JAPAN TAKE WARNING

Interference Will Not be Permitted in Hawaii.

SENATOR VOORHEES PASSES AWAY

The Greek Irregulars Invade Macedonia, and the Cry Goes up as it did 3000 Years Ago.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The administration has been greatly disquieted by news from Hawaii, especially the facts that are set forth in the news dispatches, following as they do the rather dry but very important statements made in the last report from United States Consul-General Mills at Honolulu. The latter, after referring briefly to the attempt of the Hawaiian government to deport the lot of Japanese coolies who had arrived from Japan in violation of the immigration laws, gave in a short table a comparative exhibit of the numerical strength of the various nationalities represented in the population of the islands. From this it appears, and to the fact Consul-General Mills called special attention that the Japanese population was second, and that if the "peaceful invasion" continued at the same rate it has been increasing during the past three years, it would only be a matter of a year or two before the Japanese were the dominant power in the islands.

Dispatches supplemented this statement by statements of the turning back of Japanese and of threatened resistance to the deportation.

When the Philadelphia sailed from San Diego a day or two ago, it was said it was the purpose of the navy to substitute a more creditable vessel at Honolulu for the Marion. It now develops that the Marion is likely to be retained on the station, instead of giving place to the Philadelphia; and, although it is not admitted that any particular significance can be attached to the fact that the United States will have two warships at Honolulu, it may fairly be inferred that the administration feels that the time is approaching when it must give some actual demonstration of the weight it attaches to the declared policy of the government contained in the joint resolution passed by congress and approved by President Cleveland, that the United States will not permit foreign interference in the affairs of the Hawaiian islands.

SENATOR VOORHEES.

Death of the "Tall Sycamore of the Wabash."

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Daniel Wolsey Voorhees, ex-United States senator from the state of Indiana, died at 5 o'clock this morning at his home in this city.

The senator had been in bad health for several years, and for at least two years past had taken little part in the proceedings in the senate. He has been a constant sufferer from rheumatism of the heart, and his friends, therefore, had come to expect that they might hear of his death suddenly. The last reports of him, however, were that he was showing some signs of improvement, and his health, therefore, while not entirely unexpected, caused a shock.

Senator Voorhees' death was caused by an attack of angina pectoris. His health was so poor during the recent political campaign that he could not participate in it, but after his return to Washington in November he seemed to improve in health. Two weeks ago the old rheumatic trouble returned and three days ago his condition became alarming, but the senator did not confine himself to his bed and the family felt no immediate alarm. It was not indeed until half an hour before the final summons came that any one realized death was near.

The senator's son, Rees N. Voorhees, had remained in the room with his father during the night and was awakened at about 4 o'clock this morning by his father, who was then suffering great pain in the region of the heart. He refused, however, to allow a physician to be called, saying the pain had passed away. Half an hour later he appeared much better. He got out of bed and walked to the bathroom, his son being with him.

When they entered the hallway the senator was attacked by a more severe spasm than he had yet experienced, and fell into a semi-conscious condition into his son's arms. The latter carried the dying man back to his bed and summoned Dr. Shoup. It was too late, however, and the ex-senator soon passed away without regaining full consciousness. His daughter, Miss Hallie Voorhees, and the physician were present when he died.

The remains will be taken to Terre Haute, Ind., the senator's home for many years, for interment.

THE NEWS IN ATHENS.

It is Believed the Invasion Will Be Followed by a General Uprising.

LONDON, April 11.—The Times' Athens correspondent says:

The news of the incursion into Turkish territory has been received here with jubilation. The general belief is that nothing can now restrain the army, which is bound to follow across the frontier in a few days.

The Athens newspapers reflect the popular enthusiasm and contain highly optimistic forecasts of the campaign of the band in Macedonia, where its presence is expected to exert a magic influence on the Christian population, and to be a signal for a general uprising. The former exploits of the famous insurgent leaders accompanying the expedition afford, it is believed, a guarantee of splendid success in the future.

One newspaper says that the die is now cast; that a successful beginning has been made; that it is all over with diplomacy and identical notes of blockades, and that the eloquent voice of the rifle has spoken at last.

A telegram from Arta tonight says that Greek bands are crossing the frontier at various points, and that war seems inevitable.

Greece Suppressed the News.

LONDON, April 11.—The correspondent of the Daily News at Larissa will say tomorrow:

As an alleged indication of the connivance of the Greek government at the raid last Friday, it is pointed out that orders were sent to all the telegraph stations of the country on the day the band started to refuse to accept messages in cipher, while open telegrams announcing the fact of the raid were not to be accepted. This recalls the sudden derangement of Greek telegraphic communication on the day when Colonel Vassos started for Crete, preventing the diplomats from advising their governments of the expedition.

It is rumored that the resignation of M. Delyannis and the cabinet is possible and that the powers have again offered governorship of Crete to Prince Waldemar of Denmark, but that the Duc de Charles has advised his son-in-law to decline a candidature which is opposed by Italy and Austria.

Details of the Invasion.

ATHENS, April 10.—Dispatches from Larissa give the details of the invasion Macedonia by a force of irregular Greek troops. Three thousand men, it is announced, crossed the frontier on Wednesday. The expedition was commanded by ex-officers of the regular army of Greece and included a band of Italian volunteers, commanded by Colonel Cipriani. All the Greeks were well armed, and had been equipped at the expense of the Ethniké Hetairia, a Greek secret society, which has been the root and branch of the present crisis, practically controlling the country.

The irregulars were given an enthusiastic send-off by the Thessalians and Greek troops. The latter made no attempt to prevent the departure. It cannot be claimed the movement was unknown to the Greek authorities. Two Greek flags were solemnly intrusted to the insurgents and good arrangements been made for forwarding food and supplies. News of the invasion caused the most intense excitement here.

All the Family.

With the close of the Presidential Campaign THE TRIBUNE recognizes the fact that the American people are now anxious to give their attention to home and business interests. To meet this condition, politics will have far less space and prominence, until another State or National occasion demands a renewal of the fight for the principles for which THE TRIBUNE has labored from its inception to the present day, and won its greatest victories.

Every possible effort will be put forth, and money freely spent, to make THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE pre-eminently a National Family Newspaper, interesting, instructive, entertaining and indispensable to each member of the family.

HON. W. J. BRYAN'S BOOK.

BATTLE

THE FIRST BATTLE is an interesting story of the great political struggle of 1896, its most important events and the many issues involved; a logical treatise on Bi-metalism as uttered by eminent exponents, including the part taken by Hon. W. J. Bryan in the silver agitation prior to the Democratic National Convention, and during the campaign; the best examples of his wonderful oratory; the most noteworthy incidents of his famous tour; a careful review of the political situation, a discussion of the election returns and the significance thereof, and the future possibilities of Bi-metalism as a political issue.
