

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. T. A. Hudson came down from Sherman county last night.

Mr. W. H. Farlow of Wamie was in the city today and favored us with a call.

Mr. Eddy Michell returned this morning from a visit to his home at Columbus.

Mr. James Langille came up from Hood River last night, bringing his carpenter's kit, and is working on the Commercial Club building.

Dr. Doane arrived home this morning from a two-weeks visit to Spokane and Lewiston. He was much pleased with Spokane, and was surprised at the number of residences being built there.

A Fine School.

St. Mary's academy for ladies, located in this city and under the direction of the Sisters, is one of the best educational institutions on the coast. The building is of brick, large and well ventilated. Besides the regular studies, especial effort is made to instill into the minds of the pupils a desire to form their hearts to virtue, and to fit them to be true and noble women. Gratuitous lessons are given in all kinds of plain and fancy needle work, knitting, embroidery, etc. Pupils will receive the same watchful care that would be given them by conscientious parents. It is in fact an ideal school and a pleasant home. Those who have girls to send to school should write to St. Mary's academy for terms.

Taxpayers' Attention.

This is my last and final call to you, as the county court has issued an imperative order.

By virtue of a warrant to me directed, issued, by the clerk of the county court of the state of Oregon for the county of Wasco, commanding me to collect the delinquent county, state and other taxes, I will, on the 1st day of October, 1897, without further notice, levy upon and sell all property upon which taxes remain unpaid.

T. J. DRIVER,
Sheriff.

Sacrificed Their Whiskers.

It will be remembered, says an exchange, how, on the birth of a son and heir to Prince Max of Bavaria, the grenadiers of his regiment cut off their mustaches to stuff a pillow for the royal infant's head. History has just repeated itself at the modest little town of Ribeauville, in France, where the captain of the local fire brigade recently became a happy father. With one accord the brave firemen sacrificed the hirsute adornments which were their glory to fill a velvet cushion, and this unique gift was duly placed in the baby's cradle, with a diploma of honorary membership of the corps.

Russian Press Rules.

The Russian minister of the interior, acting under instructions from the czar, has alleviated the severity of the press laws in all the larger towns and cities of the empire, in fact wherever the population is over 100,000, by exempting the newspapers from the obligation of submitting all articles on political subjects to the censor before publication. Hitherto only a few of the principal papers at St. Petersburg, Moscow, Warsaw and Odessa have enjoyed the immunity.

Emeralds.

When emeralds are first taken from the mine they are said to be so soft that they can often be crushed into wet paste with the fingers.

Poor Blood

When a horse is poor in flesh, a new harness won't give him strength. If a house is cold new furniture won't warm it. If your strength is easily exhausted; work a burden; nerves weak; digestion poor; muscles soft; if you are pale and worn out, the trouble is with the blood. It is not so much IMPURE blood as POOR blood. Pills won't make this blood rich; nor will bitters, nor iron tonics, any more than a new harness will give strength to the horse, or new furniture will make a house warm. For poor blood you want something that will make rich blood.

SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites is the best remedy in the world for enriching the blood.

We have prepared a book telling you more about the subject. Sent Free. For sale by all druggists at 50c. & $1.00.

SCOTT & BOWNE, New York.

OBEYED TO THE LETTER.

But the Waiter Knew What Was What, Just the Same.

He is an old, disgruntled looking bachelor, and he dines every evening in a chop house not far from Broadway, says the New York Herald.

"Waiter," he said, the other evening, "now take this order and see if you can get along without eternally suggesting things. No, I don't want anything from the bar. I'd say so if I did. Nice celery, eh? You wooden-headed idiot, didn't I tell you that I had sense enough to know what I wanted, without any suggestions from you?"

"Yes, sir," said the waiter, submissively.

"Now, then," resumed the old chap, "you may bring me Lyonnaise potatoes, coffee, small cup, and—ah—yes, a little old Stilton. Now, hurry up; don't stand gawking."

The waiter went away and returned with the order.

"What! How's this?" exclaimed the man, pounding with his fists upon the table. "Where's that sirloin steak I ordered?"

"You ordered none, sir," replied the functionary, with a low bow. "I would have suggested as much, but I feared to displease you."

"You're a nice waiter," yelled the old man, and he turned as red as old Burgundy. "All you need is an iron fence and board of lunacy commissioners to be an insane asylum. Why did you ask me if I want a sirloin steak if I didn't order it?"

"Yes, sir," said the waiter.

Two minutes later he returned with the steak. He had called for it when he sent down the original order.

CONTINUOUS STREET RAILS.

The Contraction and Expansion of the Metal Were Easily Overcome.

Continuous rails, made up of ordinary rails length welded together electrically, are in use on many miles of electric street railways in the United States, says Cassier's Magazine, and with excellent results, too, having shown themselves to constitute an ideal track. Whatever misgivings may have arisen at one time as to the serious pranks which expansion and contraction might play with such continuous tracks have been effectively allayed, as experience has shown that the difficulties likely to grow from these causes are not extraordinary. It is interesting, however, to note that of the troubles from temperature variations in the track, that due to a temperature lower than the one at which the rails were welded is the only one requiring serious consideration. It is found in the tendency of the rail to shrink in a longitudinal direction, and this must be counteracted by a pull on the ends of the rail sufficient to produce a corresponding amount of stretch. Temperatures above that at which the rails were welded cause compression, and this has never been found to make trouble where the track was at all secured by the roadbed.

Experience, therefore, would seem to point to the winter season as the time for welding continuous track, as then the rails are materially contracted, and, though exceptionally cold snaps may be productive of a slight state of tension in the rails, yet the maximum stress would be nothing like that in rails welded in the summer, and probably far below the strength of the welds.

With the close of the Presidential Campaign THE TRIBUNE recognizes the fact that the American people are now anxious to give their attention to home and business interests. To meet this condition, politics will have far less space and prominence, until another State or National occasion demands a renewal of the fight for the principles for which THE TRIBUNE has labored from its inception to the present day, and won its greatest victories.

Every possible effort will be put forth, and money freely spent, to make THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE pre-eminently a National Family Newspaper, interesting, instructive, entertaining and indispensable to each member of the family.

We furnish "The Chronicle" and N. Y. Weekly Tribune one year for only $1.75.
