WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Delft ware, the latest, in cooking utensils, at Maier & Benton's. 12-dlw

Pease & Mays have opened an elegant line of ladies' shirt waists and collars and cuffs—all up to date things. You must see them.

The Fossil Journal is informed on good authority that a Crook county preacher's wife, aged 58 years, gave birth to a child a few weeks ago.

The right-of-way contracts for the road from Biggs to Wasco contain a clause that work must be begun by the first of May and prosecuted diligently until the road is completed. If the road is to be built, it will not be long until that fact is known.

The funeral of ex-Senator Dolph took place in Portland this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the First Baptist church. There were no services at the house, and at the cemetery they were private, the family and a few intimate friends only being present.

Do not fail to call on Dr. Lannerberg, the eye specialist, and have your eyes examined free of charge. If you suffer with headache or nervousness you undoubtedly have imperfect vision that, if corrected, will benefit you for life. Office in the Vogt block.

There is more or less complaint about the weather, but what's the use? We must have about so much of every kind, and if we don't get it at one time, we do at another. Besides, if we don't like the weather, we have never yet heard of any remedy or any way of changing it.

Art Studio. What is it? If you go to the Good Templar's Art Studio social tomorrow night, you will find it not only amusing, but instructive. A short program will be rendered, after which the art studio will be exhibited, followed by a "Mystery Tea" for luncheon. See program.

Yesterday was "Ladies' Day" at the club, and from all accounts they ran things to suit themselves. We understand that after discussing the recent minstrel show and expressing their opinion concerning the roofleaking, they set up a higher "standard," and will hereafter see to it that their gymnastic efforts and modern Terpsichorean exercises shall not be commented upon.

Judge Bradshaw tells us the weather was very rough in Sherman county during his stay there, the severe cold being accompanied by high winds. It was feared by the stockmen that considerable stock would perish, and as lambing had commenced in places, it was quite certain that many lambs will die. The farmers also fear some damage to their wheat where it is not covered, from freezing out.

We understand a proposition has been made to the local minstrel troupe to give their entertainment at Walla Walla, Pendleton and Heppner. It is not known yet whether this will be done, but we want to say right now that, if the boys go, the towns named will see one of the best minstrel shows ever on the coast. We will stake our reputation on the boys making a grand hit, and in this connection we want it understood that we think more of our reputation than lots of men do of their wives.

Funeral of Silas W. Davis.

The funeral of the late Silas W. Davis took place from the family residence, on Fourth street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Jenkins, an old friend of the deceased, preaching the sermon. The funeral was quite largely attended, the sterling worth and upright character of the deceased having won him a host of friends. The local lodge of Odd Fellows, of which order he was a member, attended in a body.

Silas W. Davis was a man of large heart and generous impulses, and leaves beside his wife and numerous family, a number of adopted children, whose condition excited his sympathy to such an extent that he raised them as his own. They, as well as his own children, have lost a kind and good father.

The Secretaries.

There are but few persons who do not at some time during the year desire to know who the heads of the departments are. For the benefit of those we re-print the list, with the advice to clip it for your scrap book.

Secretary of the state, John Sherman of Ohio.

Secretary of the treasury, Lyman J. Gage of Illinois.

Secretary of war, Russell A. Alger of Michigan.

Attorney-general, Joseph McKenna of California.

Postmaster-general, James A. Gary of Maryland.

Secretary of the navy, John D. Long of Massachusetts.

Secretary of the interior, Cornelius N. Bliss of New York.

Secretary of agriculture, James A. Wilson of Iowa.

Last Night's show.

The Carnita Company had a fairly good house last night, better really than could have been expected when it is considered that there has been something in the show line nearly every night for the past month. Mr. Whiting has a fine baritone voice, and responded to a deserved encore. Instead of Favart, the Taylor sisters did the dancing, and did it very well. The sceneoscope did not work well for some reason, and that part of the show was like several others—much of a disappointment. Carnita was all right, and her dance, in the colored lights, when her gaudy garments seemed aflame, was a thing of beauty, and was well worth the money it cost to see.

Buying Up Cattle.

Grant Copeland and M. McDonald are in the cattle business this spring on a large scale, says the Walla Walla Statesman. A drove of fifty head, purchased from farmers, have been driven to the Copeland ranch. These men have about 400 head at the present time, and also about 2,700 head at Lewiston and Pomeroy. The cattle will be pastured until 4,000 are obtained, when they will be shipped to points in the East. It is intended to ship the cattle in May, one trainload of which will be stall-fed beef steers. Copeland & McDonald shipped a trainload of twelve cars to Omaha last Saturday.
