

TALKS OF HIS PLANS

How the Explorer Hopes to Reach the North Pole.

HIS PROJECT IS A DARING ONE

Will Abandon His Steamer at Sherrad Osborn and Travel Over the Ice With Sledges.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—When the whaling steamer Hope arrived at her dock in Brooklyn, Lieutenant Peary and a party of friends were on hand to meet her. On board the vessel were Albert Operti, the artist, who accompanied the expedition; J. D. Higgins, Dr. M. F. Sohn, ship's surgeon; Robert Stein, of the geological survey at Washington, and Peary's servant, six Eskimos and four dogs, the crew and the celebrated meteorite.

In an interview, Lieutenant Peary said:

"I took observations to ascertain just how much further north it would be possible to navigate, and I also visited the settlement of Eskimos known as Arctic highlanders, who live some 200 miles north of Melville bay. There are only 200 in the entire tribe and I am acquainted with every man, woman and child. I picked out ten strong young men and women and instructed them to prepare for my coming next year.

"I want to say that I never asserted that I would find the north pole or die in the attempt, but I shall make a determined effort to find it, and I shall have practically unlimited funds at my command and five years' time.

"I shall sail to the most northern limit possible, and then make a landing, and on sledges carry all the necessary outfit for a permanent camp to the most northern land limit. It is known that land exists as far north as latitude 83 deg. How much further it extends I shall have to determine, and when I reach that point I shall make permanent camps and make them by base of supplies.

"I believe the pole can be reached inside of two years; I believe, too, that I shall be able to sail as far north as Sherrad Osborn, 100 miles north of Melville bay."

CITIES MUST OWN THE FRANCHISES
This is the Opinion of Ex-President Harrison.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Former President Benjamin Harrison is quoted in an interview upon municipal politics in the World as saying:

"Of special importance are the safeguards to be thrown about the granting of franchises to the promoters of great schemes for the public service. In this respect there are valuable lessons to be learned from late foreign experiments. Some principal cities of Scotland have assumed each the control of its street railway systems and its lighting plants as well as its water works. The results of this public ownership of great public enterprises have been exceedingly satisfactory and instructive.

"I am inclined to consider municipal ownership as the best means to secure to the people the cheapest and best service. Of course the effects of the competition between private enterprises are not to be lost sight of as far as they increase quality and lower prices. But the equal method of selling franchises outright, or of receiving for them a royalty seldom gives to the people more than a tithe of what the people themselves later return. The bigger the price and the larger the royalty, the

SCHURZ TO GALLINGER.

Another Attack Growing out of the Civil Service Discussion.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Carl Schurz has addressed another open letter to Senator Gallinger, of New Hampshire, in the series which has grown out of the senator's attack on the civil service law as now extended, and on its supporters. Mr. Schurz says his principles have always remained the same, but the parties have changed their positions. He accuses Senator Gallinger of misrepresentation in regard to the working of the civil service and indulges in a personality in the same connection.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address:

DRIVING A DOG TEAM.

Flying Over the Snows of Northern Canada in Rubber Skins.

The sled consists of a narrow box four feet long, the front half being covered or boxed in, mounted on a floor eight feet long resting on runners. In this box the passenger sits, wrapped in rabbit skins so that he can hardly move, his head and shoulders only projecting. In front and behind and on top of the box is placed all the luggage, covered with canvas, and securely lashed, to withstand all the jolting and possible upsets, and our snowshoes within easy reach. An important item is the dog-whip, terrible to the dog if used by a skillful hand and terrible to the user if he be a novice; for he is sure to half strangle himself or hurt his own face with the business end of the lash. The whip had a handle nine inches long and lash 30 feet, and weighed four pounds.

The lash was of folded and plaited seal hide, and for five feet from the handle measured five inches round, then for 14 feet it gradually tapered off, ending in a single thong half an inch thick and 11 feet long. Wonderful the dexterity with which a driver can pick out a dog with this lash. The lash must be trailing at full length behind, when a jerk and turn of the wrist causes it to fly forward, the thick part first, and the tapering and continuing the motion till it is at full length in front, and the lash making the fur fly from the victim. But often it is made to crack over the heads of the dogs as a warning. The 11 dogs were harnessed to the front of the sled, each by a separate thong of seal hide, all of different lengths, fastened to a light canvas harness. The nearest dog was about 15 feet from the sled, and the leader, with bells on her, about 50 feet, the thongs thus increasing in length by about three feet. When the thong is good the dogs spread out like the fingers of a hand, but when the snow is deep they fall into each other's tracks in almost single file. As they continually cross and recross each other, the thongs get gradually plaited almost up to the rear-most dog, when a halt is called, the dogs are made to lie down, and the driver carefully disentangles them, taking care that no dog gets away meanwhile. They are guided by the voice, using "Husky," that is Eskimo, words; "owk," go to the right; "arrah," to the left, and "holt," straight on. But often one of the men must run ahead on snowshoes, for the dogs to follow him.—London (Ont.) Times.

In Chase of a Record.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—In chase of a record the new North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which broke the westward record on her maiden voyage to this port, has set out on her return trip to Southampton. Her Hoboken pier was crowded with sight-seers and there was much cheering, waving of handkerchiefs and hats when the colossal vessel backed out from her pier and swung her sharp bow seaward. The eastward record established by the American liner St. Louis is 6 days 10 hours 14 minutes. As the new German vessel cut 1 hour 56 minutes from the St. Paul's westward record of 6 days and 31 minutes, there is little doubt that the eastward record will also have to go when the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse completes the voyage on which she is now engaged. The vessel carried a large number of passengers.

With the close of the Presidential Campaign THE TRIBUNE recognizes the fact that the American people are now anxious to give their attention to home and business interests.
