TURKISH ADVANCE CHECKED.

Bridges on the Plains of Larissa Have Gone Out.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 22.—(Delayed in transmission.)—It is stated here that one of the Turkish brigades which had been pushed forward on the plains of Larissa has been unable to advance further owing to the floods caused by rains and the consequent rise of the river Salmakia. Edhem Pasha telegraphed asking for the immediate dispatch of pontons to enable the troops to cross the river, the Greeks having blown up the bridges. These reports had a very depressing effect here when taken in conjunction with the formidable resistance which the Turks have met with around Tynavos.

When a person is losing flesh and wasting away there is cause for alarm. Nothing so worries a physician. Consumptives would never die if they could regain their usual weight. In fact there would be no consumption if there was no wasting of the system. The cause of this loss of flesh is a failure to properly digest the food eaten. Nine-tenths of all our diseases date back to some derangement of the stomach.

The Shaker Digestive Cordial will stop this wasting of the body. It acts by causing the food we eat to be digested so as to do good, for undigested food does more harm than good. The Cordial contains food already digested and is a digester of foods as well.

Laxol is the best medicine for children. Doctors recommend it in place of Castor Oil.

A PLACE FOR WILLIAM R. DAY.
 He Will Be First Assistant Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—President McKinley has decided to nominate William R. Day, of Canton, to be first assistant secretary of state and ex-Representative Bellamy, of Cincinnati, to be minister to Belgium. The nominations were to have been sent to the senate to-day, but that body adjourned over until Monday.

Two years ago R. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook, N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; to-day Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of good communities. Where ever the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

The Philippines Rebellion.

TACOMA, April 23.—News just received from Hong Kong by steamer contradicts the rumors from Madrid that the Philippine rebellion is practically stamped out. On the contrary, two important engagements have been fought recently in both of which the insurgents were victorious. The Spanish forces were badly defeated and forced to retreat in confusion. The rebel forces are reported to have been 8,000 strong. The royalist troops lost over 200 men and the insurgents thirty.

Little Girl Accidently Hanged.

DES MOINES, April 22.—The infant daughter of John F. Buckley was accidentally hanged here by her bonnet strings catching on the limb of a tree.

The little girl, about 5 years old, had been playing on the porch but a few minutes before the accident. Her bonnet strings were tied twice around her neck to keep the bonnet in position more securely. She slipped when climbing on a small cherry tree and the strings caught on a twig projecting not more than an inch.

MAKE GOOD SERVANTS.

The Japanese Are Apt and Efficient Help.

They Are Careful and Economical, and Do Not Wait to Be Told What They Are to Do. But to go to Work.

"How do the Japanese compare with the Chinese as servants?" a gentleman asked of a life-long friend who had had experience with help of both nationalities.

"There is no comparison," was the reply. "The Chinese are efficient, but they are awfully set in their ways. If you give a Chinaman an order to-day he will do that very same thing the next day, and every other day, no matter how absurd it may be, unless expressly told not to do so. A Japanese will use his own judgment and save you a lot of bother. The Japanese adapt themselves to our customs very quickly and they are naturally courteous and obliging. They don't mind work, either. I have a friend whose one servant is a Japanese girl, and she does the work of the entire house for less wages than a German or Swede would and just as thoroughly.

"What delights me with the Japanese is that they are so careful and economical," this lady continued. "Nothing is ever wasted in the kitchen since Bohann was installed, and my butcher bills are lessened considerably. Then she is always scrubbing up the tables and dressers, and I believe she puts on clean clothing every day. I always see her washing hanging out late in the afternoon."

Inquiry discloses that there are a great many Japanese in the big cities of the union, and that every ship that comes brings a fresh relay of 20 or 30. A Japanese mission established in Brooklyn rents homes for any number of these adventurers. As the newcomers, however, what their proficiency or social standing may be, are totally unacquainted with the habits, the rate of wages, etc., they gladly accept the domestic service which gives them shelter and food for present needs. The managers report that those supplied with places invariably give satisfaction. A number of Japanese girls and women who came over to the world's fair were stranded in the country and have had to support themselves as best they could. All these have taken refuge in housework or have been engaged as sewing maids. They came originally to dance or sing or form a part of a Japanese booth or domestic "interior." Their aim, after being dismissed, was to make money enough to return home, but, as is not unusual, they see the advantage of life in America and have decided to live here.

Of late years many business men have lived for months or years in Japan, having their families in residences. Their Japanese servants have accompanied them to America and neighbors of these returning absentees, noting the efficiency of their eastern domestics, have gotten them to bring out relatives or friends to serve in a like capacity in their households; thus the infection spreads. The Japanese consul in New York has sometimes as many as 25 applications in a single day for servants.

"I want a cook and a laundress. I hear the Japanese are so thoroughly reliable," says a servant-hunting housekeeper. "You must excuse my troubling you," she adds, as it dawns on her that the consul does not necessarily keep an employment agency.

"We sometimes find places for our countrymen newly-landed," says the consul, and then he turns her over to his secretary, who in turn, directs her to an uptown flat where a Columbia college student keeps an impromptu intelligence bureau for fellows of his race.

These college aspirants think well of the $20 or $30 a month which such positions give them. They work in these various callings for a year or two until they accumulate a little money and then they finish their college course or set up business for themselves. One of the partners in a big Broadway store devoted entirely to Japanese wares was two years ago a trusted "man of all work" in a well-known American family. He saved $1,500 and won the lasting respect and friendship of his employers, who were loath to lose him.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.
