

The Dalles Daily Chronicle.

The only Republican Daily Newspaper in Wasco County.

MONDAY, - - MARCH 22, 1897

EASTERN OFFICE—230 to 234 Temple Court, N. Y. City. E. KATZ, Agent.

NO SURRENDER.

The Pendleton Tribune, in discussing the Oregon senatorial question, among other things says:

The Mitchell Republicans and the anti Mitchell Republicans must unite and as Republicans vote for a Republican. Mitchell is now out of the contest, and while there may be those, including the Tribune, who may think, and with good reason, that Mitchell would have been elected had the house organized, all good Republicans, with the best interests of their party at heart, can well afford to forget and forgive, and take for granted that after all perhaps the elimination of Mitchellism from the politics of this state has been for the best. The Tribune is now willing to concede this in the interest of party fealty. But let us have a senator by some hook or crook.

The people want a senator without either hook or crook, but one elected as the constitution provides, not one appointed by the governor, or to put it properly, not one selected by a combination of Populists, Democrats and Simon Republicans, the whole combination being a minority of the legislature.

Against Mr. Corbett personally we have nothing to say; against the manner of his getting the office we have always protested, always will protest. There can be no compromise with dishonor; no palliating of a deliberate violation of the constitution and the laws of the state; no surrender by the majority of the Republicans to a small minority; no treaty nor ratification of any treaty by the Republican party of the state with those who called the Populists and Democrats to their aid to thwart the will of the party. The interests of "party fealty" demand that party treachery be not rewarded. If this mean party war, so be it; if it mean a battle that may for a year or two retire the Republican party from power in this state, let it go at that. There is going to be no cowardly settlement in this matter. Each side realizes this; realizes that one or the other must go to the wall, and all appearance of peace is at the best but an armed neutrality.

"One of the greatest factors in the return of prosperity, which we are all anxiously waiting for," remarked a Chicago manufacturer recently, "will be the collapse of the steel pool. Carnegie and Rockefeller are reaching out for the markets of the world in the steel trade. This means an enormous production of steel and the employment of an army of American workmen at good wages, though the price of rails will be lower. Heretofore the greatest obstacle to European trade has been the cost of transportation. Carnegie and Rockefeller will float their steel down the Ohio and the Mississippi to New Orleans and on barges, which are now being constructed. From that point the steel will be shipped as ballast in cotton-carrying steamers, which heretofore have used water ballast."

When readers understand that the newspapers that are making the hardest fight against "new journalism" are doing so for the purpose of beating their rivals and securing patronage for themselves, they can understand also the high morality which those same papers possess. As for us, we prefer the new journalism that gives the news to the dreary platitudes of the "unco good" sheets that hold up their hands in horror at news, and sell themselves to the enemies of the people.

Senator Ingalls reported the Corbett-Fitzsimmons argument for the San Francisco Examiner. Slowly, but surely, Ingalls is redeeming himself. Though handicapped by being a member of the United States senate for eighteen years, Ingalls has risen superior to his evil associates and has blossomed out as a full-fledged reporter. Its a long step from the United States senate to the proud position of special representative of a great journal at a grand social function; but Ingalls was equal to the occasion, and gave a creditable write-up.

A bill to prohibit the wearing of tight on the stage has passed the second reading in the New York legislature, and bids fair to pass the house and become a law. We always knew those New York people were "racy," but really had no idea they had reached so acute a stage. And yet with this example of the legislature before them, some good people object to new journalism.

Mark Hanna is already paying the penalty of greatness. It is said that a combination has been formed in Ohio for electing a legislature that will not return him to the senate, the working men and labor unions being behind the movement.

Sale of School District Bonds.

School District No. 29, in Wasco county, Oregon, at a meeting regularly called therefor, having voted to bond said district in the sum of $3,000, to be in six bonds of $500 each, payable absolutely in twenty years and redeemable at the pleasure of said district after ten years, with interest coupons attached, interest payable semi-annually. Principal and interest payable at the office of the county treasurer of said county or at such place as may be designated in the city of New York, at the option of the purchaser, and the rate of interest shall be such as may be designated in the bid which may be accepted, not exceeding the rate of 8 per cent.

Therefore, in pursuance of the law in such cases I will receive sealed bids for said bonds as above described, at my office in Dalles City, Oregon, up to the hour of 2 o'clock p. m. of the 21st day of April, 1897, all bids to be accompanied by certified check for 5 per cent. of the amount of the bid, the successful bidder to furnish blank bonds. Bids for less than par will not be considered. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.
