THE TURKS AT VOLO

Found the Town Deserted on Their Arrival.

SMOLENSKI'S ARMY CUT IN TWO

Constantine's Army Occupies All the Defiles Through Which the Turkish Army Must Pass.

ATHENS, May 8.—The Turks have completely occupied and burned Velesino.

At 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, the defeat of the Greeks was complete and the pass to Volo open to the Turks. The searchlights of the warships on the bay flashing up the mountain sides were of great assistance to the retreating Greeks, as they showed the roads. Over a dozen cannon were abandoned and captured by the Turks. Two hundred wounded soldiers were brought to Volo. The correspondent of the Associated Press is of the opinion that many Greek soldiers were left on the field. It is impossible to estimate the killed.

Advises received from the frontier at 5 o'clock this afternoon are that General Smolenski's shattered army was cut in two. The left wing retired to Almyro. What was left of the right wing came toward Volo, broken and demoralized.

The retreat across the mountains was almost as bad as the one which resulted in the change of base from Tyrnavos to Volo.

The scene of the more recent panic was wild and almost indescribable. On Thursday and Friday, the populace filled the streets of Volo with their household goods. Plunderers from surrounding villages entered the town and added to the confusion. Brigandage became common. Five steamers were filled with refugees. Scores of caïques carried fugitives to the islands.

The correspondent of the Associated Press succeeded in getting on the last steamer. On this boat were 1800 men, women and children, packed thick as herrings. The Associated Press representative landed at Chalkis and from that place drove to Athens.

Dispatches received from Domokos, the headquarters of the Greek army, today say that Turkish cavalry in making a reconnaissance, approached within a few miles of Domokos, but retreated on the approach of the Greeks, who followed the Turkish cavalry to the advance posts of the enemy's lines.

Prince Constantine's forces occupy all the defiles through which the Turkish troops must pass when they advance, notably those of Agorani and Tiamassi.

The inhabitants of Domokos are going to the interior. The admiral in command of the Greek squadron at Volo telegraphed today saying that the French and British consuls at Volo, accompanied by the commanders of the British, Italian and French warships, had a conference at Velesino with Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander. The latter promised to respect the inhabitants and property at Volo, provided the Greek squadron agreed to refrain from hostilities and to retire beyond range. The Greek admiral accepted these terms.

All foreigners at Volo have embarked for other ports and the town is now empty.

Turks Entered Volo.

VELESINO, May 8.—The Greeks have evacuated Volo. Detachments of marines have landed from British, Russian, French, Austrian and German warships to guard the town.

The foreign consuls have arrived to confer with Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander.

As this dispatch is being sent, the Turkish troops are entering Volo. The Greeks who fled to Almyros will join the main body of the Greek forces at Domokos.

LARISSA, May 8.—The reports that the Turks have occupied Volo is confirmed. The Turkish troops entered that place this morning.

Greeks Open the Prisons.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 8.—Before leaving Volo, the Greeks opened all the prisons.

The British and other foreign consuls invited the Turkish commander to occupy the town immediately. Inver Bey and 10 battalions entered the town at 11 o'clock this morning. The Turks have already established a system of street patrol.

Smolenski Roused His Men.

VOLO, May 8.—A stirring incident in connection with the battle at Velesino has just been reported. General Smolenski, with something of the magnetic enthusiasm attributed to Stambouloff, rode along the lines addressing the soldiers and imploring them to remember the traditions of their race until the sacred soil of Thessaly should be saturated with their blood, if need be. It was like an inspiration. Both uniformed soldiers and men with only bandoliers filled with cartridges, the belt around their native attire, cheered and gripped their rifles more firmly. They gave a shout of determination and indulged in a reckless, wild, but sometimes scorching shell fire. The Turks fired volley after volley steadily on their intrepid enemy. Then the Greeks left the sheltered trenches and charged with wild shouts. The Turks quivered for a moment and retired in confusion to the shelter of the mountain ridges. It was a brilliant Greek success.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

From the Patrons (N. Y.) Register.

Mr. James Rowland of this village, state that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the doctor he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her as much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

EVACUATION OF CRETE.

Greece Recalling Her Troops From the Island.

ATHENS, May 8.—11 p. m.—The government has informed the ministers of the powers verbally that following the recall from Crete of Colonel Vassos, 25 officers and two companies of troops, the gradual withdrawal of troops from the island of Crete will take place. After a brief stay, the powers will offer to mediate between Greece and Turkey. The powers will insist, however, that Greece shall confide her interest unreservedly to their hands. Negotiations have commenced, and mediation is regarded as imminent.

The Shakers have made a discovery which is destined to accomplish much good. Realizing that three-fourths of all of our sufferings arise from stomach troubles, that the country is literally filled with people who cannot eat and digest food, without subsequently suffering pain and distress, and that many are starving, wasting to mere skeletons, because their food does them no good, they have devoted much study and thought to the subject, and the result is this discovery of their Digestive Cordial. A little book can be obtained from your druggist that will point out the way of relief at once. An investigation will cost nothing and will result in much good.

Laxol is the best medicine for children. Doctors recommend it in place of Castor Oil.

Turks Threaten Arts Christians.

ATHENS, May 8.—A dispatch from Arts says Fuad Bey, the Turkish commander, through a Greek priest at Arts, has issued a proclamation to the Christian population, ordering them to lay down their arms, as otherwise their villages would be burned. The environs of Kasja, in Turkish territory, are burning.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alternative. ### VALENTINE KILLED LOVE.

A Farmer Disinherits His Daughter Because of a Comic Car.

James Martin, a well-to-do farmer, recently died, leaving a will by which he disinherited his only daughter, the result of a disagreement about a valentine 50 years ago, says a Danville (Pa.) special. It was a few days before St. Valentine's day, 50 years ago, when the daughter asked her father for a new dress. He refused to buy it for her. The girl took her father's refusal much to heart. On St. Valentine's day Mr. Martin received a valentine addressed to him in his daughter's handwriting.

It was a rough caricature, representing a miser counting and gnawing over his money. He at once took his daughter to task for what he considered an insult. She denied that she sent the cartoon. There lived in the neighborhood another farmer who had treated a niece living with him brutally. Martin's daughter said that she had this girl had purchased each a valentine and that she (Miss Martin) had bought one entitled "The Honest Farmer," while the other girl had purchased the caricature to send to her harsh uncle. In addressing the envelope the valentines, she said, became mixed.

But in spite of explanations Mr. Martin would not believe his daughter, and from that day he never spoke to her. She soon married and lived on a farm adjoining, and, although the old man was on the most familiar terms with the husband and children, he never noticed her. He died the other day, leaving an estate valued at $15,000.

By his will he left his widow $30,000 and to his son-in-law the remainder, provided he survived his wife, the farmer's own daughter. If the son-in-law died first, then the money was to be divided among his three children. To his daughter Mr. Martin bequeathed "a package to be found in his trunk, tied with a green ribbon and sealed with green wax." When this was opened it was found to be the unfortunate valentine that had caused the estrangement of the farmer from his daughter half a century ago.—N. Y. Press.

Aerial Travel.

Prof. S. P. Langley is reported as saying in a recent interview, that, having proved both theoretically and practically that machines can be made to travel through the air, if he had the time and money to spend, he believed he could make one "on a scale such as would demonstrate to the world that a large passenger-carrying flying-machine can be a commercial as well as a scientific success."—Youth's Companion.

Best Question at Issue.

He was pressing, but she hesitated. She had had some experience and was inclined to be cautious.

"You will be afraid!" he exclaimed. "Say you will consent to make me the happiest of mortals!"

She thought it sounded a good deal as if it had been memorized from a love story, but she let that pass.

"Can we afford to marry?" she asked.

He looked startled.

"I'm sure I don't know," he answered.

"How is your father fixed?"—Chicago Post.

Long Run by a Mouse.

A wheelman hung his bicycle from the ceiling of his cellar, not far from a swinging shelf on which food was kept. A mouse jumped from the wall to the tire of the front wheel, evidently having thereby to reach the shelf. The wheel started and the mouse naturally ran toward the highest part of it. It was able to stay on the top of the tire, but couldn't get enough of a foothold to jump to the wall. When found next morning it was very much exhausted, though still running. The cyclometer showed that it had traveled over 28 miles.—Albany Express.

HON. W. J. BRYAN'S BOOK.

THE FIRST BATTLE

THE FIRST BATTLE is an interesting story of the great political struggle of 1896, its most important events and the many issues involved; a logical result on Bi-metalism as uttered by eminent exponents, including the part taken by Hon. W. J. Bryan in the silver agitation prior to the Democratic National Convention, and during the campaign; the best examples of his wonderful oratory; the most noteworthy incidents of his famous tour; a careful review of the political situation; a discussion of the election returns and the significance thereof; and the future possibilities of Bi-metalism as a political issue.
