ASSAULT ON PHARSALA

Edham Pasha Begins the Expected Attack.

THE FIGHTING AT VELESTINO

Greeks Successfully Repelled the Turks With Great Loss to the Invaders --News From Epirus.

LONDON, May 1.—A dispatch from Athens says: The reports of the Turkish assaults on Pharsala are officially confirmed.

The Fighting at Velestino.

ATHENS, May 1.—Dispatches from Pharsala, the headquarters of the Greek army in Thessaly, give further particulars of the recent fighting between Turks and Greeks at Velestino, 10 miles west of Volo, at the junction of the railroad connecting Volo with Larissa and Pharsala.

The Turkish attacking force consisted of 8000 infantry, 600 cavalry and 13 guns. The charges of the Turkish cavalry were firmly withstood by Evzones posted on Karnavassa hill. An entire Turkish regiment was decimated. Four Turkish squadrons which attempted a charge were received with a combined rifle and shrapnel fire which mowed down several hundred. The Greek irregulars co-operated with the regulars. Fifty Greeks were killed, and a major and five subalterns wounded.

A detachment of Turkish cavalry from Larissa approached the railway between Pharsala and Domokos, which town is about 10 miles south of Pharsala, in the Greek rear. The Greek artillery opened fire upon the enemy's cavalry at long range, and after heavy cannonading forced the Turks to retire, the Greek cavalry pursuing them. The Turkish commander apparently wished to surprise the Greeks at Pharsala and sent two army corps against them, one from Trikhala, the other from Larissa.

Greek Positions Taken.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 1.—Edhem Pasha has sent a telegram announcing that after a serious fight at Velestino the Turks had captured three forts and four entrenched positions, the Greeks retiring to Volo.

In Epirus.

ATHENS, May 2, 1:25 a. m.—A dispatch from Arta says that 10,000 Greeks, under Colonel Bairataris, are again attacking Pentepigidia.

The German cruiser Augusta Victoria has arrived at Phalerum.

Official Turkish Advice.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 1.—Rifzi Pasha, commander of the Turks at Janina, yesterday telegraphed a report to the effect that the troops had occupied, after a fight, the heights commanding Karavanseri. The Greeks fled, according to the official Turkish accounts, by way of Kunuzades.

Retreated to Arta.

LONDON, May 1.—A special dispatch from Athens announces that the Greek army has retreated in thorough order to Arta, where it is awaiting reinforcements.

IN PANIC-STRICKEN VOLO.

No Sign of Law and Order in the Town.

NEW YORK, May 1.—A Herald dispatch from Salonica says:

An Englishman who arrived here last night from Volo, where he had been four days, says that the scenes of panic and confusion are indescribable. Law and order have disappeared and all semblance of authority is gone. The whole beach is strewn with baggage, and people are clamoring and waiting for ships which do not come. Rifles are being promiscuously served and cartridges are thrown in heaps in the streets and the people fill their pockets with them.

The Englishman saw the Greeks' fight at Velestino. Fugitives rushing in without money or provisions intermingled with the soldiers who had thrown their arms away so as not to impede the flight. He also saw the captain of an American ship who left Athens on the 28th. He said the people were terribly bitter against the royal family and would kill any of its members if they could get at them. They accused Prince Constantine of having betrayed the army and of being in collusion with the Russians.

The latest he heard was that the king had taken refuge on a Russian warship. The streets were full of armed people. The shops were being plundered.
