CONCERNING IMMIGRATION.

The immigration question is one of the most important with which the people now have to do. Congress has undertaken to do something towards checking the tide now flowing in, and a bill is before it providing an educational qualification. Under its provisions every male emigrant over the age of 18 years must be able to read in some language. The house amended the senate bill making the provision applicable to females as well as maks. The committee of conference met, but could not agree.

In the house in the discussion of the report of the committee Congressman Barthold objected to the amendment "because it would separate husband and wife, parent and child." This shows how prone con gress is not to do anything that may possibly interfere with congressional votes. Mr. Barthold grows suddenof the husband bidding a tearful adieu to his wife and family at Castle the point from whence they came. It never seemed to enter Mr. Barthold's mind that under such circumhuman, probably prefer to return to Europe with his family than to remain here without.

very weak effort to restrict immigration, and only if it is made severe termine what action the district will will it have any effect whatever. Under the law as proposed by the district; also what action the district will take for the erection or rental of senate a person who can read may send for his parents, family, brothers ing funds for the payment of the same and sisters, and everybody that may be in any manner dependent on hir. It is, in fact, no resistance at all as any family with one person in it

We have believed for a long time that every person in the United States, whether native born or for. Hood River. Plans will be considered eign, would be better off if immigr to february 8th at 1 o'clock p. m. The tion were practically stopped. We have more people now than we have work for. The objection is not to bridge. By order of the court. the foreigner, generally, because he is a foreigner, but because the labor market is overcrowded, and his coming simply makes conditions worse. We do not blame any foreigner for coming here, for the reason that wages are much higher here than in Europe, and he comes to better his condition. Wages are higher here than at home, but they are steadily approaching the European level, and will eventually reach it. The end of the journey will be reached the more quickly by permitting promiseuous immigration.

If congress desires to do anything in the matter, it should either pass a bill that would restrict immigration in a degree, at least, or else let it alone. When wages here reach the European level, immigration will cease of its own accord, for then the laborer will not spend his money to get here, when he would be no better off than where he was-at home.

Rev. Tichnor of Waitsburg, Wash., has sued C. W. Wheeler, of the Waisburg Times, for $15,000 damages to his reputation on account of an article published by the latter, commonly known as "a roast." The case is new on trial at Walla Walla. With the case itself this article has nothing to do, its sole object being to call attention to the rapid strides S. which young America is making, and to express our doubts as to "where we are at." The testimony, among other things, showed that at a Sunday school pienic Rev. Tichnor made an address in which he said You Get "If I had my way of teaching morality. I would send one half the parents across the sea and the other half to the luna ic asylum." The witness added, with charming simplicity that The minister was tendered a vote of thanks for the address by the children." If that wouldn't jar the popcorn off the top branches of a Christmas tree, what would?

A circular letter, issued by Jay L. Torrey, addressed to "The Editors of Newspapers," says: "You are respectfully requested to express your views as to the desirability of national bankruptcy legislation and the merits of the Torrey bill." If Mr. Torrey was not a "Jay," he would not ask that question. It strikes us that we have had all the national bankruptcy legislation that we can stand. We have not had much of any other kind, not for a long time now. What we need is either no legislation or a change in quality. In our humble opinion, a few laws that will tend to prevent national bankruptey is what we need. The Shasta Route
