EASTERN OFFICE—430 to 434 Temple Court, N. Y. City. E. KATZ, Agent.

YET THERE IS TIME.

It will take united action and every influence that can possibly be brought to bear, to accomplish the opening of the Cascade reserve to pasturage by the time the season is here.

The question is of infinitely more importance than the election of any man for senator. Will our representative, Mr. Jones, who is himself a sheepman, kindly take this into consideration?

Will he take a look at the situation through the spectacles of his constituents? Will he look after their interests and his own, instead of assisting to block legislation in the interest of any senatorial candidate, or against any senatorial candidate.

Interests are involved that yield in Eastern Oregon more than a million dollars a year annually. Delay means their destruction. Will he, can he, weigh these interests against any result in the senatorial struggle, and deliberately strike them down?

We freely concede his right to vote for whomsoever he pleases for United States senator. That is a matter he can settle in his own conscience. But the people who elected him have some rights.

They have a right to have their business attended to. They have a right to be represented in an organized legislature, and to have their representative assist in organizing it.

That was what Mr. Jones was elected for. Mr. Henry, his opponent, was elected to stay away from the legislature. Mr. Jones was not. Mr. Henry would be as much justified in demanding a seat in the legislature as Mr. Jones is in refusing it.

The latter said he wanted the office, he canvassed the district to get it, he virtually promised to accept it, and the people believing him, gave it to him. How he is treating the trust reposed in him will not bear comment from us.

He has still time to redeem the pledges he made. He has still time to look after the business of his constituents. If he does it, well; if not, let him remember that he must face his constituents in six brief weeks from now.

DELICATE HUMOR.

The editor of the Alameda, Calif., Argus leaps suddenly to the front as the leading American humorist. The following "tribute" to the Oregonian entitles him to first place, without any ballot.

fumes; that festers and gives off bad odors, which we are constantly reminded is modern and what the people demand. The reason the "tenderloin" editorial regarding California, that appeared in the journal we speak of, cut so deeply was the knowledge of the sterling character of the medium, and the faith its readers have in its contents.

Interest in the situation at Salem is today centered on the senate. The Benson house being organized, the next question is "What will the senate do?" If it recognizes the house as being properly and legally organized, the two houses will on Tuesday, one week from tomorrow, cast a ballot for, and probably elect a United States senator.

A Cure for Lame Back.

"My daughter, when recovering from an attack of fever, was a great sufferer from pain in the back and hips," writes Loudon Grover, of Sardis, Ky. "After using quite a number of remedies without any benefit she tried one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and it has given entire relief."

The progressive ladies of Westfield, Ind., issued a "Woman's Edition" of the Westfield News, bearing date of April 3, 1896. The paper is filled with matter of interest to women, and we notice the following from a correspondent, which the editors printed, realizing that it treats upon a matter of vital importance to their sex:
