The Brain of the Criminal.

An Italian brigand having died after a most notorious and remarkable career, even for a man in his profession, his brain was given to a scientist for examination in order to discover, if posslide, whether there was any difference between it and the honest, or normal bruin. After exhaustive experiments, the professor in charge was forced to admit that he could find nothing airnormal about the brain structure. According to all known laws on the subject, the man was possessed of great ability, and, the professor says, might have been a great man. As the brigand was a murderer, a thief and a had lot generally, it would seem that the fact of there being no abnormal conditions in the brain might have a bearing on the much-discussed subject of brain structure. RUSSIAN WOMEN.

Turkish Women Are.

It is curious to think what a short time it is since the emperors of Russia treated their womankind in the same way they are still treated in Turkey. In those days the ezar chose his wife daughters to be looked at, and she who took the emperor's fancy was forthwith chosen to be his wife. The princesses were kept with the same strictness as eastern princesses, and marriage only changed their place of residence, but gave them no more Dr. Honan immediately applied the freedom. drawn curtains. The first exarina who emancipated herself from this state of slavery, and so instituted a new and happier era for Russian women, was the beautiful Nathalie Neryschlei, the second wife of Alexis Michaelovitch and the mother of Peter the Great, and her triumph was when she obtained her husband's consent to drive with him in an open carringe to the monastery of Troitzsky, a proceeding which at the time occa-
