THE BEAN AUTOMATIC SPRAY PUMP.

Is, unquestionably, the most successful and perfect working Spraying Device yet invented.

It is a universal testimony that more, as well as better, work can be accomplished with the Bean Spray Pump than with any other pump on the market.

With this pump one man can charge the receptacle and leave it to direct the spray just where it is wanted, and thus with sufficient hose pass from tree to tree. The solution is delivered in a fine mist or spray, penetrating every nook and corner, thus doing better and more effective work than is possible by any other method, and with no waste whatever of solution.

For further particulars see special circular or call upon or correspond with.

The two little daughters of Mr. Geo. S. Hether are very sick with typhoid fever.

Chicago breaks the world's record with nearly 100 fires for 24 hours ending at midnight last night.

The U. S. senate has passed a bill appropriating $10,000 for maintaining a quarantine station at Astoria.

The weather has moderated here slightly, but it is still cold enough. All indications are for warmer weather.

Europe is yearly using more of our own product. The shipments of this year for 1896, exceeding that of 1895 by 200,000 bushels.

The Payne mine in the Slocan district is now shipping sixty tons of ore a day, that yields from 250 to 400 ounces of silver to the ton.

Idaho is the liveliest place in the Northwest just now. The checks cashed last week for paying the Nez Percé Indians, $180,000, and payment commenced Monday.

He again call the attention of the committee to the fact that a representative of the Elks will be at the city recorder's office all day tomorrow, and that the society desires to see worthy cases, where relief is needed, set out, and it will assist them.

The course of his three days speech in Cuba, Senator Turpie denounced the "Herod of Havana," and his indescribable diminutive reputation. Turpie has a valuable and stinging tongue and serves a good purpose in bringing up the animals in the senate occasionally.

The Regulator was late getting in last night, being detained by the freezing of the locks. Today she did not get until noon, as it was thought best to wait until the condition of the locks was known, which was not until about 1 o'clock. It being found they were open, she took on her cargo and left shortly after 12.

The two American ladies receiving the best salaries as choir singers are Miss Clementina De Vere, at the Paxton church in New York, who receives $4500 a year, and Miss Dutton, at the Baptist church in the same city, who receives $3,000 for her services. The men in the choir at Westminster Abbey receive salaries ranging from $400 to $500.

Hon. Lydell Baker came up from Portland yesterday, and last night delivered the second of the series of lectures. Owing to several circumstances the attendance was not so large as it might have been; but those who went were well repaid. Mr. Baker is a thorough student, a logical reasoner, and is apt in the expression of his thoughts.

Mrs. Arthur Sewall, wife of the late Democratic candidate for vice-president of the United States, is an expert amateur photographer, and has received diplomas for her work, not only in New York and Boston, but also in Paris. Mrs. Sewall, who has traveled extensively, both in America and Europe, has made a charming collection of landscape photographs.

The Umatilla house looked like old times last night, it being crowded with enthusiastic Elks, bound for Heppner and their friends bound to see them off. About twenty-three members of the order made the trip, and the prize band belonging to the lodge accompanied them. There were quite a number of Elks came up from Portland, also bound for Heppner.

The small boy is a pretty good thermometer, and he knows by intuition not only where every pond is, but just how many degrees of cold and how long continued it takes to put the dirt rent ponds in condition for skating. He is visible, or was, a short time this morning with his skates hanging from his arm, hence we feel safe in saying the skating is good some place near town. We understand from one of them it is at Alkali lake, the other side of Mill creek, where they are congregating today.

Great destitution is reported among the poor in Chicago; but that city knows how to take care of its own. The mayor called for subscriptions to a relief fund, and has met with instant response. The Postal Telegraph Cable Co. gave $2,000; the lumbermen raised $1,300 in sixteen minutes, and promised $2,500 more; the Pabst Brewing Co. of Milwaukee telegraphed $1,000; the Pope Bicycle Co. gave a thousand; and $35,000 was raised almost before the mayor's call had grown cold. Fully 2,000 people were given shelter last night at the public stations and Salvation Army barracks.

By Way of Portland.

The interview with Edward Rosewater, editor of the Omaha Bee, telegraphed from Chicago, in which he states that the affairs of the Union Pacific system would be straightened out and a settlement reached with the government before March 4th, attracted general attention among local railroad men yesterday.

It has come to be generally understood that the Vanderbilts will secure full control of the Union Pacific system, and with it the Oregon Short Line, and the question now is whether or not the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, with its line from this point to Huntington, will not also come under the same control and give to Portland a through transcontinental route. It is generally understood that the Short Line owners control a majority of the O. R. & N. stock, and that, under the reorganization plan of the former road, with the fulfillment of existing agreements with holders of preferred O. R. & N. stock, that road will be merged into the Vanderbilt system and afford it a Pacific coast terminal.

The statement made by Mr. Rosewater that the Vanderbilt system would construct a road from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles is not regarded seriously here. This is not the time when railroad corporations are building new lines of road to offset some rival company, and so far as business is concerned Portland has so many advantages over Los Angeles as a distributing point that all talk of seeking a coast outlet in Southern California is deemed idle.

Last Night's Minstrels.

The Georgia minstrels have come and gone. It is a good troupe, in many respects a very good one, but it served to emphasize the fact that it takes a white man to make a real genuine "nigger minstrel." Miss Edwards singing was good, so was that of the Thompson sisters. The balancing feats by John Pampin were exceptionally good, and the slack wire work of Allie Brown, proved that he was entitled to the name of "Monarch of the slack wire." There was lots of noise, lots of dancing, but the features we have mentioned comprise the meritorious portion of the show.

A Workman Decapitated.

An unparalleled accident occurred at the Illinois steel plant at Joliet yesterday, whereby Nelson Johnson was decapitated. He was employed in the rod mill, and in falling from a high platform his head came in contact with the edge of a platform, and the connecting rod of the engine cut his head off at the neck. The first his fellow-workmen knew of the accident was when the head came tumbling into their midst.

A New Difficulty Attending Bicycling.

A new difficulty attendant on bicycling befell a pair that had journeyed further than they intended to when hunger overtook them. "Hadn't we better stop at some house," said he, "and get our lunch instead of trying to reach home first?" She thought that would be lovely and they wheeled merrily along to a dear little inn. They swung off their wheels and he suddenly turned red. "I say," he stammered, in an undertone, "have you any money with you? It's deuced awkward and stupid, but I have left my money in my other trousers." She smiled sweetly, then of a sudden looked blank, too. "Good gracious!" said she, "and so have I!"—La Grande Chronicle.

The Mummy of Pharaoh.

The greatest discovery of mummies ever made in Egypt was in the year 1881, when the remains of thirty-nine royal personages were brought to light at Dier-et-Bahari, Thebes. One of these was proven to be the mummy of King Rameses II, the third king of the ninth dynasty, and the "Pharaoh" of the Jewish captivity. This mummy was in perfect state of preservation. The mummy case itself was of sycamore wood, plain and unvarnished, and without a spot or stripe of paint—something reckoned as unusual. The case was, however, carved to represent Rameses in the position of Osiris. The crossed arms rested upon the breast. In the right hand was the royal whip, and in the left the royal book. The features were most delicately carved in soft wood, and the whole was surmounted with the crowns of Upper and Lower Egypt, and surrounded by a carved representation of the the uraeus serpent. The name of Rameses was written in plain black characters upon the case, which bore no other text or representation whatever, strongly contrasting with the exaggerated dedications noted on almost all the other cases found in the same pit.

The mummy itself was carefully wrapped in rose-colored and yellow linen of a texture finer than the very finest Indian muslin. In the different folds of this linen several dried lotus flower leaves were found. In the folds of one of the bands which passed across the grave clothes to keep them in place was a folded papyrus bearing inscriptions which inform the reader that this, the mummy of Rameses II., was concealed in the pit where it was found at a time when a foreign army invaded Egypt. This quaint bit of information, which was probably written 2,000 or 2,500 years ago, is as plain as though it had been penned but yesterday.—St. Louis Republic.

England's Deepest Mine.

England's deepest mine shaft is at Ashton Moss colliery, near Manchester, going down 2,880 feet, but the dip in the seam carries the workings to 3,360 feet below the surface. The lowest part of the Pendleton colliery is 3,474 feet. The deepest shaft in the world is the Red Jacket of the Calumet and Hecla on Lake Superior, 4,900 feet. Belgium's deepest shaft is 3,937 feet; Austro-Hungary's, 3,672; Germany's, 2,900; France's, 2,305, and Australia's, 3,302. The Prussian government has bored down to 6,572 feet below the surface, the temperature there rising 1 degree, Fahrenheit, for every 62.1 feet.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by Druggists.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from the first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store. (5)
