The Wheat Trade.

The past week has been a lively one in wheat circles, and compared with the week preceding has fairly eclipsed it. Under ordinary circumstances, the volume of business which has been done throughout the Pacific Northwest would be considered very large, as more wheat has passed out of primary hands than for the same time for a number of years past. In many sections of the interior farmers have sold quite freely at current prices, and by so doing have placed themselves in good circumstances. In other localities, the disposition to hold back supplies is noted, in anticipation of obtaining figures later on, owing to strong reports recently received from Europe. On the whole, enough wheat has passed from first hands into those its practical results, at all events so far of exporters to meet the wants of early tonnage contracts, and present appearances warrant the belief that vessels likely to be immediately taken. from this port will receive prompt dis-

Plains, N. J., was hunting eggs in the henhouse, when she threw a game bantam hen, with sitting proclivities from a nest. No sooner had Mrs. Elliott removed the eggs than the hen attacked her in a ferocious manner, and dug claws and beak into her face, badly lacerating the flesh. Blinded and dazed, Mrs. Elliott staggered from the henhouse, while the maddened fowl followed her all the way to the house, fighting fiercely. The wounds inflicted by the bantam bled profusely. Mrs. Elliott fainted.
