ACCEPTED BY JAPAN

Hawaii's Arbitration Proposition Finding Favor.

Matters to be Arbitrated Include All Disputes Now Pending Between the Two Countries.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The Japanese government has accepted the offer by Hawaii to arbitrate the dispute between the two countries. The state department has been informed of the offer and its acceptance. The subjects of the arbitration will include not only the difficulty over the landing of Japanese immigrants, but also will include other disagreements between the two countries, the most important of which is the Sake tax, imposed upon a Japanese liquor largely imported and consumed by the Japanese in Hawaii.

The acceptance of the offer of arbitration, a brief synopsis of which has been cabled to the Japanese minister here and given to the state department, states that the Japanese government accepts arbitration in principle, and is prepared to enter upon arrangement of terms for the settlement of pending disputes. A formal letter of acceptance has been sent to Hawaii and the conditions of the arbitration will be contained therein. Those conditions are not known here. Pending the arrangements details of all other proceedings looking to a settlement will be discontinued.

When officials of the state department were informed of the offer and acceptance of arbitration the secretary of the Japanese legation here was informed that until the annexation treaty was concluded the United States would not assume authority in the matter and that the present dispute must be considered as between Japan and Hawaii. The secretary in reply said he was glad to learn such was the position of the United States, as it would permit Japan sending two or three warships to Hawaii pending final action on the arbitration treaty. This interpretation of the situation rather surprised the department officials, who answered that the United States would consider in a different light an agreement of arbitration and the sending of warships, and intimated that non-interference by the United States in one case could not be construed as passive acceptance of the latter position. The Japanese secretary was told, however, that in the absence of Secretary Sherman nothing could or would be said officially upon the subject, and any conversation must be considered as wholly unofficial.

PLENTY OF COLOR.

Promising Dirt Taken From Gill Mine in Nevada.

RENO, Nev., July 30.—A carload of plain dirt was received from the Gill mine, in Olinghouse canyon, this morning. One of the shippers said that he would make a wager that a person could take a shovelful of dirt from any sack in car and get 100 colors.

Another carload will be shipped next Wednesday from the Hutchinson dump. Both carloads will be worked at the Reno reduction works. It is thought the dirt will pay handsomely, and if it does the permanency of the camp is assured.

The Battle of Canudos.

NEW YORK, July 30.—A dispatch to the Herald from Rio de Janeiro gives further details of the fight at Canudos. From these advices it is evident that the first report was not exaggerated, and in fact did not tell the full extent of the fanatic victory. These latter reports state that the government troops lost a large part of their artillery in the battle, and that the guns, in good order, are now in possession of the fanatics. Those of the artillerymen who were not killed beside their guns were forced to retreat before the onslaught of the fanatics, leaving their guns behind them.

A SICKENING ACCIDENT.

Young Woman's Legs Crushed Under Cars at Springfield.

ALBANY, Or., July 30.—As the south-bound on the Natron branch of the Southern Pacific reached Springfield last evening, Miss Jennie Smithton, aged 19, attempted to alight from a car before the train stopped. She fell and rolled under the wheels. Both legs were cut off above the knee. It is doubtful if she will recover. Her parents, who reside at Springfield, were at the depot to meet her and witnessed the accident.

AT HAVANA'S VERY GATES.

Cubans Raid the Suburbs of the Spanish Stronghold.

NEW YORK, July 30.—A dispatch to the Herald from Havana says: Havana's outposts have been again attacked by a large body of rebels, who before the Spanish troops could be gathered to resist had swept through the suburbs, carrying all before them.

They used, it is believed, rapid-firing guns and a large quantity of dynamite. The attack was made late last night. Today there is an inclination among the Spanish officials in Havana to deny the fact that the rebels had evaded the forts and swept into Havana limits. The facts, however, remain and the path left by the rebels through the suburbs south-east of the city may be plainly traced.

At the first sound of firing last night the Spanish soldiers in the city and suburbs sprang to arms. They proceeded hurriedly to the southeastern part of the city from where the rattle of musketry followed by the boom of heavy guns or dynamite could be heard plainly all over Havana. Then the sound of firing increased, and finally after a few hours, died away, showing that the rebels had retired. Several wounded Spanish soldiers were brought to Havana and removed to hospitals after the engagement, and several were killed. The reticence of Spanish officials prevents any knowledge of the result of the attack becoming general. It is a fact, however, that great damage was done by the insurgents on their bold raid and that a considerable quantity of dynamite was used.

There was great excitement in Havana during the rebel attack. Hundreds, aroused by the heavy firing, poured into the streets and the word passed along: "The rebels have attacked the city," created almost a panic in some quarters. There is still much excitement here, due largely to the refusal of the officials to give out information.

This attack on Havana was not unexpected. For weeks past the rebels have been within sight of the capital and have practically moved without interference. The insurgent leaders near Havana are Brigadier General Castillo, with a large force at Marianao, nine miles southwest, and Colonel Nestor Aranguren, of Guanabacoa, across the bay. General Alexander Rodriguez, rebel commander of Havana province, with a large force, is near Minar and Colonel Aranguren is at Colorado.

It is believed the rebel raid was led by Aranguren, who is noted as one of the most daring of the rebel chiefs.

Captain-General Weyler has left Havana for the Matanzas, and the belief is expressed that the knowledge by the insurgents of this intention on his part led to the attack.

It is understood that large bodies of insurgents have recently crossed from Pinar del Rio and Matanzas, and that the rebels' strength in this province has assumed formidable proportions. Quintin Randeras with 800 men is among those who have come into the province from Matanzas.

A. M. WILLIAMS & CO.

THE KAISER AND THE TRAMP.

William Gives a Vagabond Some Money and Good Advice.

An anecdote of the kaiser and the tramp has just appeared in Berlin papers, says the Pall Mall Gazette. Kaiser William was, it seems, lately staying at the Jagdschloss Hubertstock, near the Angermunde, and was one day shooting in that neighborhood. A tramp described him from afar, and not knowing it was the emperor, accosted him with the usual German request for unterstutzung or financial propping up, and also wished to be directed as to the road to Angermunde. The kaiser complied with both requests, conversed with him at length as to his personal and professional views of life, and dismissed him with a wish for a pleasant end to his day's journey. The pleasant end was in the police station, for one of the kaiser's servants, who seemed to be of the Scotchman's opinion that it was "an awfu' like business for puir folk the lark at a king," imagined that the emperor had been insulted and telegraphed far and wide for the arrest of the pilgrim, with accompaniment of bonds, fetters, handcuffs, and so on. The wanderer was run to earth at Angermunde, when he learned several things that he did not know before—inter-alia, that he had been speaking with the kaiser and was guilty of high treason, anarchy and the like. Needless to say, he was speedily released by an impetuous telegram from the emperor, who ordered that he should be fed, comforted and have a free ticket to Cuxhaven, "where he told me he wanted to go."
