A DEFUNCT POLITICIAN.

The Oregonian is responsible for the statement that Pennoyer is looking around for a candidate for governor, and has his eye—both of them, in fact—on Harrison R. Kincaid as the man best qualified to fill the bill. Pennoyer is cunning and thinks the Democracy will take up with any free silver man. He is mistaken. Democracy has some principle left—not much, perhaps, but enough to prevent it going to Kincaid. Besides, the governor should recollect that he is not considered a democrat. He made his bed with the populists, and while there has been considerable kicking that resulted in the governor being kicked from under the covers, he only struck the floor. Democracy grew weary of him several years ago, and when he fired honest John Myers from his position as chief of Portland's police, he burned his ships behind him. It is a safe proposition that whoever Pennoyer may desire for governor or any other office, the Oregon democrats will promptly repudiate. The wonder is that he does not endorse his man Friday, Napoleon Davis.

Canada has a very rigid alien law, and fears are expressed that she may apply it to keep Americans out of the Clondyke. The fear is not well founded. In the first place it would be almost impossible to enforce the law in that far-off region; and in the second, the United States has too favorable an opportunity to retaliate. There are hundreds of thousands of Canadians in this country who have every privilege a citizen has except that of voting, and some of them take even that. A drastic law shutting out citizens of the United States from the Clondyke or the gold fields in Canadian Alaska would be met with a law here that would do more injury to Canada than all the gold in the far-off Clondyke could balance. In a fight, while one fellow is getting plenty the other generally gets a bite or two. Canada will not interfere with the opening of the new gold fields by the people of the world.

Japan refuses to recede from her position concerning the annexation of Hawaii, and insists upon her protest against it being heeded. Her action will not weigh much, for the United States is compelled to take the islands or permit Japan or some other nation to do so. Japan is peppy and may declare war, but she will have some of the snap taken out of her if she does. It is to be hoped that while she is about it Spain may join her, and thus bring the Cuban question to a settlement. The result would be that we would acquire Cuba, and it might possibly happen that the Spaniards would bombard New York. This would be as gratifying to the balance of the country as the acquisition of the islands. The only way New Yorkers, that is, the city fellows, will ever get any Americanism into their systems is to have it shot in; and the sooner this is done the better.

The fellows who go to the Clondyke this fall may be glad to eat their dogs before spring, and if provisions get scarce there won't be much of the dog except the bark. If the worst comes to the worst they can do like the bears. When they stop moving they can suck their pause.

At Lexington, Ky., recently, Jacob Harris killed Thomas H. Merritt, following him and shooting him deliberately. The cause of the shooting was that Harris had seen his wife go to the park with Merritt, and following saw them seated upon a bench kissing each other. As they left the park Harris in a frenzy of jealousy followed and shot Merritt. He was examined before Judge Falconer, who discharged him. This action of the judge has caused much comment in Lexington, most of the people sustaining his course, but naturally enough Col. W. C. Breckinridge attacks the judge's position bitterly. Breckinridge is probably moved by personal motives, some things being still fresh in his mind as well as in the minds of the people.

The New York World has a map of Alaska, showing the Clondyke, and around this section is a dotted line or circle, labelled "gold fields." How the artist knew just where "to draw that line" and limit the gold fields is a mystery. The Portland Mining Exchange should secure his valuable services at once to assist it in developing the country.

L. L. Hawkins of Portland, called for some unknown reason colonel, has been up to Hillsboro in a wagon. He amused himself with a delicate bit of humor by asking people the way to the Clondyke. The "kernel" always was a joker, and in some instances, as old Nevada people will remember, carried his jokes too far.

The Corvallis Gazette has issued a very handsome eight-page paper, descriptive of Benton county. It is a splendid number, its illustrations being models, almost equal to photographs, and the literary work is as clean and attractive as its illustrations.

What use is there in eating when food does you no good—in fact, when it does you more harm than good, for such is the case if it is not digested?

If you have a loathing for food there is no use of forcing it down, for it will not be digested. You must restore the digestive organs to their natural strength and cause the food to be digested, when an appetite will come, and with it a relish for food.

The tired, languid feeling will give place to vigor and energy; then you will put flesh on your bones and become strong. The Shaker Digestive Cordial as made by the Mount Lebanon Shakers contains food already digested and is a digester of foods as well. Its action is prompt and its effects permanent.
