IN the United States now enjoying food cooked in the MAJESTIC affirm that the half has not been said in its praise. The manufacturers of this Range pledge themselves that all parts of the MAJESTIC except the firebox and the new series Nos. 201 to 212, are made of steel and malleable iron, and purchasers are assured that it is as good and as honest as skilled labor and money can produce. If the parts now in malleable iron were (as in other so-called steel ranges) made of cast iron, the price could be greatly reduced; but the MAJESTIC is not made with a view to furnishing extra parts for repairs.

The Salvation Army desires to express their thanks to the kind friends of The Dalles who so generously aided their harvest festival by donations to the social work, which is just beginning to be understood and appreciated by the public as practical Christianity or help to the helpless. ENSIGN W. HAYES.

One by one the appointees of President Cleveland drop out, and their places are filled by Republicans. The first change to take place here occurred this morning in the land office, Mr. George Gibbons, the clerk, retiring, and Miss Annie Lang succeeding him. Miss Lang has had considerable experience in the office and understands its duties thoroughly.

Miss Lizzie DeMoss was more seriously injured in the recent accident at 30-Mile than was at first reported. According to the Condon Globe, the shotgun fell from the top of the stage, the hammer striking the tire of the wheel. The entire charge struck her left leg above the knee, tearing away at least a pound of flesh, and also tearing away the flesh of the left hand between the thumb and fore finger. She is recovering rapidly and the company expects to go East November 1st.

In a swell New York hotel a table was spread for a wedding party of fourteen persons. One young man failed to come. The bride would not sit down till the hotel bouncer got himself into an evening suit and took the vacant chair, thus avoiding the thirteen superstition. It was afterward discovered that the missing man had sent his society trousers to be pressed, and the tailor had burned a big hole in the seat. So it seems the bad luck was not with the thirteen, but with the fourteenth fellow, who didn't go at all.

Mr. Peter Rosch was in from Dufur and made the heart of the printer glad by a visit. He remarked: "Times have been pretty hard for several years and newspaper bills had to wait, so now that things have got better, I thought it was time to pay the printer," and this he did, and a year in advance besides. This paper, realizing how hard a struggle the farmers were having, made no attempt to collect subscriptions for the last two years, but now that our farmer friends are getting on easy street, we would like it if they would invite us to walk with them. Our subscription clerk wears a smile that will make you twenty years younger. Call and see him.

Taxpayers' Attention.

This is my last and final call to you, as the county court has issued an imperative order.
By virtue of a warrant to me directed, issued, by the clerk of the county court of the state of Oregon for the county of Wasco, commanding me to collect the delinquent county, state and other taxes, I will, on the 1st day of October, 1897, without further notice, levy upon and sell all property upon which taxes remain unpaid.
T. J. DRIVER,
Sheriff.

A LIVELY RUNAWAY.

George Williams' Team Takes a Little Spin On Its Own Account.

The team of white horses used by George Williams to haul his ice wagon, ran away last night in fine style. At the time they were hitched to a wood wagon, and when passing Kinerly's house the king bolt dropped through the bolster, letting the wagon uncouple. The horses having but the front wheels hitched to them, thought it would be a good time to have a little fun with the thing, so they started to run away. James Hannon was driving them, but was thrown to the ground. He hung on to the lines until he was dragged a couple of rods, when, not liking that sort of riding, he let go. Then the horses ran up Union to Eleventh, turned down Eleventh in front of Julius Wiley's, where they took a turn across that vacant block. There they caught up with a man in a top buggy and gave him an interesting chase. He circled around the block, but no matter which way he turned the team followed him, but finally went off at a tangent, running over the fire plug and colliding with a post in the alley back of Lempe's, between Ninth and Tenth. Then they ran down the alley, crossing the street by the old Lutheran church, and there one of the wheels caught on to a telephone pole and everything was brought up with a suddenness that was astonishing to the horses.

One of the horses broke loose, bursting a tug and breaking a single-tree, and continuing his flight to the stable. The other apparently thought the wagon had stopped to deliver ice, for he was as cool and unconcerned as though he had never heard of a run-away. The damage was slight.

Lost and Found.

Vernon, the 2½-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Caldwell, wandered away from his home at Condon Friday morning. His mother supposed he had gone with his father out to his grandmother's, so no alarm was felt until the father returned. Then it was growing dark, but all the town of Condon turned out with lanterns to search for him. In the meanwhile Ernest Jones, one of the threshing crew who were on the Palmer place, about four miles from town, heard, about 11 o'clock at night, what he thought was a baby crying among the rocks near where the crew was camped, and on investigation he found the little fellow crying as if his heart was broken. He was soon taken to camp and fed, while one of the men volunteered to go to Condon and report the find; and so the baby was soon restored to his parents.

Dancing Party Last Night.

A most enjoyable dancing party was given at the K. of P. hall last night by the friends of Miss Burkhardt, who is visiting in this city, and in her honor. About twenty-five couples were present, and as the floor was in unusually good condition, and the music, furnished by Prof. Birgfeld and Miss Schmidt, of the very best kind, the dancing was entered into with enthusiasm. The following were present:

Mr and Mrs Varney, Mr and Mrs Menefee, Mr and Mrs Filloon, Judge and Mrs Blakeley, Mr and Mrs Garretson, Mrs Briggs, Misses Bertha Burkhardt, Etta Story, Minnie Lay, Clara Davis, Beulah Patterson, Dorothy Freden, Lizzie Schooling, Maude Kuhne, M Bottorff, Eva Shusher and Blanche Dufur of Dufur, E Crooke and M Crooks of Prineville; Messrs. F Dietzel, F Cram, G Mays, T Purdy, A Clarke, E Wingate, R Gorman, J Boun, C Clarke, G Dufur, W Fredden, H Liebe, F Wilson, J Hampshire, A McCally, A L Gude.

MOST MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Thrilling Experience of the Engineer at the E. & E. Mines.

A telephone message received last evening by the Democrat from Bourne, conveys the intelligence of the most thrilling accidents and miraculous escapes which has ever been recorded in the history of Baker county's mining industry.

In some unaccountable manner the engineer at the Eureka & Excelsior mines slipped and fell into the mammoth fly wheel, which is twenty feet in diameter and runs at the frightful speed of 125 revolutions per minute. None of the employes of the mine were witnesses to the fall of the engineer and for an hour and a quarter the helpless man was whirled around on his fearful ride at the rate of nearly 100 miles and hour. When his awful position was discovered and ponderous machinery at last brought to a standstill the hapless engineer had actually travelled 110 miles. He was taken out, seemingly breathless and more dead than alive, but when he was brought to consciousness, most wonderful to relate, it was found that his injuries were simply a lot of painful bruises, none of which are in any sense serious.
