FOOL LEGISLATION.

A negro has brought suit against a barber at Oakland, California, for refusing to shave him. The suit is brought to test the recent civil rights bill passed by the California legislature. It is such pieces of what Artemus Ward calls "dampfoolishness" that makes the average citizen tired. Against the African there exists a feeling that could hardly be classed as prejudice, but which draws the line between Caucasian and African as distinctly as nature has done. The races will not mix, nor should they. The self-respecting, self-reliant Negro does not seek to do those things which he feels are distasteful to others. He may have an honest pride in his race; he may feel that he is as intelligent, as honest, and as much entitled to respect as any other man on earth; but he knows that the way to maintain that self-respect is to not force himself into the company of those who do not desire him. He knows his place, whether it be higher or lower than that of others, and he keeps it.

And we want to say right here that the Negro who brought the suit to compel someone else to serve him is not half the ignorant fellow was who introduced the bill, or the members of the legislature who passed it. Men cannot be legislated into equality, and race prejudices cannot be removed by law.

Everything points to a prosperous year in The Dalles. The season has been backward about coming forward, and the result has been beneficial to the fruit industry. It is expected the crop of strawberries at Hood River, Mosier and here will be an extraordinarily large one, and the apple crop should also be large. The area in wheat is at least not less than the average, and as the ground is thoroughly soaked, the crop will be a large one. Prices also bid fair to remain where they are; if, indeed, they do not go higher, and this is as important as having a good crop. The wool clip will be up to the average, and while prices will not go up with a bound on account of the tariff, they will advance steadily, and be far better than last year. Since the roads have gotten into passable condition, freight teams are beginning to arrive from Prineville and other interior points, and business is steadily improving. The outlook is very cheerful, and we believe that our business men's books this fall will show a larger and more profitable trade than they have for several years.

Some fears are expressed that there is to be an unusually high water the idea being based on the heavy snows around the head of the Columbia and Snake. While it is true the snow fall has been heavy, that alone is not sufficient to predict high water upon that depending entirely on the manner in which the snow melts. With a late spring, followed by continuous warm weather, there is snow enough almost any year to cause a flood; but as the Saake usually is falling before the Columbia reaches its flood, the lower river is large enough to carry away the waters without damage. A few cold nights or days will kill any chance of very high water, and these are pretty certain to happen.

There is only one good thing that we can think of resulting from the failure of the legislature to meet, and that is that the salmon fishing was let alone. Every year, or rather every session of the legislature, an attempt is made by those fishing on the lower river to get up some scheme to prevent salmon being caught by any persons but themselves, the particular object being to do away with fish wheels. As this is about the only means by which they can be caught on the upper river, their abolition would turn the whole business over to the fishermen of the lower river. No such bill can ever pass, but the legislature failing to meet saved the trouble of fighting it.

"Where is Miss Stapleton?" is a question being asked by many of our exchanges. Mrs. Annetta Green of Alabama is in Portland, Oregon, looking for her niece, Helen Ida Stapleton, who formerly lived in Seattle, for the avowed purpose of making her her heir, and bequeathing her the sum of $200,000. We have always been reticent about our past, but we feel now that in order to relieve Mrs. Green's mind and prevent the good old lady from being imposed on, the veil should be lifted. We are Miss Helen Ida Stapleton.

Two years ago R. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook, N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; to-day Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of communities. Where ever the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

The man who eats because he is hungry is, thus far, on the level with the brutes. The man who stops eating the moment his hunger is appeased is the wise man. Nature needs no more food than he calls for. Continued excess brings about indigestion or dyspepsia, with loss of flesh, strength, sleep, ambition and mental power, and an accumulation of aches, pains and many dangerous local maladies.

The stomach now can do nothing alone. We must appeal to some artificially digested food which can also digest other food. That is to say, we must use the Shaker Digestive Cordial. The effect is prompt and cheering. The chronic pain and distress ceases. Appetite presently revives. Flesh and vigor gradually comes back, and the sufferer recovers. But he must be careful in future. A trial bottle for 10 cents.

Laxol is the best medicine for children. Doctors recommend it in place of Castor Oil.
