WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Excursion
 Next Saturday
 Benefit of fire tournament.

Two furnished rooms to rent, with or without board. Apply to Mrs. P. Cram, Liberty street.

There will be a special meeting of the city council next Wednesday evening to wind up the business for the present year.

Prineville will celebrate the Fourth this year in grand style. It is expected some speaker from The Dalles will deliver the oration.

The fire boys are going to give an excursion Saturday which should be liberally patronized. This is for the benefit of the tournament. Help it.

Chrisman Bros. butcher cart turned a somersault near the Methodist church this morning owing to some curious antics of the horse. No material damage was done, however.

In Gilliam county the ground is wet to a depth of four inches. The Fossil Journal estimates that Gilliam county will be at least $100,000 better off by reason of these timely rains.

Mrs. Potter will furnish meals at the Potter House during the encampment of the militia at Hood River. Also hot and cold baths. House is convenient to camp grounds. j28-29

Those attending the encampment will find the Potter house a most comfortable one. It is indeed one of the prettiest places in the valley, and is situated just across the road from Camp Jackson.

Wool is coming in lively and the warehouses are crowded with bales. Growers are nearly all waiting for a rise in price, though the rate paid now is two cents a pound better than what it was a year ago at this time.

People who have come in from the country say the grain fields look better than they have for several years. Wasco and Sherman counties will have plenty of wheat next fall to feed a large portion of the hungry world.

Reports from Antelope say that the heavy rains of last week have soaked the ground in that section to a depth of a foot or more. This is something unusual at this time of year, and means thousands of dollars to the hay and grain raisers.

About a dozen men are working for the government at the locks. It is expected more will be put to work ripping the walls on the river side. The Days have turned over everything to the government and the engineers are in charge of the work.

An excursion will be given by the firemen to Hood River on July 3d. This is to be the great day at Camp Jackson, as the governor and his staff are expected to be present and review the National guard. The proceeds of the excursion are to be used for the benefit of the coming tournament. Round trip 50 cents.

The State Union Sunday School Convention begins its session here tonight in the Methodist church. The program is published elsewhere in this issue. A large delegation of Sunday school workers will be in attendance from various parts of the state. THE CHRONICLE will publish full reports.

Antelope will celebrate the Fourth in becoming style. An entertaining program has been prepared, and a large attendance from the surrounding country expected. Incidentally it may be stated that the new city jail has been nearly completed, and will be ready for occupancy should the occasion require on short notice.

Miss Mattie Barnes of Prineville has been chosen as the primary teacher of the Antelope school for the ensuing year. The nine months' term will begin on Monday, August 30th, and the directors are confident that a very successful school can be expected at Antelope during the next term. Antelope has reason to be proud of its school facilities.

Mrs. Charles Hilton met with a serious accident while out driving Saturday evening. While near Stadleman's, the horse she was driving became suddenly fractious and cramped the buggy so that both Mrs. Hilton and her daughter, Miss Florence, were thrown to the ground. Mrs. Hilton was so injured that on being taken home Dr. Logan was called, who found she was considerably hurt, though not dangerously.

John H. Cradlebaugh, editor of THE CHRONICLE, left Saturday evening for Baker City, to inspect some mining claims. During his absence this paper is on the charity of the town. Any criticisms, kicks or complaints should be made in writing, sworn to, and handed to Mr. Cradlebaugh on his return. He likes that sort of thing and will cheerfully attend to them. In the meantime, any contribution of news will be gladly received.

R. H. Norton, of Roslyn, has been appointed to the office of state coal mine inspector by Governor Rogers. Dalles people will remember Mr. Norton as a former resident of this city, who at one time was chief engineer on the Dufur, Dalles and Silktone railroad, or Golden-dale Southern, or Prineville Western or some other trunk line, which was projected at considerable length on paper some years ago. He also was on the staff of the Third Regiment, O. N. G.

The Knights of Pythias expect to have a very entertaining evening at their castle tonight. Turner Oliver, grand chancellor of this jurisdiction, will be present and deliver an address on matters connected with the order. Following this will be a literary program and social time. None but knights and their ladies will be present, and those who do not belong to this beneficent order will miss the pleasures of the occasion. The lodge in this city is one of the very best in the state, and it is expected much good will result from the grand chancellor's visit.

The soldier boys began heading for the Hood River encampment this morning, Co. "A" of Wasco and Co. "G" of The Dalles left by the morning passenger. A large crowd was at the depot to see them leave. Other companies from Eastern Oregon will be down tomorrow.

The horses were taken down by the Regulator this morning. The site selected for the encampment is said to be a very beautiful one, and the attendance promises to be large. It is expected excursions from The Dalles will be run during the week, in order to give our citizens a chance to see something of camp life, and witness the military evolutions.

One On Jacobsen.

The Fossil Journal tells this story on Mr. E. Jacobsen of this city, who is making a business tour through the counties south of The Dalles:

The ladies of Mayville tackle every drummer that comes along the road for a donation to their church now being built, and so potent are their blandishments that every knight of the grip they have approached to date have pungled up something or other. Their latest victim was E. Jacobsen of The Dalles. He told them he had a fine $15 stove in his store in The Dalles he would like to give them, but he had no way to haul it out. The ladies told him he need not worry about the hauling, as freight teams are going between The Dalles and Mayville all summer, and they could easily get some friend of the church to haul the stove out. Jakey rather felt that he had been uncooled, but he had made the proposition which they accepted, and what more could he do or say?

Notice to Taxpayers.

On and after July 1, 1897, costs will be added for the collection of all taxes due Wasco county on all delinquent rolls now in the hands of the sheriff. This is an imperative order from the county court, and the sheriff has no option but to collect such taxes by levy on property if not paid voluntarily by property owners. All parties concerned are hereby notified that no leniency will be shown in the collection of taxes after July 1, and that levy will be made on all property delinquent after that date.

T. J. DRIVER,
 Sheriff of Wasco County.

A Dalles Boy Wins Honors.

The Dalles is always proud of the boys that she sends forth to try their metal in other surroundings, and it is with pleasure that we chronicle their successes.

Mr. Win Curtis, son of Rev. W. C. Curtis, is among those who has brought credit to his friends and to the city he claims as his home. Mr. Curtis was for several years a student of the Wasco Independent Academy in this city, and from thence went to Tualatin Academy at Forest Grove to complete his preparatory course. He then began study in Pacific University, in the same city, where he remained two years, and going from there he entered the junior class of Williams College, in Massachusetts. While at Forest Grove, under the influence of Prof. Lloyd, he became interested in Biology, which interest became greatly increased by the larger opportunities furnished at Williams. He spent his junior vacation at Woods Holl, Buzzards Bay, at the Marine Biological school established there in connection with the Smithsonian Institute, and this year he goes back with the position for the summer of collector of specimens for the associated colleges. He also has a position a representative of the colleges on the U. S. Fish Commission.

His college class has had, at one time and another, 110 members. The number at graduation was seventy, among whom he ranked eighth in point of standing. He has also been chosen a member of the Phi Beta Kappa Society—a society of post-graduates having chapters in several of the leading colleges of the East. The society is nominally secret, but is in reality literary and honorary, none being eligible to membership who have not attained a certain rank in college work.

Mr. Curtis has not fully decided as to his permanent work for the future, but Prof. Lloyd, of Pacific, and Prof. Peck, of Williams, both predict for him a bright future in lines of biology, should he wish to engage in such pursuit.

The theme of his graduating oration was "The East and the West," a subject on which, from his experience of both, he may be expected to speak with discrimination. He certainly is not wanting in enthusiasm for Oregon.

We congratulate our young friend on the success he has achieved.

Club Meeting.

There will be a special meeting of the Commercial Club Wednesday evening, to consider some very important matters. It is urged that every member be present on that occasion. j26-tf
