Bob, the big dun-colored cat belonging to the Snipes-Kinners drugstore is missing. Information leading to his recovery will lift a load of care from the hearts of all connected with the store.

The state senate has discharged all the clerks, and will wiggle along the few days it has left, without their assistance. It would have been the part of economy to have discharged them before they were hired.

The masquerade tonight promises to be a grand affair, and will be notable from the numerous handsome costumes. Everybody who does not go masked is going to look on, and it will be a scene well worth seeing.

Yesterday's rain terminated with a sudden drop of the temperature, resulting in a light fall of snow on the surrounding hills. It was nearly all gone by noon and the day has been one of the finest of the winter.

A jury to try Osburn for the robbery of Rothery was selected this afternoon. The evidence is all circumstantial. It is expected the trial will be completed tomorrow, and the entire panel of jurors discharged for the term.

Stock to the amount of $3500 has been subscribed to build a creamery at Corvallis. Yesterday the stockholders met and elected directors, and decided to have work on the erection of a suitable building for the creamery begun at once.

Tuesday night two gillnet fishermen destroyed the fishtrap of J. N. Lane, on the Nasel river, Wash., by cutting it out with brushhooks. The trap was located a short distance below Nasel and was constructed strictly in accordance with the law.

Mr. Parkins, the willowy and graceful tonsorial artist, shows symptoms of having a desire to know something of the school teaching business, and we have heard it stated he was taking the examination at this meeting of examiners.

Do not fail to call on Dr. Lannerberg, the eye specialist, and have your eyes examined free of charge. If you suffer with headache or nervousness you undoubtedly have imperfect vision that, if corrected, will benefit you for life. Office in the Vogt block.

Looked upon from a purely literary standpoint, the communications of Mr. Anderson to the Dufur Dispatch are the best articles on the Salem situation that have appeared in print. M. J. Anderson handles a lead pencil as forcibly as a bear does a roasting ear.

Senator Dufur was expected home at noon today, but could not get away from Salem. It was expected also that he would defend Osborne, whose trial began on the opening of court this afternoon, but as he did not come, Judge Bennett appeared for the defendant.

The last of the salmon eggs from California have hatched at the Clackamas hatchery, and that institution now shelters about 3,200,000 salmon fry, taxing its capacity to the utmost. In about five weeks most of the young fish will be turned loose to shift for themselves.

The football game that was to be played between The Dalles and Albina, is off. One of the reasons being that the Albina boys want to be guaranteed $39 to pay expenses, and as the 22d is not generally observed as a holiday, the boys here could not see their way to get even and so the game has been called off.

Viv French, Jack Powers and Ed Patterson went out rabbit hunting a few days ago, each armed with a mighty 22 rifle, and after traveling half a day they struck town hungry and without a rabbit, just as a country boy came into town with a wagon load of them. The boy at once found a market for three jack rabbits, and the young nimrods each got home with one.

Charles Snyder, a deckhand on the steamer Ruth, was drowned in the Willamette river at Corvallis yesterday. The Ruth had been loading flour, and in swinging down stream, caught the Gypsy, which was moored near. Several deckhands from the Ruth stepped on board the Gypsy and separated the boats, and in stepping back to the Ruth, Snyder missed his footing and fell into the water.

A petition prepared by Register Wilson of the land office at Burns, to the department at Washington, is receiving numerous signatures. It is for a topographical and geological survey of a portion of Oregon extending west from Snake river between the base line and the third standard parallel, in the vicinity of Vale. Within this district is a large scope of mineral country.

The Arlington house at Junction City was entirely consumed by fire Wednesday morning. As the train passed the city at 3:40 a. m., the hotel was in flames. The fire company was laboring in vain against it with a weak stream from one nozzle. There were two guests in the hotel and their trunks were gotten out, but nearly all the contents of the building were burned. How the fire started is not known, but it was probably of incendiary origin.

Perhaps the first black walnut lumber ever manufactured on the Pacific coast from Pacific coast timber was sawed a few days ago at the mill of H. S. Horton, west of Monroe, says the Corvallis Times. The logs come from old Lancaster, two or three miles from Junction, and the trees were planted while the commonwealth was still in swaddling clothes. The logs were in dimensions from twelve to fifteen inches, and only a few hundred feet of the lumber was made. The fiber is tough and the grain susceptible of the high polish usually seen in walnut furniture.

S. H. Horton, writing to the Corvallis Times, says that the only survivor of the four Benton county members of the Oregon constitutional convention is Hon. H. B. Nichols, who, at a ripe old age, full of the honor of a well-rounded life, lives quietly on his farm west of Monroe. Mr. Nichols was a member of the constitutional convention, a member of the last territorial legislature, and a member from Benton county of the first state legislature. He is now almost, if not quite, 80 years of age, and a remarkable fact in this connection is that he reads the finest print without the aid of spectacles.

The hold-up of the legislature prevented Senator Dufur coming up yesterday, and his not coming home held up the trial of Osburn; this held up the jury one day, preventing them being discharged, and as many of the latter are from Hood River and should be attending to their berry patches, that industry may be said to have been held up too. The holding up of the berry business will make less money for the merchants, who will, therefore, not buy as much in Portland, their business being slack will make times harder in Portland and so eventually it will happen that Simon will have less plunder, and so he will have achieved the holding of himself up, and that would be the most virtuous yet he could do if he would carry it to a finish.

SHORT LINE REORGANIZATION

Chief Solicitor Goes to Salt Lake for the Closing Formalities.

The fact that Zera Snow, of Portland, chief counsel for the Oregon Short Line & Utah Northern, went East today on business along the lines of his company, indicates that the work of reorganization is being pursued. In fact, Mr. Snow himself stated that he was going to attend to the final formalities, though he did not give any intimation as to when the new officials will assume charge of the properties. It has all along been asserted that the reorganization would take place on about February 15th. It will probably be somewhat later than that date.

It is reasonably certain that W. H. Bancroft will be the manager, and that means that the Union Pacific and Short Line will be operated in a common interest.

Railroad people are wondering what means the reported agreement between the bondholders of the Northern Pacific, Union Pacific and several other roads in connection with O. R. & N. bondholders. Some assert that the lines between Wallula and Portland will be used for the O. R. & N., Northern Pacific and Great Northern trains, and that the Oregon Railway & Navigation tracks will be kept hot with a largely increased traffic. But no one yet knows anything definite, who will say anything for the information of the public.

Mr. Snow has resigned his position as solicitor for the O. R. & N. Co., and has been appointed chief solicitor for the Short Line & Northern.

Strike at Robinsonville.

The news was brought to this city last evening, says the Baker Democrat, by a gentleman who came in over the Sumpter Valley Railroad direct from Robinsonville that a wonderfully rich ore strike had been made in the Don Juan mine, the property of Kelly & Allen.

The Democrat's informant states that when he left the Don Juan mine on Tuesday the ledge in the crosscut was twelve feet wide and the ore was being sacked and would go at least $50 to the sack.

From this same mine last week five tons of ore netted thirty-five ounces of gold, or $560.

The owners of the Don Juan are comparatively poor men and have contended with many hardships in the development of their property, but at last it would seem that a fortune is in wait for them.

A Tender Conscience.

Walter Wyland, who was confined in the Grant county jail, on a charge of horse stealing, made his escape last Saturday by sawing off the bolts holding the door leading from the jail corridor into the sheriff's office. Wyland had been given the liberty of the corridor on the promise not to make any attempt to escape. The sheriff and a posse took after the escaped prisoner, and about 5 o'clock in the afternoon one of the men caught Wyland and started in with him, but when the sheriff caught up with them Wyland drew a razor and cut his own throat, but did not succeed in killing himself. The reason he gave was that he was ashamed to face the sheriff after having lied to him about not attempting to escape.

Charged With Larceny.

A man named A. Clemens was arrested today charged with larceny. Mr. Haight, who is in from the southern part of the county, owns a house near the fair ground, and being in the city, thought he would take a look at his property, which he supposed to be unoccupied. He found he was mistaken, for Clemens was in possession, occupying the upper story. Quite a number of articles were found in the rooms, evidently brought there by Clemens, and just how he came in possession of them will be one of the things he will be permitted to explain. Among the articles found were a couple of railroad lanterns, two overcoats and some live chickens.

"Thou Shalt Not."

The next of the series of lectures at the Congregational church will be given Tuesday night next, by Judge Lowell of Pendleton, the subject being "Thou Shalt Not." Judge Lowell is one of the ablest speakers in the Northwest, and will furnish plenty of food for thought in his hour's discourse. As we understand it, there will be but one other lecture to follow his, which will complete the series. So far the lectures have all been exceptionally good, and Judge Lowell's will serve to raise the standard still higher.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

A DARING BURGLARY.

Hassett Home in La Grande Entered by Thieves.

LA GRANDE, Or., Feb. 11.—A daring theft, yielding a substantial quantity of plunder to the thieves, was committed in the Hassett home, adjoining the post-office building. The articles taken include three diamond rings, a set of earrings, a draft for $200, and a $20 greenback, all of which belonged to Mrs. Hassett. It is not known exactly when the theft was committed, but the discovery that a small sack, which contained valuables, had been stolen, was made yesterday morning. A ban of secrecy had been placed over the affair in the hope that the officers might discover some clew that would lead to the arrest of the thieves and the recovery of the property. The loss is estimated at $1000. No trace of the thieves has been found.

THE BEAN AUTOMATIC SPRAY PUMP.

Is, unquestionably, the most successful and perfect working Spraying Device yet invented.

It is a universal testimony that more, as well as better, work can be accomplished with the Bean Spray Pump than with any other pump on the market.

With this pump one man can charge the receptable and leave it to direct the spray just where it is wanted, and thus with sufficient hose pass from tree to tree. The solution is delivered in a fine mist or spray, penetrating every nook and corner, thus doing better and more effective work than is possible by any other method, and with no waste whatever of solution.

For further particulars see special circular or call upon or correspond with.
