WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Look at Pease & Mays grocery window today.

The highest score at the Umatilla House alleys was made today by Mr. J. Unger with 59.

Talk about Pease & Mays groceries being cheap. Just look at their grocery window today.

Firemen's excursion to Multnomah falls next Sunday. Do not fail to attend it.

The State Teachers' Association meets at Newport July 26, holding until the evening of the 29th.

Remember Frazier's auction on the 17th inst. The orchard to be sold will bear inspection.

Pease & Mays grocery window today shows a greater slaughter than they have ever afforded before.

One lot of 20,000 pounds of wool changed hands this morning at the top price reached this season, it being 11½ cents.

There will be a business meeting of the Epworth League this evening at 8 o'clock. Members are requested to be present.

Chas. Frazier's fine orchard, which will be auctioned off on July 17th, is only twenty minutes walk from the courthouse.

There will be a very important meeting of the A. O. U. W. next Thursday night, and all members are requested to attend.

A dispatch from Washington yesterday says that Senator Harris of Tennessee was very low and would not survive beyond this morning.

City Recorder Sinnott failed to have any persons needing his judicial advice this morning, so that always handy item about John Doe or a d. d. has to be worked in in this shape.

Miss Lou Dingley, niece of Congressman Dingley, ran away from her home Thursday and married W. E. Hadley of San Francisco. She was 30 years of age, but her parents objected to her marriage.

A new departure at the county institute this year, is that the superintendent offers a certificate of attendance to each teacher, setting forth the number of days present and showing their professional interest.

All members of the First Christian church are urgently requested to be at the church on Sunday, July 11, at 11 a. m., as business of great importance will then come before the meeting. Don't fail to attend. Per order church board.

The Dalles evidently is establishing a reputation for oratorical ability, Mrs. Briggs being selected to make the address for the G. A. R. celebration at Elgin, Fred W. Wilson at Prineville, N. J. Sinnott at Dufur, and D. C. Herrin at Milton.

Everyone who has been in the country recently comes back with the same enthusiastic tales about the wonderful crops. The grain is now all so far along that nothing can injure it materially, and still the weather conditions remain perfect for its growth.

The river, which has been at a stand for a couple of weeks, fell several inches last night, and will most likely continue its downward course. The fishermen think this will cause an improvement in the run, which up to date has been an unusually poor one.

Agent Cowan came in from the Warm Springs yesterday. He reports his charges all contented, happy and prosperous, telling us of one Indian who had sold a band of sheep a day or two before, getting $4322 for them, and who has some 38,000 pounds of wool to sell.

A. M. Williams & Co. are making a great slash in fine summer wash goods. See their window display. 8½c, 10c and 12½c goods reduced to 6c yard. 15c and 16½c choice mulls and organdies reduced to 10c yard. And plenty of hot weather to come. See the point?

Editor Ireland, of the Moro Observer, estimates the wheat crop of Sherman county, taking the banner year, 1894, as a basis. His figures give one-fourth greater area and one-fifth greater yield. As the crop in 1894 was 2,250,000, this would make it this year 3,400,000 bushels.

Patricio McNeil, our own "Pat," reading the Examiner's account of the big meeting of Christian Endeavorers in San Francisco, artlessly remarked that he had a much better opinion of Eastern people now that he saw so many of them at once "endeavoring to be Christians."

July 13th round trip tickets to Pendleton can be purchased for the sum of $4.25. The great Democratic luminary, W. J. Bryan, speaks on the 14th, and the O. R. & N. proposes to give all its patrons who desire to do so, a chance to hear him. Those intending to go will please inform J. L. Story by this (Friday) evening.

The trip down the Columbia on a hot day is a delightful one, and the indications now are that the weather ordered up for next Sunday will make a stay in town, at the least, uncomfortable. The Regulator makes the run to Multnomah Falls, and this will furnish an opportunity for a day's outing, and at the same time the money will provide funds for the firemen's tournament.

A Heppner correspondent of the East Oregonian says that now that Thomas R. Lyons has been appointed townsite commissioner for Juneau, Alaska, and will not remain in Heppner in the law practice; and J. N. Brown has gone to Hillsboro to enter into a law partnership, and Governor G. W. Rea has gone East for an extended stay, there is but one lawyer in Heppner and Morrow county. That one lawyer who will have such a large field all to himself is C. E.

Bedfield, who came from Pendleton and took J. N. Brown's practice. Probably there is not another county in Oregon of which it can be said there is only one lawyer in it.—Globe.

With the passing of the tariff bill it looked as though all the wool buyers in the Northwest congregated here. At Pendleton, Baker City and other Eastern Oregon points the wool is reported as nearly all sold, while here the larger portion is still in the hands of the growers. The Umatilla House is filled with traveling men, and it looks like the good old times when yellow money was plenty and everybody had some of it.

Decisions in Chambers.

Before leaving for the seaside, Judge Bradshaw filed decisions in several cases that he had taken under advisement.

Alma L. Howe was granted a divorce from Samuel T. Howe, and was awarded the care and custody of the minor child. Hester A. Howe.

The writ of review in the suit of C. W. Phelps against M. E. Payne and J. W. Filloon, justice peace, was allowed, and the judgment of the lower court was set aside.

In the case of Mary Davenport against Stephen M. Meeks et al, plaintiffs were also given judgment. The suit was brought to have a mortgage set aside on the ground that it was given fraudulently, and to prevent the collection of money due plaintiff. It brought up some nice legal points. H. H. Riddell was attorney for plaintiffs.

In the Wolf & Zwicker Iron Works against I. H. Taffe, judgment was set aside and new trial granted.

W. L. Whealdon against L. E. Ferguson. On motion O. D. Taylor was made defendant and permitted to file an answer.

Singer Mfg. Co. against Sheriff Driver, action dismissed with judgment for costs for defendant.

He Captured Them.

Attorney George Barnes, mayor of Prineville, arrived in the city last night. After his first greeting to THE CHRONICLE man he said, "I want to say to you that I was chairman of the committee of arrangements for our celebration on the Fourth, and that what THE CHRONICLE said about that young man we borrowed from you folks to make the address, was all right. When Mr. Wilson reached Prineville some of the people thought we had made a mistake in selecting so young a man, but he hadn't spoken two minutes when opinions began to change, and in five minutes he had just simply captured the entire crowd. It was one of the finest efforts I ever heard, and this opinion is endorsed by every citizen of Crook county." He told us whole lots of other nice things about our gifted young townsman, but we don't want to deluge him, so refrain from repeating them.

By existing arrangements with the publishers of the Weekly Oregonian, we are enabled to club that excellent paper with the Twice-a-Week CHRONICLE at the low rate of $2.25 per year. Now is the time to send in your names.

OREGON MAN IS REMEMBERED.

Alaska's New Collector of Customs is in Portland.

Mr. J. W. Ivey, the new collector of customs for the district of Alaska, has arrived in Portland on his way to his new post of duty, and today he was receiving the congratulations of his personal and political friends about town. Mr. Ivey will start for Alaska in a few days, and in the meantime is familiarizing himself with many of the details of his office. Mr. Ivey's candidacy was the subject of a very bitter contest at the national capital, and that he was recognized out of all the other candidates—almost every state in the Union had a man—is a tribute to his integrity and worth outside of his services to the party. The Oregon delegation in Congress was solidly in his favor, and it was their recommendation that had weight, notwithstanding the United States senators who were seconding Oregon's claims. Mr. Ivey has been represented as filing his application as a resident of Alaska, but such statements were erroneous. His application was based on the fact that he is a citizen of Oregon, and a citizen of Oregon he intends to remain. Mr. Ivey spent over four months at the national capital, and is one of the "few of the faithful" who were first considered and rewarded. Regarding Oregon matters at the capital or the situation in Alaska, the collector declined to discuss for publication.—Telegram.

The Amount Swelled.

The amount of booty secured by the Baker City postoffice robber or robbers has been considerably swelled since the first report, says the Democrat. At that time Postmaster Foster could only give the amount of cash and stamps missing from the safe. Since that time he has been able to learn the contents of the registered packages taken and finds that upwards of $1,000 from this source was secured, making about $2,000 in all. One package contained gold dust amounting to $365 and was sent through the mail by a Chinese mining company at John Day, Grant county.

Notice.

To whom it may concern: I have sold short hand and typewriting business to D. S. Dufur, but still retain Etna & Union Fire Insurance agencies, with power to ratify applications and make collections. Mr. Dufur is simply authorized to solicit new business for my companies.
