THE BEAN AUTOMATIC SPRAY PUMP.

Is, unquestionably, the most successful and perfect working Spraying Device yet invented.

It is a universal testimony that more, as well as better, work can be accomplished with the Bean Spray Pump than with any other pump on the market.

With this pump one man can charge the receptacle and leave it to direct the spray just where it is wanted, and thus with sufficient hose pass from tree to tree. The solution is delivered in a fine mist or spray, penetrating every nook and corner, thus doing better and more effective work than is possible by any other method, and with no waste whatever of solution.

For further particulars see special circular or call upon or correspond with.

Weather Forecast.

PORTLAND, Jan. 28, 1897. FOR EASTERN OREGON—Tonight and tomorrow, show. PAGE, Observer.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Don't forget the school meeting Saturday afternoon at the brick school house.

Weather Observer Pague is doing some remarkably good forecasting, hitting the quality of weather we are to have, every time.

There is just a little slush ice running in the Columbia today, but if the present weather continues there will be plenty of it in a day or two.

J. E. Graham, who was injured in the accident at the high trestle six miles below town last Thursday, and who was brought here for medical treatment, died last night.

All members of the K. of P. lodge are requested to meet at the small lodge room tonight at 7:30, to arrange for the funeral of J. E. Graham, a member of the order.

This afternoon is ladies day at the club, and they begin contesting for a medal which has been purchased by the club to be worn by the best lady bowler, until she is outvaled and some one carries away the medal.

John Nesbit, chairman of the board of county commissioners of Klickitat county, had a partial stroke of paralysis of the heart Tuesday. His physician says this is one form the grip sometimes takes, and there is no fear of future results.

The Regulator did not get through the locks yesterday, and up to noon today was still on this side. If she does not get through today, she will return to her wharf here tonight. It was thought this morning that she would get through some time today.

The Christian church will give a Dickens entertainment in the near future, and wish to procure a bust or portrait of the great novelist. If anyone knows where either can be procured in the city, a great favor will be conferred by leaving word at this office.

There was a light fall of snow last night, and all day there has been a sprinkling of fine flakes falling from leaden skies that would probably furnish us plenty of the beautiful if the weather would turn a little warmer. As it is, there has just enough snow fallen to spoil the skating.

Secretary of state Kincaid, refuses to draw warrants for printing bills for the lower house. This is tough on the printer, but it is only one of the many results of the unlawful holding up of the legislature by a gang of "public servants," who will not accept the offices they asked the people to give them. The many friends Miss Yaw made here will be pleased to learn that she is not only very much alive, but also very much in demand. At Salt Lake she had an ovation, and at Colorado Springs seats were sold at $1.50 and the house was packed. One gentleman remarked that it would not be long until people would be traumping on each other in their scramble to pay $6 for the privilege of hearing her.

The bill to license prize fighting has passed one house of the Nevada legislature, and bids fair to become a law. The license is fixed at $1,000. After all, it may not prove altogether bad to have some place where the big bruisers may meet and pommel each other to their hearts content. It will at least put a stop to the long distance fighting, and serve to make the brutes less notorious in the newspapers. Nevada, just now, is no account for any other purpose, and there is nobody there to be offended.

The new woolen mill at Pendleton is appreciated as a desirable industry by the residents of that city, as is shown by the favor which a plan proposed by the East Oregonian has met. The plan is to make up a subscription list of as many as will agree to purchase cloth made at the Pendleton woolen mills for one suit, the same to be taken at one time and made up by any local tailor desired by any one. The mills are preparing to manufacture a large number of patterns, so that the individual can have many from which to choose.

Thurston Daniels received forty-four votes for United States senator from Washington yesterday, and Turner thirty-three. Daniels is a quiet, clever gentleman, an old newspaper man, and while he might not be arrested for arson of the Columbia caught fire, he would make a tireless and energetic officer. Washington may go further and fare much worse. Besides his other qualifications he had the privilege of associating with the writer hereof for several years, a thing of which his competitors were unhappily deprived.

About two years ago, a number of Hollanders settled in Snohomish county, purchasing land in as large tracts as possible, and working the adjoining farms together. The colony is gradually growing, and almost without exception the little groups of farms have prospered. A movement is now being started to bring over a number of colonists direct from Holland. The Hollanders have taken up the matter of flax-raising, and will plant a great deal of flax this year. They have also encouraged their neighbors to do likewise, and will probably erect a mill in that vicinity in time to work next year's crop.

The Herd Came Back.

The Elks who visited Heppner, leaving here Tuesday night, arrived home this morning. There were twenty-four of them from this city, six or seven from Portland and Astoria, and quite a number from Walla Walla. The institution of the new lodge was completed about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after which a splendid banquet was served, and the visitors left for home at 10 o'clock. A Pullman sleeper was provided for the occasion, but some of the boys did not sleep much, owing to the fact that a few of them took advantage of being out in the sage brush, to practice on the doxology. They report having had a fine time, and all are enthusiastic in their praises of Heppner's hospitable people.

The party was composed of the following: W. L. Bradshaw, Hal French, E. Jacobson, Ed Williams, Geo. Ferguson, Ad Keller, W. H. Wilson, J. A. Crossen, W. A. Johnson, Grant Mays, P. DeHuff, Frank Somers, James Blakeney, T. J. Driver, T. Senfert, J. S. Fish, Bert Phelps, Dr. Siddall, A. M. Kelsay, R. H. Lonsdale, A. Bettingen, a man named Smith from Cascade Locks, and one or two others whose names we could not learn.

On the way up the Georgia Minstrels went in the car and entertained the brethren until their ways parted at the Willows.

A Blooded Town.

The town of Hood River is blooded, and when it wants anything it generally goes to work and gets it. It has the finest school house in the county, and the finest of its size in the state. At the school meeting held Tuesday a special tax of 15 mills was voted for carrying on the schools, which insures a full year term of school and good teachers. Of course, opinions are divided concerning the advisability of levying so heavy a tax, but one thing is certain, and that is that in these modern days no town can grow and prosper without first-class school facilities. We believe Hood River will feel the effect of having a good school, immediately, and that it will do more to assist in the growth of the town than anything its citizens could have done.

The Jury List.

The following is the list of jurors summoned to act at the February term of the circuit court: Wm. McCorkle, S. F. Bennett and E. C. Fitzpatrick, Tygh; A. Canfield and A. C. Fleck, Boyd; Geo. Runyon, W. Doak, Jesse McIntosh, G. W. Patterson, M. Doyle, W. Floyd, I. J. Norman and Robt. Cooper, The Dalles; J. H. Sherar, Sherar's Bridge; W. A. Foley, S. R. Husbands, H. Prigge, D. H. Clough, H. H. Bailey, J. J. Luckey, D. A. Turner and J. W. Morton, Hood River; H. P. Brittain and George Noble, Wamic; C. W. Haight, Ridgeway; R. Mays, Jr., Antelope; J. J. Butler, Kingsley; B. L. Foreman, Wapinitia; W. T. McClure and J. S. Hunter, Mosier; Edward Bohns, Dufur.

National Organizer Coming.

Mrs. Hoffman, national organizer and secretary of the W. C. T. U., will be in The Dalles and will lecture on the 6th and 7th of February. Although personally a stranger, from all we have heard of her we feel well acquainted with her. Marion Baxter says of her: "There is a dash about Helen M. Barger suggestive of dewdrops chained by sunbeams to the heart of the sun, while Miss Willard sends me adrift over calm seas, and true hands are waving before; but Clara Hoffman stands like a shelter in a time of storm. She is warning, exhortation, command, insight, and sends a desire to battle thrilling along my every nerve."

"Jumbo" Cantwell in Trouble.

"Jumbo" Cantwell, whose notoriety as a leader of the Washington Key army extended from the Pacific to the Atlantic, is in jail at Chicago on suspicion of having been implicated in the robbery of an innocent Michigan farmer. "Jumbo" asserts that the only thing he ever stole was a freight train on his celebrated march to the national capitol. The Chicago Chronicle describes Cantwell as a giant who stands 6 feet 6 inches in his bare feet and weighs 290 pounds. "Gen." Cantwell is arrested merely on suspicion, and protests that he never has harmed man, woman or child.

PERSONAL MENTION.

John B. Shupp is in from the Warm Springs.

Frank and David Fulton of Biggs are in the city.

N. C. Evans and A. B. Jones came up from Hood River today.

Mr. W. C. Wills, of the state board of equalization, arrived last night from Salem, and will remain here a few days.

Rev. J. H. Wood returned from University Park yesterday. He left his mother much improved, and she will probably recover.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from the first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store. (5)
