Senator Corbett is in Washington holding down his seat in the senate. Between sessions is the only time Gov. Lord's senator can get into the seat.

Mr. Frank Driver, the model farmer of Wamic, is in the city. He has 4,000 bushels of wheat, of the very best quality, which he is now hauling to market.

Those who enjoy looking at perfect fruit, and are engaged in fruit culture, will do well to visit Hood River during the fruit fair, beginning there Wednesday.

There will be a meeting of the Epworth League this evening in the M. E. church at 7:30. Members are requested to be present, as this is the time for election of officers.

The board of equalization will meet the first Monday in October, at which time all who are dissatisfied with their assessment, will be given the opportunity to correct any error. s7-d&wtf.

Judge Mays, who is just in from Tygh, says the flouring mill at that place is being pushed to completion, and that it will be but a short time until it is grinding the crops of the neighborhood.

The porch over the entrance to the Commercial Club will, no doubt, look all right when the pillars are placed under it and it is all completed, but at present it looks like a cemetery lot in suspense.

Wheat continues to arrive as fast as it can be taken care of, and those who are best informed say the crop of this county will be between 750,000 and a million bushels. The price today is 70 cents.

The entertainment given by the Christian Endeavorers last night at the Christian church, drew a large crowd. The programme was well rendered and the affair was a success financially and otherwise.

The track at the fair ground is being put in good condition, and the pavilion cleaned up and overhauled. From the number of farmers who have called at this office for the premium lists, we infer that the agricultural exhibit will be better and larger than usual.

Miss Hill had her class in geology across the river yesterday afternoon, sampling the foundation stones of the city of Grand Dalles. Mr. Johnson, of the ferryboat, to encourage young America in the pursuit of knowledge, very generously passed the class of fourteen over and back free.

A telegram received from Portland at 2 o'clock this afternoon stated that the operation on Col. Sinnott had been successfully performed and that he was "feeling fine." The operation required two hours. The colonel's many friends will be pleased indeed to learn this, and all unite in hoping that he may be rid forever of his trouble.

Miss May Enright, secretary of the Columbia Southern, informs us that the road will be completed into Wasco this evening, or early tomorrow morning, and that the first through train will be run from Biggs to Wasco tomorrow evening, leaving Biggs on the arrival of the Spokane flyer, about 6:30. The road will commence moving grain Monday.

J. E. David, representative from Gilliam county, recently put in his claim for salary at the last so-called meeting of the legislature, demanding pay for the full forty days. Secretary Kincaid, however, refuses to pay the bill until the next legislature meets and makes an appropriation or passes an act authorizing the payment of the salaries of the men who held up the legislature.

At the Congregational church, corner of Court and Fifth streets, Sunday services as usual: At 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. worship, and a sermon by the pastor, W. C. Curtis. Sunday School immediately after the morning service. Meeting of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. Topic, How to make God's will our will, and the result. All persons not worshipping elsewhere are cordially invited.

Asa Alexander and T. Bennett have returned to Corvallis from a hunting trip on Gates creek, thirty-two miles beyond Eugene. They captured two of the sixty deer killed in the vicinity during the week they were camped there. A buck, two does and three fawn were killed with two shots by one man during their stay. The shooter used a shotgun, and fired while the deer were drinking in the creek, says the Corvallis Times.

At the regular business meeting of the Epworth League last night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Mr. John Parrott, president; Mrs. J. R. Warner, first vice; Miss Mable Cross, second vice; Miss Ethel Deming, third vice; Ed. Michell, fourth vice; Miss Lola Ewbank, secretary;

Miss Constance Wheaton, treasurer; Professor Landers, chorister; Miss Edith Randall, organist, and Mrs. E. J. Collins, assistant organist.

Mr. Aldrich, who formerly edited the Prineville News, accompanied by his son, is on the road in from his ranch on the Farewell bend of the Deschutes, 150 miles south of The Dalles. He is bringing two loads of wool to this point, it being the last of his season's clip. The balance he took to Eugene, which is somewhat nearer, but the roads got so bad that he brings the last two loads here.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. Billy Mansfield to Be Married.

William, or as he is more familiarly known, "Billy" Mansfield, the foreman in the Times-Mountaineer office, left this morning on the early train for Portland, where he will take the train for Cosmopolis, Wash., and Monday at 9 o'clock he will embark on the matrimonial sea. At that time Miss Henrietta Valene Owen, youngest daughter of Hon. H. C. Owen, of Eugene, will become Mrs. Mansfield, and Billy, the untamed cayuse of the bunch grass hills, will for the first time slip his head into the matrimonial halter. He ought to have been lassoed and branded long ago, but somehow The Dalles girls were unable to get him in the corral and it remained for one of Eugene's bright-eyed girls to gather him in off the range. Billy is an all around good fellow, a good man, a good printer, and will undoubtedly make a good husband. We congratulate him on the happy event, feeling certain that once being broke to lead, he will soon become bridal-wise.

BATTLE WITH A FIEND.

Four Women Attacked by an Unknown Man in Colfax.

A dispatch from Colfax dated Sept. 29th, says:

At 11 o'clock last night four women fought desperately with an unknown brute, who was finally beaten off and escaped in the darkness. The entire force of the sheriff and marshal are searching for the fiend, and if caught, it is thought he will be lynched.

Mrs. Mattie Smith, a widow, lives in a cottage in the thickly built section of town with her 14-year-old daughter, Ollie. They were awakened by the attempt of a man to enter at a window and screamed for help. William Colvin, a neighbor, came to her call and found two men on the sidewalk. They declared they were not burglars, and offered to accompany Mr. Colvin down town in search of the police. They started with him, but gave an excuse and dropped off. A few minutes later a man appeared at a window, broke it and entered the house. The frightened women ran to the back door, but, hearing a man on the porch there, broke through the window and fled to Mr. Colvin's house. The brute ran after them, seized the girl and choked her. The mother ran to her daughter's rescue and wrested her from the grasp of her assailant, and the two women succeeded in getting into Mr. Colvin's house. Before the door could be closed, the ruffian hurried himself against it, and, although four women inside were pushing against the door, he succeeded in getting inside. There a terrific struggle took place. The fiend seized Mrs. Colvin and dragged her out upon the porch. There he choked her and threw himself upon her. Mrs. Buck, Mrs. Colvin's mother, struck the ruffian with a hammer, and at the third blow he released his grip and fled in the darkness, leaving his hat and shoes behind him.

When the officers and neighbors arrived they found many signs of the fierce battle that had been fought. The floor was strewn with torn clothing and broken furniture, and the terrified women were prostrated. Miss Smith and Mrs. Colvin were suffering severely from the choking they had received. They are confident they could identify their assailant if he is caught.

Taxpayers' Attention.

This is my last and final call to you, as the county court has issued an imperative order.

By virtue of a warrant to me directed, issued, by the clerk of the county court of the state of Oregon for the county of Wasco, commanding me to collect the delinquent county, state and other taxes, I will, on the 1st day of October, 1897, without further notice, levy upon and sell all property upon which taxes remain unpaid. T. J. DRIVER, Sheriff.

Married ladies should see Dr. Mullinnix. They will learn something that they have always wanted to know.

I, 000,000 PEOPLE

IN the United States now enjoying food cooked in the MAJESTIC affirm that the half has not been said in its praise. The manufacturers of this Range pledge themselves that all parts of the MAJESTIC except the firebox and the new series Nos. 201 to 212, are made of steel and malleable iron, and purchasers are assured that it is as good and as honest as skilled labor and money can produce. If the parts now in malleable iron were (as in other so-called steel ranges) made of cast iron, the price could be greatly reduced; but the MAJESTIC is not made with a view to furnishing extra parts for repairs.
