COTTON BAGS FREE

Senate Places Them There by a Vote of 30 to 25.

COTTON TIES WILL ALSO GO FREE

Teller Makes Inquiries Regarding the Anti-Trust Amendment—House Adjourns Until Monday.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The senate today placed on the free list cotton bagging, burlap, grain sacks made of burlap and other bags made of jute or hemp, by a vote of 30 to 25.

The senate also adopted a tariff amendment placing cotton ties on the free list by a vote of 29 to 23.

REGULAR PROCEEDINGS.

Teller Makes Inquiries Regarding the Anti-Trust Amendment.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The tariff bill was taken up promptly in the senate today. Teller made inquiries as to reports that an anti-trust amendment would be brought up. This was a most important matter, he said, and there should be ample time for consideration. Allison said he did not know what disposal was to be made of the subject, as no action had been taken by the finance committee. Teller said it had been reported about the chamber that such an amendment had been considered in caucus. He urged that it should not be brought in at the last moment, "as it will not be done," he added with positiveness. Allen gave assurance that no such hasty action would be taken.

Whites remarked he thought the anti-trust subject had been dropped.

"The trouble with Senator White and myself," answered Teller, "is that we are not members of the Republican caucus, and therefore are somewhat in the dark."

STOVE HOMESTEAD TO BE SOLD

Daughters of the Late Authoress Must Move Out.

HARTFORD, Conn., July 1.—The meagerness of the estate left by Harriet Beecher Stowe is soon to be apparent. Her twin daughters, who made a home for her on Forest street in this city for so many years, are in danger of being deprived of the old home, now historic.

When Mrs. Stowe made her will some years ago, she thought she would leave property enough to provide amply for her daughters and also for her son. By a codicil she bequeathed her Forest-street house to her daughters, but failed to put her signature to that portion of the will. When the estate came to be inventoried it was found that there was not enough in the daughters' share to support them comfortably or enable them to keep the old home for many years. It is now learned that their brother has notified that he is about to sell the house.

It has been suggested that the money which was to be raised for a statute of Mrs. Stowe be devoted to the purchase of the house for the daughters.

Fusionists Sold the Populist Vote.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 1.—Thomas E. Watson in a signed editorial in today's issue of the People's Party paper, charges that the fusionists have entered into a compact to deliver the Populist vote to the Democrats in November for $1500, recently contributed to the Populist fund by Bryan out of the proceeds of book sales as the first installment of purchase money. His editorial concludes as follows:

"We could wish that Bryan had kept his money in his pocket. He has made a mistake, just as he made a mistake when he joyously rushed a telegram of congratulation to McKinley. How such a devoted champion of the people could find in his heart to rejoice at the election of a representative of the gold-bugs and corporations, we have not yet been able to comprehend.

"But having thrown out these few remarks, we recur to our question, why have the fusion Populists taken Bryan's money if they are not under obligation to deliver him the Populist vote in 1900?"

On the occasion of the meeting of the grand lodge of Elks at Minneapolis, the O. R. & N. will sell round trip tickets July 2d, good to return until July 31st, for $60.50. These tickets are good for stop-over privileges returning. The meeting of the National Educational Association is held at Milwaukee at the same time, and same rates to Minneapolis will be given. At that point, tickets will have to be purchased to Milwaukee, costing for the round trip $12.30. jul7-tf

A California Elopement.

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—Mrs. John Bradbury, wife of the well-known young millionaire, and H. Russell Ward, a young Englishman, have eloped. It is believed they left this city on the north-bound train last night, and it is said that their destination is Australia.

The elopement is the sequel of a compromising escapade of the couple at Santa Monica several days ago, which shocked the four hundred and set the gossiping tongues a-wagging. Ward has abandoned his wife and two children, who are touring Europe for pleasure.

Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are today its warmest friends. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

Terrible Suicide of Three Men.

St. Louis, July 1.—Just west of Wellsville, there is a coal chute belonging to the Wabash line. As passenger train No. 6 was dashing through this chute, Engineer Robinson saw three men lying with their heads upon the rail. He tried to stop his engine, but the distance was too short, and in an instant the men were ground beneath the wheels. A close examination of the bodies revealed the fact that the men must have been perfectly sober when they took their places beside the track.

Indians Drank Painkiller.

BRainerd, Minn., July 1.—Five Indians, including Chief Wee Sng, are dead at Malone's Point, on Mille Lacs lake, and several others are expected to die, as the result of drinking painkiller, hair oil and other preparations containing alcohol. Indian payment has been going on there, and the redskins gorged themselves with this stuff, which was bought from Malone's trading post. The Indian riders are scouring every part of the reservation to bring the band together, and serious trouble may result, as the redskins think Malone is to blame for the deaths.

Suicide of a Disgraced Cadet.

Boston, July 1.—Elvin Dilaway, son of President C. O. Dilaway, of the Mechanics' National bank, committed suicide last night. In the competitive examination young Dilaway secured an appointment to West Point, but was expelled for breach of rules before the course was completed.

FOREST RESERVE REGULATIONS.

New Rules Drafted by Land Commissioner Hermann.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Much attention has been paid recently by the general land office to the preparation of rules and regulations applicable to the government of the various forest reserves, and Commissioner Hermann has now formulated these for the approval of the secretary of the interior.

Prospecting, locating and developing mineral resources and forest reserve are permitted. Lands for schoolhouses and churches are provided and water for domestic, mining, milling and irrigation purposes are also allowed. Construction of wagon roads is authorized and the right of way across reserves for irrigating canals, ditches, flumes and reservoirs is permitted.

Mineral lands of the forest reserves are subject to location and entry under mining laws in the usual manner. Makers of mining locations are authorized to fell and remove from their mining claims any timber growing thereon, for actual mining purposes upon their particular claim. Free use of timber is allowed to bona fide settlers, miners, residents and prospectors for minerals, for firewood, fencing, buildings, etc.

Judge Cooley's Case Hopeless.

DETROIT, July 1.—A dispatch from Ann Arbor to the news says that Judge Thomas Cooley, the noted authority on constitutional law, has become a hopeless invalid. His loss of memory has been followed by deep melancholy.

THE STORY OF THE SALMON.

Said to Deposit Its Eggs in Its Native River.

In the autumn time, and onward to the beginning of the next year, the mother salmon ascends the rivers to deposit her eggs, and thus to secure the continuance of her race. In connection with this periodical visit or visits to the river must be mentioned, says Chamberlain's Journal, a very curious fact. The idea is entertained very strongly by some authorities that a salmon invariably returns to its native river or that in which it is bred. It has even been asserted by fishermen that, when several rivers enter the sea in one stream (as at Bonar bridge, for example), the salmon bred in each river will pass back into their own water and will avoid the strange streams. The late Frank Buckland, a strong believer in this instinct of the fish, regarded the sense of smell as that which led it to its native river. Perhaps the truth is that for the most part salmon do return to their own river, but the practice and habit are not necessarily invariable. We know the fishes certainly swim great distances along coast lines where they are captured in stake and bag nets, and it may well be the case that now and then a fish will turn into a river that is near, in preference to seeking its own and distant water.

Arrived in her river, the mother salmon begins to scoop out a kind of trench in the gravel of the stream. This she effects by plowing into the gravel with her body. This trench is to be the nursery of her young. The eggs are laid in the furrow, and are duly fertilized by the male salmon. Then the trench is filled in by the efforts of both parents, the eggs are covered with gravel, and the mound thus formed is called, in fisher's language, a "redd." How many eggs a mother salmon will deposit is, of course, a difficult question to determine, but a stock calculation maintains that she produces about 900 eggs for every pound she weighs. Each egg in its diameter measures about a quarter of an inch, and it is estimated that 25,000 eggs go to a gallon.

When the princess of Wales visits the photographer she usually arranges that her sitting shall take place in the morning. A special studio is set apart for the princess and other members of the royal family. It is approached by a private door, which leads to an anteroom provided with easy chairs and a plentiful supply of illustrated papers. A small chamber is fitted up as a dressing-room, and here is to be found a maid from Marlborough house, who has preceded her royal mistress with a dressing case containing brushes and other toilet accessories. The princess having discussed the position in which she is to be taken, arranges herself, and the operation proceeds. It is etiquette on these occasions for the photographer to address any remarks he may have to make to the lady-in-waiting in attendance, who in turn addresses the princess, who replies through her also; but it is needless to say that etiquette is dispensed with by the princess in many cases.—Cincinnati Enquirer.
