A Fine Piece of Work.

We called at Dr. Siddall's office today and saw him adjusting a piece of "crown and bridge work," consisting of ten teeth and crowns placed upon three roots and one molar, or jaw tooth, without any plate covering to the roof of the mouth.

The doctor attends the dental colleges every two or three years, and is thereby able to give the public the benefit of everything new to the profession, and has the only known appliances for repairing "crown and bridge work" without removing the same from the mouth.

In his work he uses his own invention of dental elevators for the extraction of roots when they are broken off very low down in the jaws. On these instruments he holds patents in this country, Great Britain and Canada, and they are used by many of the leading dentists in all of them, as they will do the work with ease to the operator, and relieve the patient when all others known to the faculty may fail.

The doctor has been with us nearly twenty years and has always let his work speak for itself, which it does most eloquently. Of late years, however, dentistry has made such vast strides that modern methods have superseded the old in a manner that few realize, and mention of what is and can be done, is a matter of legitimate and interesting news.

A "crown" we may add, is simply a gold thimble fitted over a broken tooth or root, that cannot be saved by any other means. The piece of work to which we have alluded, can be seen in the window at Mr. Garretson's jewelry store.

A Bloodhound's Teeth Bcent.

A remarkable exhibition of the keenness of scent of the Bloodhound was given at the Brite town of Bronson, in Allen county, the other day. The town recently appropriated $100 out of the city treasury for the purchase of one of these animals, the purpose being the detection and capture of thieves who were operating in the neighborhood, and a test of the hound was considered desirable.

A Conservative Opinion.

The young man had not been given a part on the stage, but at a point in the performance where a song was desired he was permitted to stand in the wings and sing.

"What did they think of me as a singer?" he anxiously asked of a friend. "Did you hear any comments?"

"Why—er—yes. They said you were out of sight."—Washington Star.

A Cheerful Prospect.

"I did not expect you would shed tears because I'm going to take your daughter away," said the bridegroom elect.

"It is for you that I'm weeping, young man," said the old gentleman, as he carelessly thumbed the stubs of his check book.—Detroit Free Press.

Business Item.

"I understand you to say that Rogers is the proprietor of a match factory."

"So he is. He runs a matrimonial agency."—Up-to-date.

A Safe Tip.

"Which direction is that shootin'?" shouted the policeman as he dashed around the corner.

"Down the street," grinned a newsboy.

"Then I've got 'em," and he sprinted up the street to make the capture.—Detroit Free Press.

Gave Her a Good Chance.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her.

It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from the first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store. (5)
