PEASE & MAYS

Garden Hose

We are agents for the celebrated MALTESE CROSS. Every body knows that it is the best Hose on the market today.

We also carry the Ridge-wood brand of Hose, which we recommend as a superior article second only to our Maltese Cross brand in quality. It is made on extra strong duck, and of the best rubber. Then we carry the Wallabout brand which is a good quality and medium price, equal or better than the average so-called "best Hose on the market." We sell it for what it really is—a good, serviceable Hose. See our stock before buying elsewhere.

BICYCLE REPAIRING.

We have secured the services of Mr. Joseph Kirchoff, who has been doing Bicycle Repairing and Gun Work for the last five years in The Dalles. All work entrusted to him will receive prompt attention.

Just Received

A stock of Pure Aluminum Ware Cooking Utensils.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Forecast—Today and tomorrow, fair. New styles in straw hats at A. M. Williams & Co.'s.

Joe Howard of Prineville shipped 150 head of cattle to the East last night.

Ladies should see the "Mascot," the best dollar glove made, at A. M. Williams'.

The diamond drill is going steadily down, but, so far, has not penetrated a coal vein.

Lost—From the white house, this city, Saturday, a canary bird. A suitable reward will be paid for its return. a26-3t

Dr. Logan is in New York City, and is taking advantage of the opportunity to attend the clinics there. He will be home about the middle of May.

The river has fallen about four feet, and will probably go down that much more before the warm weather gets its work in and sends it up again. From present indications the extreme high water this year will come in May.

Hood River has doubled the acreage of its strawberries this spring. The new plants will not bear this year, but next year should have a full crop, and this next year should furnish 1,500,000 pounds of crimson lusciousness, or 750 tons.

In digging a well in the government reserve, Mr. George Krause found human bones and teeth at a depth of forty feet. It simply shows that people a good many years ago, were waiting, as we are now, the full development of our industries.

A man named Nicholas White was taken in charge by the officials this morning, they thinking he was a leper. Dr. Eshelman examined him and found he was suffering from a severe case of eczema. He was sent out of Walla Walla, thence to Pendleton, and then here.

The Antelope Herald thinks The Dalles Champion baseball team should only claim to be champions of The Dalles, and insinuates that they have baseball players out in that neck of the woods. If such be the fact, the ball players here are ready to meet them, and take all the conceit out of them.

Some of the Dalles people who were in Portland yesterday attended Taylor street church, where Kelchner's model of the Tabernacle of Israel, which is to be exhibited in the Methodist church here tomorrow night, was shown and explained by Dr. Locke. They speak of it as something wonderful, as well as instructive.

The Champions are still on top. They played the Dalles Commercial and Athletic team a very spirited game yesterday, resulting in a victory for the Champions by a score of 17 to 19, and the Champions did not take their last inning. The Dufur team must put up a better game than they did at Kingsley yesterday if they expect to beat the Champions.

A telephone from D. L. Cates at the Cascades states that three men engaged in fishing were drowned in the rapids below that place today. They were Ambrose Johnson, A. Synrizes and J. Siendquist. How the accident occurred we did not learn, but it is supposed that the boat upset in the rapids. The crew of the steamer Dalles City recovered one body, that of Siendquist.

Mr. C. L. Morse, who has charge of the store at White Salmon, came up on the train last night. He is enthusiastic in his praises of that section, and it undoubtedly is one of the finest fruit sections in the world. Whatever may be said of Hood River apples applies with equal force to White Salmon. It is a great strawberry country, and has done much to establish the record for Hood River berries.

Mr. Charles Stubling has been remodeling his place of business and now has one of the handsomest places in the state. His bar-room has been rearranged and enlarged, and the work of decorating and papering having been done by Paul Kreft, nothing more can be said of it. The paneling has been done in walnut, the side-rooms all re-furnished and now that it is completed, there is not a prettier or more convenient place on the coast.

Major McNeill Comes West.

Major E. McNeill, president of the O. R. & N. Co., passed through Pendleton on the last of the two west-bound trains last night on his way to Portland. He rode in his private car at the rear of the train and was accompanied by W. H. Hurlburt, general passenger agent of the company. He alighted on the platform for a few minutes and, seeing Conductor Glendenning, told him that he had been shook up too much between Baker City and Pendleton, and that he didn't want any more of it.

A Tribune reporter approached the major and questioned that official concerning the report that the Short Line and the O. R. & N. Co. were about to consolidate.

"Many things are possible," said Mr. McNeill, "and this is one of them. But there is little faith to be attached to rumors generally. This same thing has been talked of for three years. The Short Line wanted to lease the O. R. & N. system and an arrangement of this kind is one of the possibilities of the future. As matters now stand, however, there is absolutely nothing in the rumor, and it ought never to have gained ground, as nothing has transpired recently to justify any such report."—Tribune.

AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Rev. Wilbur Harwood's Discourse Last Night.

Yesterday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. an unusually large congregation assembled at the First Christian church to hear the Rev. Dr. Harwood, whose masterly and well delivered discourse was an intellectual treat to his attentive and no less interested listeners.

In the evening every seat was crowded to the doors. After a song by the choir, the doctor, in a few well-chosen remarks, introduced himself. The doctor's father is a West Indian, and his mother an East Indian, a native of Bengal, India. Both parents afterward moved to Ceylon, where the doctor came into existence. After passing through the primary and normal schools of Ceylon and Calcutta, he was transferred to London, England, and completed his studies at King's college, Cambridge. He was subsequently ordained in the Anglican church and was sent as a missionary to the Niger river in Africa, where he served two years, thence to Barbadoes, West Indies, the Fiji Islands, Trinidad, Panama, thence to the United States, where he connected himself with the Colored Methodist church, and was transferred to the Puget Sound conference as superintendent of missions.

The doctor is on his way to the East, en route for South Africa.

His discourse of last evening evening was a masterly production, his analysis of the Bible, ethnologically, showed him no mean scholar in Hermetics and Biblical exegesis, and his knowledge of physical and natural science, coupled with that of ancient history, speak for him great achievements. The doctor is also a musical scholar. His missionary solo, "Souls in Heathen Darkness Dying," on the organ, was most beautifully rendered. All those who were in attendance last night went away well gratified with the evening's entertainment.

Hood River Valley.

Yesterday we had the pleasure of visiting Hood River, and it was a pleasure indeed. The day was perfect, and a perfect day in Hood River is as near the first day in Paradise as is ever vouchsafed to man. The big oaks were in bloom, with the leaves like "squirrels ears;" the ground was carpeted with flowers; the air fragrant with the bloom of orchards; and a drive over the beautiful roads was simply a delight.

After being away from the valley a few months, one can hardly realize that the change is not due to some influence outside of humanity. Where a few months ago were the little black pines, are pretty homes, strawberry patches, thrift, plenty. The fruit trees are not damaged, as was feared last fall, though some have been killed, and everywhere is a mass of bloom and fragrance.

Last year about 11,000 crates of strawberries were shipped, bringing to the growers about $2 net per case. This year it is expected that 30,000 crates will be shipped, and that the prices will not fall off, or in other words, that nearly

MAIER & BENTON'S

$60,000 will be realized from that crop alone. The profit from one acre of strawberries is equal to that from 100 acres of wheat, and when one considers that a good crop of apples is better than that from the berries, and that the Hood River valley is practically eighteen miles by twelve, and that its product in money equals 100 times that area in wheat, one can begin to get an idea of the future of our neighboring town.

We venture the assertion that inside of five years Hood River fruit will yield more in the shape of money than all the wheat of the county, and inside of ten years that part of the county alone will bring in more money than is now received by Wasco county for its wool and wheat. Just now it is the most beautiful place in Oregon, and therefore in the world; and if you don't believe it, go and see.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. H. M. Beall spent yesterday with his family in Portland.

Messrs. W. H. Moody and R. H. Lonsdale returned from Portland last night.

Mrs. G. C. Blakeley and Miss Minnie Michell came up from Portland on last night's train.

Rev. Frank Spaulding, who has been engaged in missionary work in Brazil, is again home, arriving Saturday night.

John Todd came in from Prineville last night, bringing the Howard cattle. John is an old timer, whom everybody knows and likes.
