The only Republican Daily Newspaper in Wasco County.

THURSDAY, FEB. 18, 1897

EASTERN OFFICE—230 to 234 Temple Court, N. Y. City. E. KATZ, Agent.

SLIGHTLY SPECTACULAR.

An article on our local page gives an account of the killing of two cats by the Rev. W. L. Laufman in the pulpit of his church, the killing being done to illustrate the effect of tobacco. The cats were poisoned with nicotine. We may be, and perhaps are, a trifle old-fashioned, but it strikes us that the killing of inoffensive animals in the pulpits of our churches is slightly out of place.

The same preacher advertised that on the next Sunday he would have the stomach of a drunkard on exhibition to illustrate the effects of alcohol on the human system. It might be better if the force of the lesson were increased by removing the stomach from the drunkard in the presence of the congregation. This might be a little tough on the drunkard, but it would be a splendid illustration for the congregation.

The article in question says "the church was packed." There might be quite a sermon preached on the above text, but it seems to us the text needs no elaborating.

THEY SHOULD MARRY.

The New York Sun is raising the question, "Should old bachelors marry?" Certainly they should, and the sooner the better. The best thing in the world to any man of a soul is a good wife. A man can scarcely be said to begin to live until he has loved and married. Life in old age is full of dreariness in some upper room of a boarding house. It is no use saying "marriage is a lottery." There are millions of good women in the land waiting to make homes of comfort and peace and happiness for the millions of bachelors who are hesitating. There are good reasons why men and many women do not marry, and they are valid. But that does not change the fact that there are multitudes of single people who have no such reasons, who would do well to marry.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

We clipped the above from the Eugene Guard, owned and edited by Ira L. Campbell, erstwhile an intense bachelor, but who about ten days ago slipped his head into the matrimonial halter. Under the circumstances the statement should be given additional weight, for Campbell, when he indorsed the sentiment, spoke by card.

There can no longer be any excuse for some of our bachelors continuing lives of single loneliness.

NOT APT.

The Oregonian today says: It is a severe labor for Oregon to be delivered of Mitchell and Mitchellism. But the state must take the pains of the deliverance. They will soon be over. The period of the gestation of this infamy has been thirty years. The final delivery is not to be effected, of course, without rueful throes. But the state is now to be delivered, at last.

The Oregonian's illustration is not a happy one. Suppose the state is delivered of Mitchell, will it be in better condition with Joe Simon, the Oregonian, Jonathan Bourne and thirteen Populists in his place. What pangs shall accompany the delivery of that litter?

The Oregonian today says "the Benson house will do nothing to bring about organization." This is perhaps the most persistently stuck-toe lie in that paper's vast repertoire. It knows the Benson house has done everything in its power to organize the house, and it knows that it (the Oregonian) has done all it can to prevent organization.

It will be a relief to those who, in order to get the associated press dispatches, are compelled to buy the Oregonian, when the legislature adjourns. The Oregonian, by its persistent lying concerning the legislative hold-up, has lost what little respect the people had for it, and those who, at one time, had faith in its statements, will believe it no more. It has indorsed the action of Joe Simon and his little coterie of traitors, and has assisted in depriving the Republican party of the majority in the United States senate, to which it is entitled. It has done this to satisfy the spleen of its editor. Only that.

Greece has set an example the larger governments of Europe might follow with profit to themselves and benefit to mankind. Little Greece dared to defy the sultan, and defending the people of her religious faith, helped herself to the island of Crete. The powers would perhaps follow her example if each were not afraid the others would get the largest slice of the Turkey. Greece has helped herself, and has shown the balance of the world that it was a very every task to teach the Turk a lesson.

The immigration restriction bill, that in nowise restricts, has been passed by congress, and only awaits the signature of the president to become a law. The only thing on earth it will accomplish is to furnish a place for a few more clerks in the customs department.

Trying His Own Medicine.

The average age of doctors is much higher than that of any other calling—it is no less than 56. Their great pull consists, no doubt, in their opportunities of observing what treatment is most efficacious with their patients. A certain physician is said by James Fagan to have let this particular eat out of the bag to one to whom he was paying marked attention. "I am very much interested in your case," he said, "because I have the same complaint myself; and if this medicine really does you good I shall try it."

The Usual Course.

Mrs. Greathead—Why is it that since you were nominated for an office you have been drinking so heavily?
Mr. Greathead—Can't be helped, m' dear; I musht spend m' time 'mong the boys, m' dear, an' try t' prove to them I'm worthy of the suffrages o' the people, m' dear.—N. Y. Weekly.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by the use of two bottles. For past three years has been tending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottle free at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug store. (2)
