased. I consulted two physicians and followed their excellent advice, but without result. So the winter passed. One day in March I happened to take in my hand a newspaper in which a good deal of space was taken by an article in relation to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did not at that time know what they were supposed to cure. I should have paid no attention to the article had I not caught the name of a lady whom I knew. Reading, I found that she, in similar circumstances, had been greatly benefited by the use of Pink Pills, and knowing her as I did I had no doubt of the truth of the statement that she had authorized.

The first box was not gone before I saw a change, and the third had not been finished before all signs of my rheumatic troubles were gone to stay.

"I say 'gone to stay,' for though there has been every opportunity for a return of the trouble, I have not felt the first twinge of it. I have wheeled thousands of miles and never before with so little discomfort. I have had some of the most severe tests of strength and endurance, and have come through them without an ache. For example, one afternoon I rode seventy miles, preached that night and made fifty miles of the hardest kind of road before noon the next day. Another instance was a 'Century run,' the last forty miles of which were made in a downpour of rain through mud and slush.

"You should think I would recommend them to others? Well, I have, and have had the pleasure of seeing very good results in a number of instances. Yes, I should feel that I was neglecting a duty if I failed to suggest Pink Pills to any friend whom I knew to be suffering from rheumatism.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN WHITESBORO, OF WHICH REV. WM. FERGUSON IS PASTOR.

"No, that is not the only disease they cure. I personally know of a number of cures from other troubles, but I have needed them only for that, though it would be fair to add that my general health has been better this summer than ever before in my life.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are sold in boxes (never in loose form), by the dozen or hundred) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or directly by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
