THE BEAN AUTOMATIC SPRAY PUMP.

Is, unquestionably, the most successful and perfect working Spraying Device yet invented.

It is a universal testimony that more, as well as better, work can be accomplished with the Bean Spray Pump than with any other pump on the market.

With this pump one man can charge the receptable and leave it to direct the spray just where it is wanted, and thus with sufficient hose pass from tree to tree. The solution is delivered in a fine mist or spray, penetrating every nook and corner, thus doing better and more effective work than is possible by any other method, and with no waste whatever of solution.

For further particulars see special circular or call upon or correspond with.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Isaac Pitman, the father of shorthand writing, died at Paris, January 22, in his 84th year.

General Russell A. Alger has been selected by President-elect McKinley for the position of secretary of war.

The funeral of the late J. E. Graham took place this morning. Friendship Lodge, K. of P., attended in a body.

The Salem Statesmen puts it this way: Today's amusements.—Rump house, 9:30 a. m.; Regular house, 10:30 a. m.

Miss Jessie Butler's condition shows slight improvement this morning, and hopes are entertained of her recovery.

T. T. Geer visited President-elect McKinley on his way to Washington, and writes up his visit in today's Oregonian.

Second street is in fine condition for sleighing and the constant jingling of the bells shows that many of our people are taking advantage of it.

L. Rorden & Co. have moved their grocery and crockery store to the new Vogt block, next to H. Herbring's, where they will be pleased to see their old customers and cultivate new ones.

The Salvation army have prepared an interesting program for this evening. They are illustrating their slum work as it is carried on in our large cities. An admission of ten cents will be charged at the door.

Judge Crawford was waylaid in Grant's Pass last Saturday evening on his way home. Some one sprang out from behind a tree and struck Mr. Crawford on the head with a weapon, fortunately not stunning him, and he managed to spring away from his assailant and run to his home not far distant.

Mr. Joseph Knebel showed us an orange this morning grown by his brother-in-law, Captain H. Anlauf, formerly of this city. The orange measures 14 inches in circumference one way, and 13½ the other, and was grown in Ventura county, California. Captain Anlauf now has 30 acres of orange orchard.

Mrs. C. F. Baker died at Portland yesterday. She leaves two brothers, Edward and Frederick Mack, and a half brother, Lucius Clark, all residing in Sherman county. Deceased resided here for some time with her husband, moving to Portland about 18 months ago. She had been sick for quite a long time, and her death was not unexpected.

Palmer and Denham, two business men of Baker City, went out hunting last week. While crossing the river, which was very much swollen by the late thaw, Mr. Palmer lost his footing and fell head-foremost into the raging flood. But for the timely assistance rendered him by Mr. Denham and two dogs, he would most certainly have drowned.

The Coquille Times says that Dead river is the name of a slough that cuts across from one part of the Willamette river to another, among the islands near Booneville, and in the years gone by there was a rapid current from west to east. Of late the water became sluggish in its movement, and a year ago ceased to move at all. This winter it runs quite rapidly from east to west.

A French soldier, in uniform, attracted much attention to himself in Grant's Pass last week. He deserted at Madagascar on a ship bound for Australia, and two British officers paid his way to San Francisco, whence he tried the American plan of beating his way on trains to The Dalles, where he has a friend, says the Grant's Pass Courier. He could not talk English, and would have been in a bad way, had he found no other Frenchmen in Grant's Pass.

The $500 subscribed for assisting in the purchase of a diamond drill for exploring our coal fields has been collected and turned over to T. T. Nicholas and his associates, who have ordered the drill and will have it here before long. As soon as it arrives it will be put in place and the work of prospecting will be pushed vigorously, until the question is settled. That coal with paying veins will be discovered, is our firm conviction, and one which we hope to see speedily realized.

Mr. A. J. Anderson, who lives on Chenoweth creek, about three miles west of town, complains that a big sorrel horse came to his place some time ago and he wants the owner to call and get him. He realizes that horses are not worth advertising and certainly not worth feeding. The horse has four white feet, a white spot in face and the top of his nose is also white. He is branded J. C. on the left shoulder. If the owner will call and take him away, Mr. Anderson will be pleased to have him do so.

Moro came very near being the scene of a tragedy last week. John Harris and his son had some business with J. C. Burkes, and went to his office. They failed to come to an understanding. In fact, Mr. Burkes claims to have reasons to believe the elder Harris was going to use a knife on him, and stepped to his desk for his gun. He was grappled by Harris Jr., while the old gent wrestled the gun from him and hammered him over the head with it, and laying him out. Jack will have a sore head for a few days.—Wasco News.

DIED.

In The Dalles, Saturday, Jan. 30th, Mrs. Emma Krauss, aged 71 years.

Mrs. Krauss came here with her husband in 1863, and has been a resident of Wasco county ever since. She leaves four children—Mrs. T. H. Johnston of Dufur, Mrs. David Creighton, Mrs. Ben Korten and Mr. George Krauss, all at present living here. Funeral Tuesday.

For Sheepmen.

We print by request the following section from the Washington bill now before the legislature, which seriously affects the sheep business in this section:

SECTION 4. No person, company or corporation shall bring or cause to be brought into this state any sheep or band of sheep without first, and within three months prior thereto, obtaining from a sheep inspector, duly appointed and qualified under this act, a certificate under the official seal of such inspector, to the effect that the said sheep, or band of sheep, have been personally inspected by such inspector, and that all such sheep are sound and healthy, and free from scab or scabies, or other infectious or contagious disease, and no person, company or corporation shall move, or cause to be moved, any sheep or band of sheep from one county in this state to another county without first, and within six months prior thereto, obtaining such certificate as is above mentioned. It shall be the duty of any sheep inspector, upon request of any person, to visit and inspect any band of sheep within his county, or within five miles of the line of the state, unless he has inspected such band of sheep within three months prior thereto, and if, at the time of such inspection, such sheep are healthy and free from scab or scabies, and all infectious and contagious diseases, he shall issue to the owner or person in charge thereof a certificate to that effect; and if not healthy and free from scab and all contagious and infectious diseases, he shall revoke any certificate which may have been issued by him, and the person holding such certificate shall forthwith, on demand, deliver the same to such inspector.

Food Supply of Nations.

One of the advantages which this country enjoys over most of its neighbors lies in the fact that no power on earth can cut off our supply of provisions. If it be true that a man can fight as long as he has something to eat, we could continue a conflict for an indefinite period. The human stomach, in the last analysis, is the most important element of warfare. Stomach full, courage up high water mark; stomach empty, courage oozes out at the fingers' tips.

Russia perhaps will compare favorably with us in this respect, but none of the other great Powers. The Siberian wheat belt is quite able to meet all possible demands on it, and the new railway which runs through it like a spinal column would furnish the necessary transportation.

As to the rest of the world, hardly a nation can supply its own needs. It looks to its neighbors even in ordinary times, and in time of war it would be in straits unless measures were taken to keep the back door open for the importation of what the commissariat calls for. Oddly enough it is the mouth—which is sometimes apt to talk too much—that inaugurates a war, and after it has been begun the mouths of the troops must be filled or the order will soon be given to stack arms and go on a hunt for provender.

Heart Party.

About thirty of the friends of Miss Pearl Williams were entertained at the cozy home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. French, on Fourth street, last night, and for several hours enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. "Hearts" was the game of the evening, the score cards being in a heart shape, and the score indicated by gilt or scarlet hearts, as the player lost or won. Miss Virginia Marden and Mr. Victor Marden won the least hearts, and consequently the head prizes, while Mr. John Weigel was presented with an immense pair of carpet slippers as the foot prize.

After one of the most tempting of lunches was disposed of, the celebrated Comb band, under the leadership of Prof. Williams, furnished some of the most enlivening music, which would have done credit to a Chinese band, while the guests gracefully tripped through the intricate figures of the old-fashioned Virginia reel, which caused much merriment, and put the more modern "two-step" in the shade.

As the evening ended amid much laughter and song, and the sleigh-bells reminded them that the hour for departure had arrived, "Good night" was regretfully said.

Scalp Bounty.

Senator Michell has introduced a bill providing for levying a tax on sheep of not more than half a cent a head, and also a tax on other property, to make a sum equal to that raised from taxing the sheep, the whole to constitute a fund for paying a bounty for the killing of coyotes. The bill is a good one, with perhaps one easily-remedied feature. This is the appointment of scalp inspectors. As the scalps have to be presented to the county treasurer, it would perhaps be better to have the county clerk, or some other officer, look after the scalps, instead of having an officer in each precinct. It would prove the more economical plan.

School Meeting.

At the school meeting this afternoon a special tax of 6 mills was levied. On motion a petition was drawn up and signed, asking the directors to call a special meeting for the purpose of voting upon the bonding the district for $20,000 to meet indebtedness, and to erect an eight-room brick school house on the present academy grounds, and to have the same completed by September 1898.

The W. C. T. U. delegates to the woman's congress, held an enthusiastic temperance meeting at the aid institute on Sunday afternoon. There was a notable array of speakers, including Laura O. Chant, Mrs. Barker, Rev. Anna Shaw and John G. Wooley. The favorite speaker of the evening was Clara Hoffman. The mere mention of name of the noted Kansas city woman was received with applause. In argument, in manner, in voice, in skill, in wit and pathos, she is effective. She combines the impressiveness of a statesmanlike view, with the earnestness and tenderness of a woman's heart. In the evening Mrs. Hoffman delivered another address on the "Problem Which Faces Us." It was a great speech and will long be remembered by the people who live in the elegant homes around Garfield Park.—Advance.

Precedence.

A lady was entertaining at dinner the other day quite informally an old clergyman and a few relatives. The children were allowed to come in with the dessert. On rising from the table the latter stood aside to allow the white-haired priest to leave the room in advance. He, however, pushing the youngsters through the doorway, said, laughingly: "Angels first!" Glancing next at the hostess, as if inviting her to precede him, he was met by a wave of the hand from the latter, who said with great promptness: "Saints next!"—Troy Times.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from the first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store. (5)
