WHAT M'COY IS IT?

The Alaska Klondike Mining and Transportation Company is receiving some very good advertising at the hands of the Oregonian. A few days ago its manifesto was published in the Oregonian's news column, and yesterday the scheme was further called to the attention of the anxious public by a column article, fully ilto load a river boat on the deck of an ocean steamer, go to the mouth of the Yukon, and there launch the river boat. Applicants for transportation on the first trip are required to put up three hundred dollars when their application is made, and thus make secure the right to the best the dual ships will afford.

The genius who has devised this wonderful and "sure thing" scheme is one Geo. W. McCov. This name calls to mind the man whose great financial ability created the Western Land, Irrigation, Lumber & Fuel Co., wheat market is advancing, while the The Portland Land, Irrigation, Lumber & Fuel Co., The Clinton & Mc-Coy Company, and made the Wapinitia ditch famous. Can it be that this McCoy whom the Oregonian is giving so much free adver tising is the same McCoy who, by means of these several long, bigsounding corporate names, buncoed the laborers who worked on the Wapinitia ditch, and many other creditors in this locality, out of their money? who was arrested and kept in jail at The Dalles during the summer of 1896 on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and whom the sheriff of this county saved from a crowd of sixty or seventy justly - indignant laborers who called at the jail with lynching intent? The laborers were deterred in their purpose by a determined sheriff and a Colts revolver, and hence it is possible that that McCoy is the same man whose scheme the Oregonian is now advertising, and were it not for the fact that this greatest journal of the Northwest tives. would surely not be a party to any ginate, the similarity in the name of eat. company would lead to the conclu- your loss of flesh. sion that it is the same fellow.

PALOUSE AND WASCO.

Reports from the Palouse country West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toas to the damage done by the early rains are very discouraging. Not more than thirty per cent of the grain is cut, and it is estimated that the damage now done is between twenty and thirty per cent. One means by which farmers have lost considerable is the desire to thrash bound grain from the shock to save the expense of stacking. Owing to the scarcity of threshing machines express themselves as being discour- The Dalles, Oregon.

aged in view of the gloomy outlook. At Tekoa, it is said, the outlook is probably the worst, as there is very little fall grain and the spring grain is very late and green. "It will take much dry, warm weather to ripen the spring grain in time to cut before it is injured by frost." One THURSDAY - SEPTEMBER 9, 1897 merchant at Tekoa has said that under the most favorable conditions one half the crop near that place would be lost.

We trust these reports may be overdrawn and that the situation is not as dark as pictured. The clear skies now smiling on Eastern Oregon are undoubtedly looking down on the Big Bend country as well and dispelling the anxious looks of the waiting farmers. A few days of bright sunshine will do wonders in lustrated. The scheme, in brief, is reviving the hopes of everyone interested in the harvesting of a large crop, and we believe the next reports will be of a more cheering

> At the same time, while sympathizing with our neighbors' anxieties, we cannot help remarking how favoretl is this section in which we live. Wasco and Sherman counties have produced crops satisfying to the most exacting; threatening clouds have passed away; harvesting is in full blast, with work for all who want it at remunerative wages; the conditions for fall sowing are of the best. Truly we are blessed this year in the fullest measure, and it is fitting that we rejoice while we may.
