WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Forecast—Today and tomorrow, fair. Farmers from Kluckitah unloaded three tons of bacon here this morning, which they will ship to Rossland.

A boy named Benson met with an accident this morning, resulting in a broken collar-bone, which Dr. Hollister patched up for him.

The river today is standing at 25.7 and the indications are that there will be a quick rise, the water in the tributaries being now on the rise.

The river continues to fall, and in consequence the salmon are beginning to run. There were enough caught last night to supply the local demand.

The railroad to the Deschutes after all has some chances of materializing. We understand there is money back of the proposition, and that it is liable to go.

Reports from 5 and 8-Mile are to the effect that grasshoppers are hatching out by the thousands, and it is feared they will do much damage to the growing wheat.

The railroad accident at East Portland was a very bad one. THE CHRONICLE presents the full details in its telegrams, which were sent to it by special telegraph report.

Pease & Mays yesterday sweetened the town with a carload of syrup, prepared for cleansing it with a carload of soap, and are fixed to save it, having three carloads of salt.

Five cars were stopped at Castle Rock this morning, which will be loaded with wool for this point. The Dalles is the wool market of the Northwest, and those who want prices, send their wool here.

The Wasco warehouse received sixty bags of wool this morning from the Baldwin Sheep and Land Co., the first of the season. The Moody warehouse also received a consignment from Dayville.

Governor Lord has gone to Washington. Harvey Scott is in New York. Ex-Senator Corbett is in Washington still "unsettled." The rest of the story will be told later. Ex-Senator Corbett is more than "liberal," which explains why he holds on so tenaciously.—E. O.

When the members of G company have their rifle practice on May 1st, they intend having a royal good time. They invite all the ex-members of the company to march with them, and will furnish uniforms for the occasion. Refreshments will be served on the grounds, and it will be, in fact, a picnic.

This evening at the Methodist church Keichner's model of the tabernacle of Israel will be exhibited. The Oregonian of yesterday gives a long account of it as shown in Portland. Every Bible student, as well as those who are interested in it merely as a beautiful piece of work, should see it tonight. Admission 50 cents; children 15 cents.

The Oregon City Pulp Company has adopted an original and wise method of forest preservation. Much of the pulp used is manufactured from balm trees, which grow in profusion in the vicinity of the plant. The trees are said to have a rapid growth, and the company employs a man to plant a tree whenever the soil is good. In this way the company hopes to have a perpetual supply of balm.

A serious accident occurred near North Yakima last Monday to an Italian workman employed at E. R. Leaming's nursery, north of that city. The man had started to drive to the headgate of the irrigating ditch, and the horse he used was not trustworthy. He made some alterations in the bridle, and left the nursery for the trip. Not returning when expected, search was instituted, and the man was found lying by the roadside in an unconscious condition, bruised and badly injured, while the horse was cropping the grass some distance away. He will recover.

Senator McBride had quite a long talk with the navigation bureau of the navy department, the other day, urging that orders be issued to the battleship Oregon to go to Portland, so that the presentation of the silver service to the ship might be made at the metropolis of the state. The officers of the department, however, said that they feared the vessel might strike something and be injured in going up the river. The Oregon will go to the United States buoy station at Tongue point, and the probabilities are that the presentation will be made at that place.

The Oregon office-seeker must possess his soul in patience. There are but few leaves to be given out, and the applicants are legion. A letter received in Portland recently from Washington states that the Oregon delegation is literally deluged with applications for office. What is more to the point, the letter also states, that it is not likely that any appointment will soon be made, probably not before the terms of the present incumbents expire, which, if they date from time of confirmation by the senate, will be next September, in most cases.

Nicholas White, the man who is now in the county jail under the doctor's care, is in pretty bad shape. He has a bad case of eczema, and is helpless. Wasco county is able and willing at all times to take care of its own, but it seems hard to compel it to take the care of other counties. While according to his own statement, was furnished a ticket by the Walla Walla authorities, and was sent here. We can do nothing but take care of him for humanity compels that, but it strikes us that Walla Walla should take care of its own paupers.

ELECTRIC CAR JUMPS THE TRACK IN EAST PORTLAND.

Thirty-Four Passengers Thrown Into the Ditch, Three of Whom Are Killed, and All Are Hurt.

PORTLAND, April 27, 1897.—[Special to THE CHRONICLE.]—An electric car on the Mt. Tabor line jumped the track this morning at East Morrison and Eighth streets and plunged through the bridge into the slough, 25 feet below. There were thirty-four people in the car when the accident happened, and it is now believed only three were killed, three bodies having been recovered, those of W. A. Blanchard, laborer; Newton Hanson, 18 years of age, and an unknown young lady. A number of others were badly bruised and cut on glass of car windows.

The accident occurred on the bridge which spans the slough at the foot of Long hill. When the car reached East Eleventh street, two blocks from the scene of the accident, the motorman lost control of the car, which was then running about fifteen miles an hour down the steep. Realizing that the car was beyond his control, the motorman jumped, leaving it to dash down the incline with its load of passengers. Near the bottom of the grade there is a curve in the track, and when the runaway car reached the curve it jumped the track, and then ran about forty feet, when the bridge gave way, precipitating the car into the water below. The conductor and several of the passengers jumped before the crash came, and escaped with only a slight shaking up. Most of the passengers were laborers on their way to work.

The water where the car struck was not more than five feet deep, which enabled most of the passengers to escape drowning. Had the accident occurred forty feet further ahead, it is probable every person on the car would have been drowned, as the water is fifteen feet deep.

Commencing with May 1st, the Southern Pacific will put into effect a new time card, which will make a number of changes, the most important one being the leaving time of the San Francisco overland from Portland, which will be at 6 p. m., instead of 8:50, as at present. The object of this change is to make closer connection with the Northern Pacific from St. Paul, which now arrives in Portland at 5 p. m., instead of 7:30, as heretofore. By leaving Portland at 6

Garden Hose

We are agents for the celebrated MALTESE CROSS. Every body knows that it is the best Hose on the market today.

We also carry the Ridgewood brand of Hose, which we recommend as a superior article second only to our Maltese Cross brand in quality. It is made on extra strong duck, and of the best rubber. Then we carry the Wallabout brand which is a good quality and medium price, equal or better than the average so-called "best Hose on the market." We sell it for what it really is—a good, serviceable Hose. See our stock before buying elsewhere.

We have secured the services of Mr. Joseph Kirchoff, who has been doing Bicycle Repairing and Gun Work for the last five years in The Dalles. All work entrusted to him will receive prompt attention.
