CONCERNING FAIRS.

The District Fair has come and gone. Whether or not it has been a financial success remains to be determined. The exhibits were up to the standard of previous years, and the races were as good as races go. But the fair does not seem to elicit the interest it did in former years, and with the exception of one day the attendance was not large enough to be satisfactory to the management. Just what the reason is because the fair has not a greater hold upon public attention may be variously answered, but the fact remains that these meetings are not what they used to be. The management has labored earnestly to promote the interests of the fair, and some of the most earnest promoters have incurred pecuniary obligations in order to further the good of the association.

Probably the solution of the problem lies in the separation of the racing interests from the agricultural exhibits. The attendance at the pavilion during the evenings of fair week was very good, and the success of that portion of the meeting was unquestioned.

We doubt very much if the legislature can be prevailed upon to make another appropriation for the maintenance of fairs throughout the state. The State Fair at Salem was not a financial success, and despite the most strenuous efforts of those most interested, ran $1500 behind. In view of the demand for economy which is springing up from all portions of the state, the legislature will in all probability—provided they can think of anything else except a United States senator—refuse to make any further appropriation for the maintenance of fairs.

In such a case The Dalles can do just as surrounding places are doing—hold a fruit fair, together with an agricultural exhibit. Walla Walla has closed a very successful meeting of this kind, which was both an artistic and financial success. Hood River attracts wide attention from its annual fruit display. Spokane is now in the midst of a glorious carnival of fruit and flowers. None of these places can exceed The Dalles in magnificence of display. Wasco county can bring forth an array of Pomona's gems which no other county in the state could surpass. The Fruit Fair would be rid of some of the objectionable features now attending the incidents of racing, and it is not improbable that more general interest could be elicited.

It is very likely the fair will be held again next fall, as the failure of the legislature to meet allows the appropriation to continue; but whether it meets in The Dalles or not, we can lay our plans for the holding of a fruit and agricultural exhibit, which will give pleasure and satisfaction to all concerned.

ABUSIVE INSINUATION.

Mark Hanna is busy buying a seat in the United States senate from Ohio these days.—East Oregonian.

What rot! Such a statement as that coming unsupported by any evidence from a paper like the East Oregonian, which wraps itself in a mantle of self-assumed virtue, does little credit to that journal. The East Oregonian has no proof that Mark Hanna is doing anything more than pressing his canvass for the senate in a manner such as any American citizen has a right to do. We are not hide-bound enough to believe that every Republican is a saint and every Democrat a sinner; nor do we like to see mud slung at a man because he differs in politics from the mud-slinger. If the East Oregonian knows any facts which reflect upon the political rectitude of Senator Hanna in his present contest, let it make them known; but to make such a statement as that just quoted is unfair, unmanly and lacks nothing from being cowardly. The East Oregonian has some merit to it in discussing certain kinds of questions, but when it comes to anything with a political tinge, its utterances are so deeply dyed with prejudice and unfairness that it cannot hope to win the approval of fair-minded people. Above all things, a newspaper should not make charges against the private character of any man unless it can substantiate these charges beyond the possibility of error. A man's good name is too sacred a thing with which to trifle.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland.
