TUBS FOR THE NORTH

A Unique Fleet Sails for the Land of Gold Today.

TWO HISTORIC CRAFTS INCLUDED

One the Ancient Sidewheeler Eliza An derson, the Other Ex-Russian Gunboat Politkofsky.

SEATTLE, Aug. 10 .- The steamer Eliza Anderson, an old-fashioned sidewheeler, built in Portland, Or., in 1850, leaves today for the Clondyke via St. Michaels, with 150 passengers. She is a wooden vessel, and for sixteen years was out of service, being tied up to the dock. Then for a year she lay at the bottom of the Sound, but she was raised some years ago and now is to be sent to Behring sea with a crowd of gold hunters. The Eliza Anderson will be consorted by the tug Holyoke, the latter having in tow the small sternwheeler Merwin, the schooner W. J. Bryan and the dismantled steamer Polly, the latter to be used as a barge on the Yukon river plying between Dawson, Circle City, Forty-Mile and St. Michaels. The Merwin will also run on the Yukon.

Nobody knows how old the Polly is Her real original name was "Politkofsy," and she was included in the purchase of Alaska by the United States from Russia in 1867. At that time the Polly was a Russian gunboat located at Sitka. She was later sold by the United States to the Port Blakeley Mill Company, on Puget sound. Years since she was stripped of her guns and machinery, and is now being returned to her Northern home in the ignominious position of a freight barge.

The Polly will carry fuel for the tug Holyoke, and also fuel for the Eliza Anderson. The schooner Bryant will carry some of the Anderson's passengers and all the freight of the prospectors.

Up to this date nearly 4000 miners have sailed from Seattle for the Yukon and about 2000 more have sailed from other points north and south, including those who have gone from California.

If you have a loathing for food there is no use of forcing it down, for it will not be digested. You must restore the digestive organs to their natural strength and cause the food to be digested, when an appetite will come, and with it a relish for food.

The tired, languid feeling will give place to vigor and energy; then you will put flesh on your bones and become strong.
