SMILES.

Young Fish—Mamma, here's a nice fat worm hanging from the end of a string. Shall I—Old Fish—Child, keep your mouth shut.—Chicago Tribune.

He—If people said just what they thought, it would do a lot of harm, wouldn't it? She—Well, it would reduce conversation about nine-tenths.—Puck.

"Well," observed the oyster of the season, as he made his appearance, as usual, a little in advance of the letter r, "this is about the warmest reception I ever had. Thanks! Whew!"

As he folded the poetess in his arms after she had promised to be his heard her murmur softly to herself: "It is a satisfaction to feel that I can go to press myself if my poems can't."

She—What did you mean by circulating the report that I live a hand-to-mouth existence? How dare you? He—Well, that was the way it seemed to me. Whenever I call on you, you put in most of the time yawning.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Fine School.

St. Mary's academy for ladies, located in this city and under the direction of the Sisters, is one of the best educational institutions on the coast. The building is of brick, large and well ventilated. Besides the regular studies, especial effort is made to instill into the minds of the pupils a desire to form their hearts to virtue, and to fit them to be true and noble women. Gratuitous lessons are given in all kinds of plain and fancy needle work, knitting, embroidery, etc. Pupils will receive the same watchful care that would be given them by conscientious parents. It is in fact an ideal school and a pleasant home. Those who have girls to send to school should write to St. Mary's academy for terms. 11.

A girl wanting to attend school can find a place to assist in light housework and care of children by calling at this office. 13-14

Andrew Keller has just received a shipment of fresh oysters, which he will serve in any style to his customers. From now on oysters can be had at his bakery and cafe. 7-2t

GOOD WORDS FOR WASHINGTON

Improvement in Moral Tone of the Nation's Capital.

Gen. H. V. Boynton, the veteran Washington correspondent, has been for more than 30 years collecting news and writing letters. Few men know so thoroughly as he the inside history of the capitol, the white house, and the departments. Being asked what he considered the most important deduction from his experience at Washington, he answered:

"The marvelous improvement in the moral atmosphere, and the general tone and honesty of the government. We, the people of the United States, have the most honest government in the world. It is and has been for many years more honest than ever before, and is to-day more honestly and efficiently administered than any private business that I have ever examined. I mean that there is less waste and less defalcation.

"Look at the great postal service, for instance. Where in the world will you find any private agency which does so much and does it so well, and at so little cost? And change of parties makes no difference. Thorough honesty is the rule.

"The atmosphere of the white house is pure beyond that of any royal residence, and this is the most moral and peaceable city in the United States, if not in the world. It makes me laugh when those good people come from New York and Cincinnati and away out west to help reform Washington."

PERSECUTED IN AMERICA.

John Wesley Suffered for Refusing Communion to a Woman.

Rev. W. J. Scott, D. D., writes of "Wh. John Wesley Preached in Georgia," in Ladies' Home Journal, and from the famous preacher's journal tells the story of his persecution in Georgia, which ultimately resulted in his quitting America and returning to England in 1737. "During the afternoon before Wesley's departure he was approached by the recorder of Savannah, who informed him that he must not leave the province until he had given bond in £50 sterling, and in addition furnished bail to answer Mr. Williamson's charge. Wesley responded: 'I have given him every opportunity to make good his accusation, but he refused to do so; and now, sir, he continued, with emphasis and firmness, 'I must insist that, as an official, you have treated me and the trustees of the colony very ill. I shall neither give bond nor bail. You know your business and I know mine.'"

"The same afternoon," he adds, "I shook the dust off my feet and left Savannah, after preaching there one year and nine months, not as I ought, but as I was able."

"The show made by his enemies of a purpose to intercept him was a shallow pretext, and is now so regarded."

Wesley's persecution was the outcome of his refusal to admit a woman of his congregation to holy communion without evidence of her repentance and contrition.

DANGEROUS CATERPILLARS.

Armed with a Very Effective Weapon for Defense.

The caterpillar of the puss moth, quite a common insect in this country, has a most effective way of defending himself, and may prove, as we shall presently see, dangerous even to human beings, says a writer in Chambers' Journal. This well-protected caterpillar is provided between its head and forelegs with a cleft, from which it can protrude an organ capable of squirting out a quantity of very acid fluid to a considerable distance, and when alarmed it habitually makes use of this formidable weapon.

In one of the entomological magazines a correspondent states that he was observing some of these caterpillars in captivity, when he happened to disturb one, and it suddenly squirted out a quantity of fluid in a jet, which struck one of his eyeballs, though his head at the time was quite two feet away from the insect. He rushed off in great agony to a doctor, who told him that the eyeball was in a very dangerous condition. His eye was totally blind for hours after the occurrence, and it was some days before he finally recovered. What the effect of this fluid must be upon smaller creatures we leave our readers to imagine!
