THE WAR AT AN END

Brazilian Fanatics Have Been Crushed.

NO POSSIBILITY OF A RALLY

The Government Victory at Canudos was Decisive. News of Conselheiro's Death Has Been Confirmed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A dispatch to the Herald from Buenos Ayres says:

Advice from the Herald's correspondent at Rio Janeiro says that details of the last big battle at Canudos have reached that city. There is no longer any doubt of the death of Antonio Conselheiro, the fanatic leader. He was killed early in the battle, but the fact of his death did not become generally known until the fighting had been going on several hours. When they learned of it, the fanatics, who up to that time had been fighting savagely, lost heart and were slaughtered by the hundred. Conselheiro's body was found in a street of Canudos. Around him were the bodies of about one hundred of his personal guards, who had died in the last desperate fight to save their chief. The bodies were fearfully hacked and mutilated. Beside the body of Conselheiro lay an imperial flag, a red cross on the white background.

The capture of the city was accomplished by the government troops with the aid of torch and dynamite. When the fanatics saw certain defeat they applied the torch to many houses, and scores of them rushed in and were burned to death, preferring death to surrender. The government troops burned the remaining houses.

Three thousand of the rebels who escaped the awful slaughter at Canudos have been taken prisoners, and now the rebellion may be said to be over. A Herald dispatch from Valparaiso says the senate immediately after meeting began the consideration of the budget. When the work is finished the senate will take up a bill which has been introduced providing for a retaliatory tariff against the United States. The bill provides for increased duty on imports, and a great number of articles will be affected if the bill becomes a law.

The frauds said to have been discovered by the government in building the drydock at Talcahuano will amount, according to the radical press, 1,000,000 pesos. Representatives of the government are investigating the matter.

Large discoveries of sulphur, sulphate and copper have been reported from the vicinity of Guatacoateo, in the province of Tarapaca.

ENDING OF "WHIRLWIND" FIGHT. A Pugilist Beaten to Death During a Boxing Contest.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13.—The new Tulane Athletic Club was opened last night with a big benefit for indigent yellow fever patients and their families. An attractive programme including boxing bouts was arranged, and among these was a contest between Jack Cummins and Walter Griffin. Much interest was taken in the contest.

The fight was of the whirlwind order from start to finish, and both men gave and received much punishment. Fifteen rounds were fought and both fighters were in an apparent state of exhaustion.

In the fifteenth round Griffin hit Cummins a hard punch, and the latter Cured by "Happy Thought" Salve. "I was troubled with an Eczema or eruption on the hands for two years. I spent quite a sum of money without getting a cure. Then I commenced using Garland's Happy Thought Salve. I have used six or eight jars, and am cured. It is a great medicine, and I can fully recommend it to anyone troubled with skin disease." J. M. E. ATKINSON, City Treasurer, Seattle, Wn.

sank to the floor, not from the effects of the blow, but from lack of vitality. He was carried to his dressing-room. He complained that his head hurt, asked that he be laid on his stomach and became unconscious. From that time he never spoke audibly. Dr. Bloom said injuries were fatal. The best of attention was given him, but at 4:15 he died.

Old People. Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whisky nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alternative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store.

JUSTICE FIELD ABOUT TO RETIRE. His Resignation is Likely to be Presented Soon.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Justice Stephen Field, of the supreme court, it is believed by his many friends, will announce his resignation from the supreme court bench some time during the present term, though he would say nothing about the matter for publication today.

He was appointed in 1863 to his present position and has been eligible for retirement on full pay for nearly eleven years.

He has been in feeble health for several years. Since he passed Chief Justice Marshall's record he has had retirement under serious consideration.

Attorney-General McKenna is regarded as being almost certain to succeed Justice Field. Both men are native Californians.

An Associated Press correspondent called at Justice Field's residence today, but the Justice excused himself by saying that he was not feeling well. Mrs. Field would neither confirm nor deny the report of her husband's impending retirement, though giving the impression that it was at least under serious consideration.

Group Quickly Cured.

Riotous Strikers Arrested.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 13.—Deputy sheriffs made a raid on the strikers at Sandy creek this morning and arrested fifteen men, including the members of a brass band. The strikers were marching on the public road and were halted by the deputies. Chief Deputy Evans said the men were riotous and caused trouble. This is denied by the strikers.

HER LAST ACE.

She Played It Courageously, But It Was Taken with the Rest.

"O, Myrtilla, I am just so glad you came in. I have so much to tell you. What do you think? You'd never guess. Reggie called last night."

"Who?"

"Reggie—Reggie Highflier. Why, he's been calling on me for a long time now."

"Why, how funny. So he has on me."

"Yes, yes; he told me all about that. Well, as I was just going to say, Reggie called last night, and along about 12 o'clock, after we had sat looking at one another for about a couple of hours without saying a word, what does he do but fall plump upon his knees—just as it is described in novels, you know—and proposed to me. O, Myrtilla, it was just heavenly! I do wish somebody else could have been around so as to see it."

"He put his hand upon his heart and vowed that if I banished him from my presence life hereafter would be to him one long, dreary dream, and all that kind of thing, you know. And he said he laid his whole future career at my feet—and that he worshipped the very ground upon which I trod. I never imagined that he was capable of such flights of eloquence before. He just worked upon my feelings so that I had to accept him. It would have been just barbarous to refuse such a wooer."

"Gwendolin Jane Green! You don't mean to tell me that you positively accepted Reginald Highflier last night. Why, he proposed to me the very night before, and I rejected him."

"O, yes, he told me all about it, dear. He was only practicing with you beforehand, you see, so as to run no danger of forgetting anything when it came to my turn. The darling boy confessed to me that he was horribly frightened for fear that you would accept him. And I think he was running a risk myself."

A Spirit Kiss.

Certain spiritual performances, to which the narrator could testify, were being related by an enthusiastic believer to a skeptic. Among other things, he said that on one occasion the spirit of his wife, who had been dead several years, returned to him, and seating herself upon his knee, put her arms around him and kissed him, much to his gratification, as she used to do when living.

"You do not mean to say," remarked the skeptic, "that the spirit of your wife really embraced you and kissed you?"

"No, not exactly that," replied the believer; "but her spirit took possession of the female medium—the future Mrs. B. that is to be, you know—and through her embraced and kissed me!"

A Phenomenal Freak.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13.—A local commission merchant has brought to light a phenomenon which is attracting the attention of scientists here. While one of the employes of the house was dressing a turkey he was dumbfounded to find in its interior a live, well-formed young turkey, as large as a full-grown pigeon. It is perfect in every way, excepting the head, which was attached to the mother, and is a fatty growth. The little turkey died as soon as it was severed from its dead mother. It was preserved in alcohol and is now in the collection of the Missouri medical college, where it is attracting the attention of the medical fraternity.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from the first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store.

FOR—Farmers and Villagers, FOR—Fathers and Mothers, FOR—Sons and Daughters, FOR—All the Family.

With the close of the Presidential Campaign THE TRIBUNE recognizes the fact that the American people are now anxious to give their attention to home and business interests. To meet this condition, politics will have far less space and prominence, until another State or National occasion demands a renewal of the fight for the principles for which THE TRIBUNE has labored from its inception to the present day, and won its greatest victories.

Every possible effort will be put forth, and money freely spent, to make THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE pre-eminently a National Family Newspaper, interesting, instructive, entertaining and indispensable to each member of the family.

We furnish "The Chronicle" and N. Y. Weekly Tribune one year for only $1.75.

Write your name and address on a postal card, send it to Geo. W. Best, Tribune Office, New York City, and a sample copy of The New York Weekly Tribune will be mailed to you.
